A. J. MELANCON DIED SUDDENLY

Well Known Tailor Planned to Go to Montreal Tonight—Had Sold His Place of Business

Instead of going to Montreal, Que., to start in business as he had planned, Albini J. Melancon, the well known Central street tailor, will be taken to St. Barnabe, Que., tomorrow night for burial, for he died suddenly this morning at his home, 534 Merrimack street, the cause of death being acute indigestion.

Mr. Melancon, who conducted a tailoring establishment in Central street for the past 18 years, decided to leave Lowell a few days ago and start a new business in Montreal, Que. He sold his shop to his brother, Alfred Melancon of this city, and Tuesday shipped all his furniture to the Canadian metropolis and had planned to leave Lowell this evening with his family. Yesterday, however, he did not feel well, but his condition did not seem alarming. In the evening he grew worse and Dr. Rochette was sent for. The latter immediately called Dr. Mignault and the two physicians who remained at the sick man's bedside all night entertained very little hope for his recovery, and Mr. Melancon passed away at 6.30 o'clock this morning.

The body now lies at the home of a neighbor, Mr. Alfred Guilmette, 534 Merrimack street.

Albini J. Melancon was born at St. Barnabe, Que., 42 years and 11 months ago. He received his education in his native town and later learned the tailor's trade. He came to Lowell 26 years ago and entered the employ of the late J. L. Chalifoux, where for several years he had charge of the tailoring department. Later he opened a business in New Bedford and 18 years ago he returned to Lowell and opened a tailor's establishment at 121 Central street, which he conducted very successfully up to a few days ago, when he sold out to his brother with the intention of going to Montreal.

His new place of business in the Canadian city was all fitted up and deceased had advertised considerably for the opening of his shop, which was to take place next Monday. He was to have left with his family on the 9.10 o'clock train this evening.

Deceased was well known throughout the city, where he counted a host of friends who will learn with grief the news of his demise. He was a prominent member of the C. M. A. C. and of Rochambeau council, R. A. He is survived by a wife and three children, Jeannette, Lucienne and Victor; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Melancon of St. Barnabe, Que., three brothers, Leger of New Bedford, Arsene of St. Barnabe and Alfred of this city. The family has the sympathy of a large number of friends in their sad hour of bereavement.

WIDOW OF REAR ADM. EATON, WHO DIED OF POISONING, ARRESTED

Arraigned in Court and Pleaded Not Guilty—Now a Prisoner at Plymouth County Jail

HINGHAM, March 20.—Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton, U. S. N., retired, died of poisoning and his widow is charged with murder.

Mrs. Eaton was taken into custody at her home in Norwell this morning and brought to this place for arraignment before Judge Pratt, who has conducted the inquest into the admiral's sudden demise. When she came here, accompanied by officers, it was supposed that she would be a witness when the inquiry was resumed and the fact that she was a prisoner was not made known until the announcement was made a little before noon by District Attorney Barker.

Poison Found in Stomach

In a formal statement the district attorney stated that Prof. Whitney of Harvard medical school, who had made a chemical analysis of the contents of the admiral's stomach, following the autopsy, had reported the discovery of poison leading to the conclusion that the admiral had not died a natural death.

The arrest of Mrs. Eaton is the outcome of an investigation by the police into not only the circumstances of his death but regarding the family life of the Eatons.

Buried at Dracut

Admiral Eaton died suddenly on the morning of March 8. He was 66 years of age but according to his friends had been in good health. Two days later the body was buried at Dracut, his former home. There was no service at the grave and besides the undertakers and newspapermen only the widow and her daughter by an earlier marriage, witnessed the interment. There were no military honors.

The rear admiral had seen 39 years service in the navy. He commanded the transport Resolute at Santiago and received a medal of honor for his share in that battle. He was born at Greenville, Alabama, and was twice married.

The present Mrs. Eaton was the admiral's second wife and was formerly the wife of D. H. Ainsworth, once a clerk in the United States senate and later engaged in business in Boston. Her father was George Harrison and the family home was at Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Eaton is 49 years of age.

Married Life Unhappy

The investigation developed that her married life had not been altogether happy and her explanation that he had died from an attack of indigestion did not satisfy the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy.

Mrs. Eaton has two daughters, Mrs. June A. Keyes, who now lives with her husband in Boston but who formerly was a member of the Eaton family, and Dorothy Ainsworth, a member of the household at the time of the admiral's death.

Mrs. Eaton Arrested

HINGHAM, March 20.—Mrs. Eaton, wife of Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton, who died suddenly recently, was today arrested, charged with the murder of her husband.

As soon as the arrest was announced District Attorney Barker issued the following statement:

"Mrs. Eaton is under arrest charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton. Admiral Eaton did not die a natural death. Death was due to arsenal poisoning. Peculiar features which are involved have prevented the authorities from communicating them to the public.

"This fact was communicated to me on March 8 by Prof. Whitney in a preliminary verbal report, and has been known to the officials working on the case since that time. Certain features which are involved have been presented to the authorities and will be communicated to the public. We have been unable thus far to ascertain where the poison was procured. Mrs. Eaton was taken at her home at Assinippi this morning by Deputy Sheriff Condon."

Mrs. Eaton was taken to the courthouse here, where the inquest was to be resumed, but the fact that she was under arrest was not made known until shortly before noon today when Dist.-Atty. Barker made the announcement and accompanied it with a formal statement.

Pleaded Not Guilty

The widow was taken soon afterward before Judge Pratt, who had presided at the inquest and formally arraigned. She was attended by her counsel, Francis J. Geogan.

Mrs. Eaton pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Pratt and was held without bonds for a hearing March 28. Immediately after the court formalities she was taken to the county jail at Plymouth.

RILEY ELECTED SMOKE INSPECTOR

Former Councilman Succeeds J. F. Hollowood—Proposition to Borrow $15,000 for Streets

The proposition to borrow $15,000 for gravelling streets was taken up at a meeting of the municipal council this forenoon and was assigned for hearing, April 1. Alderman Brown was opposed to the measure and said that money ought not to be borrowed for running expenses. He said the gravelling of streets was not a permanent improvement. He called for a yeas and nay vote and was the only member of the council to vote against the assignment of a date to consider the matter.

The council elected ex-Councilman Charles Riley smoke inspector, to succeed John F. Hollowood, resigned, and drew jurors for service at the civil and criminal session of the superior court in this city and in Cambridge, March 31.

Drawing of Jurors

Harry P. Farley, 512 Chelmsford street, bottler.

Harry C. Mulno, 1037 Lawrence street, assistant superintendent.

Freeman S. Hersey, 137 Forest street, machinist.

John J. Carrig, 39 Third street, stage manager.

James H. Boyle, 110 Congress street, conductor.

Fred H. Dow, 56 Cornell street, foreman.

William J. Barris, 63 Jenness street, mill overseer.

Edgar H. Barker, 9 Mt. Hope street, instructor.

Dennis J. Meagher, 11 Fay street, foreman.

Peter W. Reilly, 137 Hovey street, printer.

Peter J. Brady, 247 Gorham street, merchant.

Frank P. Wolcott, 199 Mammoth road, master mechanic.

Joseph Grondreau, 42 Denton street, shoe worker.

Charles B. Rogers, 193 Cumberland road, clerk.

The following jurors to serve at the criminal session of the superior court at Cambridge, March 21, were drawn by Alderman Barrett:

Fred S. Osterhout, 28 Bellevue street, retired.

Fred W. Noyes, 68 Lane street, railroad clerk.

William A. Hayes, 10 Waterford street, conductor.

William J. Croft, Jr., 350 Woburn street.

Thomas Matte, 23 Endicott street, clerk.

George W. Ingalls, 334 Boylston street, bookkeeper.

Henry Carpentier, 67 West Meadow road, shoe cutter.

Smoke Inspector Elected

On motion of Mayor O'Donnell the council proceeded to ballot for smoke inspector to succeed John F. Hollywood, resigned, and Charles Riley, former councilman and assistant assessor, was elected on the first ballot, receiving the votes of Aldermen Brown, Cummings and Donnelly. The mayor and Alderman Barrett voted for William J. Crowley.

Another Engineer Wanted

Mayor O'Donnell notified the council that he would be obliged to put another engineer at the Chelmsford street hospital because of a demand made upon him by the state police. There are three engineers at the hospital now and the mayor has been ordered, under penalty of prosecution, to refrain from employing men more than 48 hours a week and in order to make it an 8 hour day, all around, it will be necessary to engage another engineer.

King George's Murder Stirs Greece, But No Political Plot is Unearthed

ATHENS, March 20.—King George's assassination is not expected to affect this kingdom politically. His son, the crown prince Constantine, has been proclaimed king and has taken the oath of fealty. He is as popular with the people as was his father, perhaps more so with the army. He is only forty-five, full of fire and essentially democratic. His recent successes in the field against the Turks increased his popularity. It is declared that the Greeks have too much on their minds at the present moment to worry over the personality of a king. The Civilian party, under the leadership of Premier Venizelos, is in firm control of the country. It is said the new king is in full sympathy with the party and will follow his father's policy of striving for popular rule. But the assassination of King George, who had ruled for exactly fifty years to the day, was a blow to all the Greek people. Indignation ran high after Aleko Schinas, apparently insane, had shot the ruler down in cold blood at Salpaiki while he was walking with only one guard. Reports that the dastardly attack was the result of a plot in which wily Turks had a hand were not accredited here, although all sorts of wild stories were first told. After the first excitement had died down the dead king was blamed for his own carelessness. He insisted upon going about practically without guard. He had been warned that he ought to have a full body guard because of the high feeling stirred up over the war, but he laughed at the fears of others. He was so democratic in his ways that he did not like to appear in public with any pomp. King Constantine has a fine family. He is seated with Queen Sophia in the family group. His children are (left to right) Prince Paul, Prince Alexander, Crown Prince George, Princess Helene and Princess Irene.

King Arrived at Athens

ATHENS, Greece, March 20.—King Constantine arrived in the Greek capital today. He traveled to this city in an auto from the port of Phaleron, where he landed.

HOSPITAL COMMISSIONERS RESIGN

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. Jos. E. Lamoureux and J. W. Robinson Give Up Places

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. Joseph E. Lamoureux and John W. Robinson have resigned as members of the Contagious hospital commission. In the resignation, signed by these three gentlemen and received at city hall this forenoon, it is stated that the task of settling the numerous scientific questions involved has ceased to be a pleasant one because of the fact that each succeeding city council has seen fit to reverse the findings of the commissioners. The retiring members declare that they would gladly give more time to the city if there was a possibility of accomplishing anything. The resignation hits right out from the shoulder. It reads as follows:

To the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell:

Gentlemen—The undersigned members of the contagious hospital commission decide to submit to you for consideration, the following facts:

Some months ago, after carefully considering the merits of various sites, we sent a communication to your board recommending the original site selected, on Chelmsford street, as superior to any of the others. We are just recently informed by the city clerk that you have voted to reject this site and would like another selection.

We beg to inform you that we have already given the most careful consideration and have spent much time in looking over all sites offered to us, that were in any way available, and we again feel it our duty to report that we find none offered that is as

THIS IS HOLY THURSDAY

Services Held in All the Catholic Churches

This is Holy Thursday and this morning services were held in all the local Catholic churches. The [illegible] Missal and Breviary call this day "Feria quinta in coena Domini" that is Thursday of the Lord's supper, being the day when our Lord at His last supper on the eve of His passion instituted the sacrament of the Holy Eucharist and the holy sacrifice of the mass. It is also [illegible] called Maundy Thursday from the ceremony of washing the feet, a mandatum or command given by the Saviour to His apostles.

St. [illegible] the midst of [illegible] allows on Maundy Thursday [illegible] for the [illegible] been conferred on [illegible] children in the divine institution of the Blessed Eucharist. Upon entering the church the emblems of joy are at once seen. Though the vestments are violet, they are covered with white and the altar is somewhat ornamented. However only one mass is said in a church on this day. Even where there are more than one priest, only one of them celebrates mass, and the others receive at his hands holy communion, that only under the species of bread, as do the rest of the faithful. The reason of this is to show on this day Christ alone offered the august sacrifice and then gave holy communion to His apostles.

The blessing of the holy oils likewise takes place on this day. At the cathedral churches the bishop alone celebrates mass, in the course of which the oil for baptism, the oil of unction for the sick, as well as the holy chrism for confirmation are blessed by the bishop.

Good Friday

On Good Friday, no mass is said; therefore two hosts are consecrated at the mass of Thursday, one of which is reserved for the service on the following day. After mass this consecrated host is placed in a veiled chalice and carried in solemn procession to a side altar adorned with lights and ornaments, where it is kept till the next day. The Blessed Sacrament is removed from the principal altar, where the pomp and splendor of the solemn worship would interfere with the office of the tenebrae, and an opportunity is thus given to the faithful of returning thanks for this inestimable boon. In cities where there are many churches it is customary to visit several or all of them, for the purpose of adoring the Blessed Sacrament.

The repositories as they are called, where the Blessed Sacrament lies in state until tomorrow, are of magnificent beauty in all the local churches. They consist of altars elaborately decorated with potted plants and flowers, and numerous incandescent lights and lighted candles, and the scene is most beautiful.

The procession at the close of the mass this morning was most impressive. The altar boys preceded and were closely followed by the members of the clergy, and the officiating clergyman who carried the Blessed Sacrament. The churches will remain open till a late hour this evening in order to give the working people an opportunity to make their visits to at least three of the repositories.

Tomorrow, Good Friday, services will be held in all the churches at 8 o'clock, this to be followed by the veneration of the cross. In the afternoon stations of the cross devotions will be held and in the evening a sermon on the "Passion of our Lord" will be given.

On Saturday morning the holy water will be blessed.

1000 Ladies' Tailors Quit Work in Boston

BOSTON, March 20.—Nearly a thousand ladies tailors and custom dressmakers went on strike today at more than 60 shops in this city. The strike had a direct effect upon the finishing of Easter gowns at several Back Bay tailors. The workers upon leaving the shops at the hour agreed upon last night when the strike order was issued marched to the headquarters of the Boston ladies' tailors and dressmakers' union, where meetings were held.

The strikers demand an increase in wages, a work week of 48 hours and better sanitary conditions.

Christmas Savings Club

In the Christmas Savings club campaign this week, at the Traders National bank, Lowell distanced competitors Monday in the five other New England cities starting similar clubs on the same day. Lowell is really increasing its lead. Total enrollment in Lowell to date is close to 5000. More than the feeling of of civic pride that our city should so outstrip other prosperous cities is the satisfaction that comes because such a large number of our people, all ages and pursuits in life, so promptly and enthusiastically enlisted in this very practical movement that has proven of such great and lasting benefit to individuals and communities elsewhere. It has been declared that so thoroughly has this plan been tried out and modified that no objectionable features exist in its make-up.

Arrangements have been made so that accounts in the club can be opened by mail or messenger.

Tariff Revision Plan

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The tariff revision plan adopted by the house committee on ways and means has been carefully analyzed by a corps of statistical and customs experts temporarily quartered in the committee offices. Rep. Hull of Tennessee, who will frame the income tax feature bill and Rep. Peters of Massachusetts have been conferring over the administrative features for report to the full committee. The committee plan is to retain most of the administrative sections of the present tariff law and the income tax has yet to be formally voted upon, hinging upon the analysis of probable returns from the 14 schedules of dutiable articles.

Whether the appropriations committee will be named at the outset of the session depends largely upon a coming conference between Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee. Democratic leaders point out that with the overwhelming democratic majority it would be easy to suspend rules and act on the failed sundry civil and Indian appropriation bill.

A HEAD-ON COLLISION

Two Injured as Car Hits Automobile

BROCKTON, Mar. 20.—As a result of a head-on collision of a heavy motor truck and a street car at the corner of Lawrence and Main streets at about 8 o'clock last night, Mrs. Fred E. Burt is in a dangerous condition at the Brockton hospital. Her skull is fractured. Her husband, who was driving the truck, is at his home, 23 Winthrop street, suffering with a broken collar bone and minor bruises.

The truck, owned by E. O. Bonney, a box manufacturer, was demolished. The car was not damaged nor were any of the twenty-five passengers injured.

Mrs. Burt, who was riding with her husband, was the only one injured seriously. She is not expected to survive.

The accident is being investigated by the police, who are trying to place the blame for the catastrophe. No one was taken into custody last night.

MUSKRAT HUNTING

Dangerous Shooting Being Done Near Beaver Brook—The Dracut Police Are Looking For Offenders

The Dracut police were notified that sharp shooting is going on in the vicinity of Beaver brook around Lakeview and Parker avenues, where certain men who are out after muskrats occasionally do a little shooting along that stream of water, which is very dangerous for others who are in that vicinity.

The muskrats in that brook it is said are very numerous, and the huntsmen trail them at night. The result is that some stray shots reach the street and only a few days ago a couple of men had a very narrow escape from being struck by some of those shots. The police will keep a keen eye for those sharp shooters.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

Committee Well Pleased With Sunday Meeting

RECEIPTS DID NOT QUITE REACH $500

Home Rule Certificates May Be Secured at Carter & Sherburne's Drug Store

The committee in charge of the United Irish league meeting of Sunday night met last evening and canvassed the receipts and expenses with the result that the net receipts were about $60 short of the $500 which the committee set out to make. This of course assumes that all the amounts promised are received. The treasurer, Mr. Bryan McFadden, 82 Agawam street, awaits the few outstanding checks after which the total will be sent to the national treasurer.

The committee, therefore, invites anybody in sympathy with the home rule movement who has not yet contributed to purchase one of the home rule certificates which may be had at Carter & Sherburne's drug store in the car station at Merrimack square. These certificates are artistically engraved and will serve as souvenirs of the movement.

From the report published Monday, the contribution of $10 by Rev. C. J. Galligan of St. Margaret's church was inadvertently omitted while a few others of equal amount were omitted at the request of the donors.

Those who sent their contributions by mail will receive an acknowledgment by mail with a home rule souvenir certificate to each person.

The officers of the league are well pleased with the result of the meeting which was a great success both in point of attendance and receipts.

The committee in charge of the arrangements acted in cooperation with Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan to make the meeting a success. The committee was as follows: John Balfrey, president; James J. Coleman, secretary; Bryan McFadden, treasurer; Edward J. Gallagher, Joseph P. Quinn, Daniel C. Quinn, John Kenney, Thomas Irwin, Thomas Coleman, Dennis Brassill, Thomas M. McFadden.

The committee was especially pleased at the presence on the platform of Monsignor O'Brien, Rev. Dr. Keleher, Rev. Fr. Galligan, Judge Enright, Editor Kenny of the Boston Globe and other friends of the movement including Messrs. P. Gilbride, Patrick O'Hearn, D. J. Donahue, Esq., Mr. James O'Sullivan, Alderman Cummings, Hon. James B. Casey, Charles Callahan and others. Hon. P. J. O'Keeffe of Chicago, the lecturer of the evening, left Lowell for New York on the 9.55 train, accompanied by Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan. Mr. O'Keeffe sailed for Ireland on Wednesday.

It is proposed to maintain a bureau with resident delegates to serve as an intermediary between the Indians and the various branches of the government dealing with tribal matters.

PLANNING A RECEPTION

C. M. A. C. Will Honor Former Chaplain

The members of the C. M. A. C. are planning a great reception to one of their former chaplains, Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I., former pastor of St. Joseph's parish, and now a missionary stationed at Cap de la Madeleine, Que., who is actually preaching a mission at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street.

Rev. Fr. Forget was stationed in Lowell for a number of years, and while in this city made a host of friends, especially among the members of the C. M. A. C., whose chaplain he was for a long time. He left this city some ten years ago, but the "boys" at the club have never forgotten him, and now that he is in Lowell they will show the deep respect they have for him by tendering him a reception.

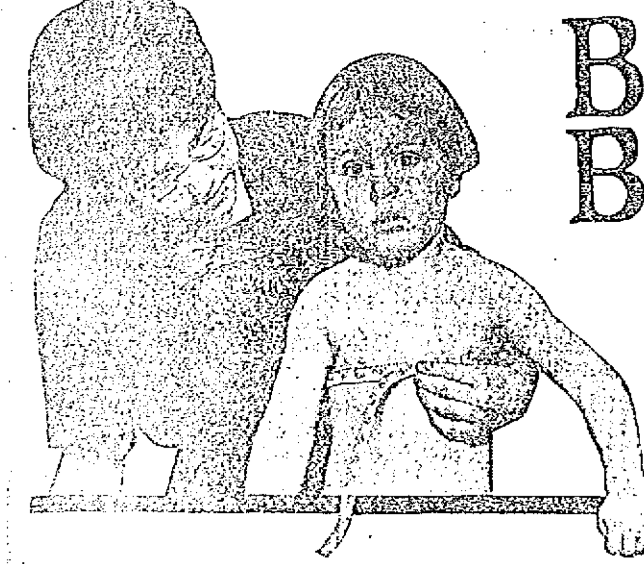

The affair will be held at the club rooms in Pawtucket street immediately after the regular business meeting Tuesday evening, at which time the reverend gentleman will be given an opportunity to meet and renew acquaintances with his many former friends. All the members of the association are invited to attend. Speeches will be in order and a varied entertainment program will be rendered. The reception will be held at 8 o'clock and a large attendance is expected.

The committee in charge of the event is composed of Napoleon Lozeau, president; Joseph Payette, secretary; Henri Barry, Eugene Savard, Joseph L. Lamoureux and Arthur J. Lussier, ex officio, while the reception committee is composed of twenty-five members.

FLOYD BIBLE CLASS BANQUET

Pleasant Affair at First Baptist Church Last Night

The annual banquet of the Floyd Bible class of the First Baptist church was held last night. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Benevolent society, Mrs. Guy Pattillo in charge, and the waiters were the young men and women of the Sunday school.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. D. M. Gillis, showed an average attendance at the sessions of the Sunday school, by the members of the Floyd class, of 59, the largest attendance on any one Sunday of the year being 93.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, James K. Anderson; vice president, D. M. Gillis; secretary, Mrs. D. M. Gillis; assistant secretary, Mrs. P. Bennett; treasurer, Wm. A. Cullins.

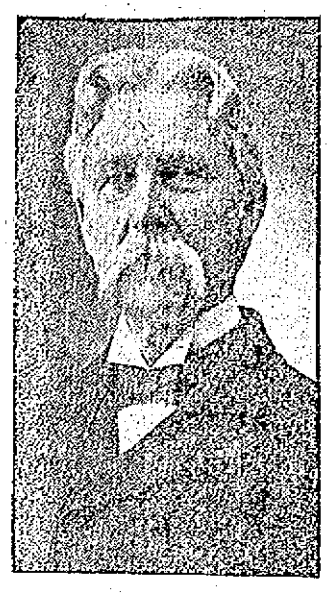

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Harry M. Gumb, the retiring president, Warren Sanborn making the presentation speech.

Deacon Warren L. Floyd, leader of the class for 30 years, was then called upon, and spoke a few cheery words. He said that while the Floyd class continues younger classes cannot claim that they are too old to go to Sunday school.

Rev. H. W. McLean, pastor of the Highland M. E. church, made a missionary address.

There were brief addresses by John Perry, Jr., and George H. Taylor; and Rev. A. Manuel, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, sang two selections, the second being in the Swedish language. Craven Midgley accompanied. Instrumental music was furnished by the Cushman Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

HOSPITAL DOCTORS BANQUETED

Dr. Bowker Gave Interesting Lecture on the Balkans

The members of the house and outpatient staff and the specialists of the Lowell hospital were banqueted, last night by the hospital trustees in the large dining hall at the hospital. F. A. Bowen, chairman of the board of trustees, presided, and Dr. Bowker, the eye specialist of the hospital, gave a very interesting lecture, "Neath the Balkans," illustrated by a number of beautifully colored stereopticon views.

Dr. Bowker recently made a trip to Sicily, through the Adriatic, up the east coast of Italy and then over into Montenegro and one or two other Balkan states. The views taken along the east coast of Italy and during the trip through the Adriatic, were unusually interesting, as well as beautiful. The pictures of the valleys and towns of Montenegro, of the street scenes in villages and cities, of the quaint hill towns and peasants, gave a most vivid impression of the Montenegrins and their country and proved to be of exceptional interest in view of current events in the Balkan kingdoms.

At the close of the dinner Mr. Bowen congratulated the medical and surgical staff, assuring them of the appreciation of the trustees of their work at the hospital.

TWO YOUNG BURGLARS IN COURT

Broke Into Store—The Crusade Against Track Walkers Began With Three Arrests

Henry J. Nugent and John J. Doyle, charged with breaking and entering and larceny in the night time from the store of Michael Casey at 73 Coburn street, were arraigned before Judge Enright this morning. The arraignment was the sequel to a clever capture made last night about 11 o'clock by Patrolman Timothy J. Dwyer. Twenty-eight cents, all pennies, was the extent of the theft.

Last night Officer Dwyer went to try the door of Mr. Casey's store and he noticed that one of the side windows had been broken in. On crawling through the opening and into the store, he caught the two boys in the act of rifling the cash register. Officer Dwyer ordered the two to elevate their hands which they did without hesitation when they saw the glint of the policeman's revolver.

This is another link in the chain of attempted robberies and burglaries, which have taken place in that same neighborhood recently.

The boys said they are 18 years of age. Judge Enright found probable cause in their case and held them for the grand jury.

Track Walkers Arraigned

The first arrests following the determination of the local police to rigidly enforce the law regarding trespassing on the railroad tracks, were made yesterday by Sergt. Maguire and Officer Mat McCann. The arrested were George Vincent, John P. Corcoran and James Farmer and they were charged with walking on the railroad tracks without right. All pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each.

It is the intention of the police to put a stop to the accidents which have been appallingly numerous during the past few months and this was the first decisive step in the matter. From now on track walkers will be brought in and punished, and as the judge said today, it is for their own safety and protection and for that of their relatives.

Pitiable Case of Neglect

Albert W. Golder was accused of neglecting to provide for the proper support of his wife. On the stand, his wife told a very pathetic story in the course of which she said he has given her about $18 in four years. The man was sent to the house of correction for a term of four months. He appealed, but afterwards withdrew it. The man's neglect and abuse of his wife as told in her testimony formed a pitiful tale. She said that she does not need him, for he is no help to her in any way.

Given a Chance

Frank J. McNamara, who was recently found guilty of drunkenness and held over for sentence, was arraigned this morning. The court suspended a sentence to the state farm and placed the man on probation for six months.

Foster Appealed

Thomas W. Foster was brought in on a capias on an old charge of assaulting his wife. He had been placed on probation for a time and his wife complained that he was not living up to the conditions of his probation. Therefore the probation officer surrendered him. He was given some good sound, severe advice and a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction. He entered an appeal.

Best Known Cough Remedy

It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way hundreds of others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used." For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1.00 at A. W. Dows & Co.

FIVE BODIES RECOVERED

From Ruins of Building Damaged by Fire

MEDICINE HAT, Alberta, March 20.—Workmen today continued their efforts to recover bodies believed to have been buried beneath the wreckage of the Malcolm Canning's Co.'s main building when it was destroyed by fire and a gas explosion yesterday. Up to an early hour today only five bodies had been found, although there were persistent rumors that 30 employes were in the building when the walls fell. The property loss has been estimated as high as $100,000.

Damaged By Explosion

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The damage sustained by the naval collier Jason by the explosion of the Alum Chine's cargo of dynamite in Baltimore harbor was not so extensive as was at first supposed. She had just completed a satisfactory test of her coaling gear, discharging more than 100 tons of coal per hatch per hour.

OUT OF CHINESE LOAN

Americans Withdraw Because of Policy

NEW YORK, March 20.—As a result of the statement made by President Wilson that his administration would not request the American bankers heretofore interested in the negotiations for the "Six Power" loan to China to continue to seek their share of the loan, the three banking houses in the so-called American group last night announced their entire withdrawal from the loan negotiations.

The announcement followed a conference of the banking interests concerned at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. In concluding their statement, which reviews in considerable detail negotiations begun under the Taft administration, the bankers say:

"As the American group had been ready to serve the administration in the past, irrespective of the heavy risks involved, so it was disposed to serve the present administration if so requested. But, deferring to the policy now declared, the group has withdrawn entirely from the Chinese loan negotiations and has so advised the European and Japanese banking groups."

Wilson to Wield Big Stick

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Wilson will confer frequently with members of the house and senate in the president's room at the capitol during the extra session of congress. This was announced at the White House yesterday.

Mr. Wilson will go to the capitol, it was said at the White House, in a spirit of friendly co-operation, there to consult with democrats and republicans alike on the progress of legislation.

He believes, however, that he should go to the capitol as party leader. He has always said that the president of the United States was the elected leader of his party and that he particularly was charged by the people with the carrying out of party pledges. Mr. Wilson believes the tariff bill should be treated as a party measure.

He believes in enforcing party discipline, and after the leaders have approved the tariff bill he will make every effort to secure its passage in both houses without material alteration.

AFTER 6 YEARS' SEARCH

Deserter of Wife and 6 Children Arrested

BOSTON, March 20.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier is still on the alert for delinquent husbands. He has caused the arrest of Ernesto Ardelino in Bakersfield, Calif., and today Sergt. McDevitt and Inspector Norton will start for the coast to bring him back.

Ardelino has been missing six years. He ran away from his wife and six children, leaving them in destitute circumstances. They were dependent on charity, and their predicament was so pitiable that publicity was given to the flight of the defendant at the time.

Recently Mrs. Ardelino, who has struggled to maintain the household by dressmaking, learned from a friend in Bakersfield that he had seen her husband there. She informed Mr. Pelletier. A complaint in the lower court was pending. Mr. Pelletier had the grand jury return an indictment against Ardelino, and directed the police to effect his capture in Bakersfield.

The prosecuting attorney is determined that no man shall escape from the duty of supporting his family by leaving the state. He has caused husbands to be brought here from Chicago and Detroit. In most cases he has caused the men to remain here and maintain their families, with the understanding that if they do not live up to their promises so to do he will have them sent to prison.

He has been responsible for reuniting a number of families, and his efforts in requiring the men to support the household have been successful.

2 PINNED BY ELEVATOR

Firemen Saved Boys From Death Trap

LYNN, March 20.—After fire engines had been called and part of an elevator sawed away to release two small boys from it at the factory of J. D. Mullin, 747 Washington street, they were taken, one to his home and the other to the hospital, in the chemical wagon.

The boys are Frank Cimcio, 10 years, of 73 Amity street, and Robert Miles, 11 years, of 14 Chauncey court. Cimcio was the most seriously hurt, sustaining cuts and bruises on his legs.

The boys, after starting the elevator were caught between the car and a doorway. Cimcio's legs were pinned down, but Miles succeeded in stopping the car before the bones were broken. Then, for some unknown reason, the elevator could not be started again.

STRUCK WITH BOTTLE

Mrs. Kennedy of Chelmsford Injured

Mrs. Frederic E. Kennedy, of Chelmsford Centre, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon while walking in Lowell. Mrs. Kennedy had just left the Lowell Opera House where she was to join the Chelmsford theatre party and was walking on Charles street, when a large black bottle was thrown out of a two story building, striking her on the head, knocking her down and rendering her unconscious for some minutes. A large crowd gathered about and helped her up. Mrs. Kennedy, after an examination was found to be severely bruised by the fall and she sustained a cut on the head. As no policeman was about at the time nothing could be done to the person who threw the bottle from the building. Mrs. Kennedy is now able to go out a little each day.

President Accepts Resignation

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Huntington Wilson, assistant and acting secretary of state, has resigned his office and insisted upon acceptance of his resignation because of his radical difference of opinion with the administration regarding the Chinese policies.

President Wilson immediately accepted the resignation.

MILITANTS FIRE MORE BUILDINGS

LONDON, March 20.—Arson squads of militant suffragettes were busy last night. The fine country residence of Lady Amy White, widow of Field Marshal Sir George White, the hero of Ladysmith during the Transvaal war and the buildings on the golf links at Weston-Super-Mare, were damaged by fires alleged to have been started by the suffragettes.

Traces of oils and inflammable materials were found scattered about the house while stuck on prominent spots outside in the grounds were papers inscribed with the words "Stop torturing our comrades in prison;" "Votes for women;" "By kind permission of Charles Hobhouse." This last being a reference to the taunt of Mr. Hobhouse, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, uttered earlier in the campaign that women lacked the real revolutionary spirit of men who burned and sacked in support of their cause.

Two women on bicycles were seen in the neighborhood half an hour before the fire was discovered but all trace of them has been lost. The house was unoccupied. The incendiaries of the golf pavilions also escaped. There are many suffragettes now in that city, where Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor is scheduled to deliver an address before the national teachers conference.

Olive Hocken who is charged with attempting to set fire to a pavilion on the Roehampton golf links was arraigned in police court again today and remanded another week after counsel for the treasury had opened the case for the prosecution.

Miss Hocken appeared to glory in the notoriety she has achieved. She stood in the prisoner's enclosure, wearing across her breast a bright new sash in the suffragette colors and smiled contentedly as counsel detailed her alleged activities in the field of arson in the destruction of letters in the public mail boxes, etc.

The articles found in the militant suffragette arsenal in the Kensington district of London on March 13, consisting of telegraph wire cutting apparatus, bottles of corrosive fluid, hammers, flints, false identification plates for automobiles, ropes and pole climbers, cotton wool tape oil, firelighters, candles, etc., found in the gripsack alleged to have been dropped by Alice Hocken on the golf links were prominently displayed in court.

Counsel for the treasury described Miss Hocken's studio in Kensington as a "depot where people foregathered, armed and prepared for any particular marauding outrage on hand with the full knowledge and connivance of the accused."

Among Miss Hocklin's correspondence, he added, was a letter from Miss Emmaline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader openly inciting her followers to acts of lawlessness and outrages.

HAIR GOODS IMPORTER ARRESTED

Antonio Musica and Three Sons, Were Apprehended in New Orleans

NEW YORK, March 20.—Old Antonio Musica, wealthy importer of hair goods, charged by a score of banks with invoice frauds estimated at a million dollars, was arrested yesterday in New Orleans with his three sons, Philip, George and Arthur. All fled the city last week when cases of "extra fine" hair on which they negotiated money advances were found to contain "scraps." The father and his son Philip, most actively associated with him in business, have already been indicted by the grand jury. All will be brought to New York presumably at once. The firm was thrown into bankruptcy today.

Antonio Musica is nearly 70 years old; the son Philip is about 26. For years they had been importers of cheese. In 1909 the government charged them with underweighing frauds and Philip, shielding his father, shouldered the blame, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. Shortly afterward his sentence was commuted by President Taft and, returning to New York, he again became associated with his father in business. Hair goods now became their specialty and banks for months negotiated their paper without question until recent discoveries led to the repudiation of a draft, the attachment of their property, [illegible] of criminal manipulation of invoices involving thousands, then flight of the entire family, including two daughters.

Word of their arrest was received here in a brief message to a detective agency which is acting for the American Bankers' association.

TOOMEY WANTS PROBATE JUDGE

Has Bill in Legislature Providing for Third Judge

Representative Toomey of Lowell introduced a bill in the legislature providing for a third judge of probate in Middlesex county. There was a hearing on the bill before the committee on public service yesterday at which Lawyers J. J. Pickman, Jas. J. Kerwin, William H. Wilson and John J. Hogan of Lowell and Messrs. Hurley of Cambridge, Hamilton of Wakefield, and several others favored the bill, showing that a third judge is needed to expedite the business, as at present the city of Lowell gets but one day a month for probate matters. The additional judge would add but slightly to the expense of the county.

Rep. Toomey is confident that the bill will be favorably reported.

AIR-O-VAC MFG. COMP'Y

New Concern Organized With Plant Here

WILL OCCUPY A BUILDING IN PAYNE STREET

Company Manufactures New Vacuum Cleaner and Employes Skilled Help—Receives Many Orders

Another industry just established in Lowell is the Air-O-Vac Mfg. Co., which is manufacturing a recently invented vacuum cleaner. The company was organized by Messrs. Bartholomew Scannell, Jr., and C. S. Dodge, and its headquarters are at 41 Payne street.

A force of skilled help is now at work on this new invention which is sure to make a hit, especially in the large buildings, where it can be used to advantage. The great demand for vacuum cleaners has resulted in a large number of machines being placed on the market, good, bad and indifferent.

The Air-O-Vac Mfg. Co. specializes in the manufacture of cleaners for carpets, and already they have many orders on hand. A test of the first machine manufactured was made this morning at the works in Payne street and proved very efficient.

This industry promises to develop because the field for the machine is unlimited. One dealer has placed an order with the company for the immediate delivery of 25 electric models; the same that is being used in the new Sun building with much satisfaction and good results.

Several men are now employed at the plant and the officials of the company expect within a short time to double the number of their employes, which means another boost for Lowell as a manufacturing centre.

Traveling Salesman Knocked Down by Delivery Team Yesterday Afternoon He Was Not Seriously Injured

A traveling man, whose name it is said, is McGray, was struck and knocked down by the delivery wagon of a local business firm yesterday at the corner of Central and Middle streets. Just how the accident occurred is not definitely known. The man was able to walk to the store of Dickerman and McQuade at the corner of Market street and a doctor who was summoned there said that the man suffered no injury beyond a bruised foot and knee. He was considerably shaken up. The injured man is a traveling salesman for a glove firm.

P. PAUL MARCEL TROUPE

Earle Beaupre of Lowell, Now President of Company Is Visiting In This City

Mr. Earl Beaupre, manager of the P. Paul Marcel theatrical troupe, is renewing acquaintances in this city. He announced yesterday morning that the "Compagnie de Comedie Francaise," which had charge of the P. Paul Marcel troupe, was some time ago disbanded and the troupe is now in the care of Himself and Mr. Frank L. Bixby of New York.

The French Comedy company was organized among prominent business men of Lawrence some time last summer. A. E. Roberge of the same city was appointed manager, but a short time before the artists were put on the road, Mr. Roberge resigned and went west. His place was filled by Earl Beaupre of this city, who successfully managed the affairs of the company until a couple of weeks ago, when the directors of the said company voted to drop the theatrical business.

It was then that Messrs. Beaupre and Bixby formed a company and hired the French artists. The latter have been taking a rest since, but Monday they will start anew in Fitchburg and as it is they are booked for several weeks. It is probable the company will make another stop in Lowell this season, for they count here many friends who are always pleased to meet them. Mr. Beaupre is president of the company, while Mr. Bixby is its treasurer.

LIVELY RUNAWAY

Horse of Lowell News Co. Made Good Time Yesterday Afternoon—Had Narrow Escape From Injury

A green horse owned by the Lowell News Co. ran away in French street yesterday and narrowly escaped injury when he fell in Paige street opposite the Y. W. C. A. building.

The horse attached to a heavy delivery wagon was standing opposite the headquarters of the company in French street, when suddenly it became frightened. It started on a wild pace up French street and turned into John street. When it reached a spot near the Y. W. C. A. building, it fell to the ground and slid as far as the sidewalk, a distance of about 35 feet.

Patrolmen Petrie and Murphy were soon at the horse's head and they held the animal, later bringing it to its feet. An examination was made and it was found that despite the long slide the horse was uninjured and the wagon suffered no damage.

Musical Notes

The committee recently appointed by the Lowell City band to arrange for a concert and dance to be given for the benefit of the band's equipment, have made arrangements to hold the said event on the evening of April 14.

On the same evening from the hours of 7 and 8, a free concert will be given at Monument square by a band composed of forty of the best local musicians. B. F. Tabor, director of the City band, has accepted a similar position with the Leominster band of Leominster, Mass. He was also recently made director of the Sixth regiment band of Fitchburg, which it is expected will soon be located in this city. This band consists of 28 enlisted men and it is believed that before long most of the musicians will be Lowell men.

HERO SCORNS PURSE

Refuses to Tell Name After Saving Man

BOSTON, March 20.—Long wharf yesterday developed a youthful hero so modest he would not give his name lest the Humane society or Mr. Carnegie should force him to accept a medal. The hero sprang into prominence when he rescued Thomas Smith of Gloucester from drowning in the basin between Long wharf and T wharf.

Smith fell from the fishing schooner Lucania, being a member of that craft's crew. His head struck another schooner and he was stunned.

Instantly there was great excitement with men trying to throw dories over to rescue the drowning fisherman. T wharf was filled with a throng offering suggestions but not personally assisting in aiding Smith. The dories moved hard from their nests on the schooners and ropes were of no use because Smith was too far gone to recognise a rope even if it snaked across his head.

Along came the hero, attracted by the commotion. He wore red boots, overalls and jumper with a toothpick and cigaret between his teeth.

He saw Smith's head disappearing beneath the dirty water and, without hesitation, leaped from the wharf. With powerful stroke the unknown swam to the spot where Smith had vanished; he gulped in a lot of air and, like a porpoise, sounded to the mud 15 feet below.

The crowd waited in suspense as bubbles appeared where the man had dived. Fully a minute he was out of view, groping about the bottom of the dock for Smith. The bubbles grew bigger and bigger and up shot Smith's head and chest, with the stranger trying to get him into the air.

The hero was about done for and began to sink, and Smith, limp as a rag, was disappearing, too. The stranger then renewed his fight and Smith bobbed into sight, but the unknown was under water, exerting almost superhuman strength in an effort to get his burden alongside the Lucania, where Capt. Marty Welch and crew were hanging over the rail.

They got Smith and his rescuer aboard, and both came to life after a long period of doubt as to results. Capt. Welch and crew raised a purse for the hero, who promptly refused to accept the money, on grounds that he had done nothing more than any other man would have done.

Neither would the rescuer give his name. He staggered off the wharf and out of view, and the Lucania sent a searching party without avail.

THE GOVE COMPANY

Lowell's Latest Millinery Establishment Formally Opened—Occupies Former Store of Mme. Gregoire

In the old Gregoire establishment, which has been made resplendent by the painter's brush, the Gove Company, Lowell's latest addition to its milliners' row, held its opening Tuesday and yesterday and two of the largest crowds ever seen at the opening of a millinery store in this city passed through the portals of the store.

Within, vieing with the splendor of the many beautiful and recently tinted fixings, was the latest and most stylish millinery adorning the many showcases and pedestals scattered at frequent intervals through the store.

The models noted in the display and which enjoyed the most prominence, were indeed the prettiest and most becoming that have been originated by the minds of the designers of ladies' headdress in the past few years, a fact mentioned over and over again by the throngs of women who visited the store and tried on the various models.

It is the intention of the owners of the establishment to make more of the ready-to-wear display of millinery, than has ever before been attempted here and so as to foster their intention in the proper way to the ladies they have reserved, for the showing of this particular branch of the business, large mirrored counters, that occupy both sides of the establishment near the entrance and on these a very large assortment of hats that can be worn as soon as purchased will be carried.

In speaking to the writer yesterday, Mr. Underwood, the manager, said that the ready-to-wear branch of the millinery business is becoming very popular with the women folk, who have come to consider the delays occasioned in the making-up of a hat after the purchase as unnecessary.

For the purpose of catering to, and supplying the wants of the old customers and friends of Madame Gregoire, from whom the Gove Co. purchased the stock and good-will of the establishment, this company has set aside, in the rear of the store, many display counters and mirrored trying-on tables, where the latest models and trimmings of all kinds are shown. In this department the milliners of experience and ability formerly with Mme. Gregoire are in attendance and offer opinions and suggestions that any customer desires. Each and every employe of the old firm has remained with the new company and they will be pleased to meet their friends in the renovated and beautified establishment, where they are positive, with the large stock to select from and the low prices, they can satisfy the millinery wants of all, at a considerably reduced cost.

The store in its entirety never looked more beautiful than it does now, harboring as it does all the finery of natural and artificial flowers which it is possible to place within it without crowding and detracting the interest of the visitor from the display of millinery. The many colors of the trimmings and ribbons to be worn the coming seasons, gaudy in some respects, have been so capably toned with the various shades of the hats that the result attained speaks highly of the efficiency of the corps of milliners employed by the Gove Co.

The local store is the third of a chain owned and operated by the company and through the large purchases from the manufacturers made necessary for supplying the three stores, the company is able to buy at very low prices in the market. It aims for large sales and small profits rather than for few sales with large profits.

Mrs. Conway's Exhibit

In the parlor of her home at 21 Ellsworth street, yesterday afternoon and evening, 'mid decorations typical of the spring season, Mrs. George F. Conway conducted a show of all that is the latest and most fashionable in millinery for the coming seasons to a large number of her friends. The parlor was devoted entirely to the display and all the trying on was done in an adjoining room, where large mirrors, in which an excellent idea of the becomingness of the hat tried on could be attained, were located. Mrs. Conway was the recipient of many compliments on the beauty and completeness of the show.

TO SELL ATLANTIC MILLS

Local Auctioneers Have Charge of Sale

On Monday, March 31, J. E. Conant & Co., Lowell auctioneers, will sell to the highest bona fide bidders, the entire plant of the Atlantic cotton mills in Lawrence. The property includes one of the best located permanent water powers (1500-2750 h. p.—16 hours daily at insignificant cost forever) under absolute control in the world.

The real estate and water power combined is not only a rare but a most exceptional manufacturing opportunity. This is particularly true where unlimited water and much permanent water power are required 24 hours in the day. The property is located about midway in the widely famous Merrimack Valley, on one of the best developed streams, in one of the fastest growing cities; in one of the greatest manufacturing centers of the world. It is a question if within the limits of any equal area on earth there is a greater diversity of manufactures or skilled labor, or a more permanent water power.

Should there prove to be prospective purchasers for the plant who desire only the real estate and water power and because of this hesitate to purchase the property in its entirety not knowing what they could do with or realize from the machinery, mechanical equipment, etc., under these circumstances it may not be considered an act of presumption upon our part to state that from any experience we have had in the disposal of cotton mill equipment in the last ten or twelve years in different parts of the country, there is reason to believe that the machinery, mechanical equipment, etc., if properly managed handled and pledged at an absolute auction sale to the highest bona fide bidders—in lots to suit purchasers—within sixty days of the sale of the plant, would yield a sum approaching $200,000.

COMPANY C TO PARADE

Local Command of the Sixth Regiment Accepts Invitation to Join With Catholic Societies on March 29

The arrangements for the monster parade of the Irish Catholic societies of this and other cities on March 29th continue to go along at a most encouraging rate that seems to indicate beyond the shadow of a doubt that the demonstration will exceed the fondest dreams of the committee to which was entrusted the arrangements for the monster undertaking. In an effort to clean up the various details incidental to the celebration the various officers and sub-committees are assiduously engaged on the plans in order that nothing will remain undone to make the event one long to be remembered.

Yesterday the secretary of the committee received definite word from Company C, sixth regiment, that that company voted at a meeting held Tuesday evening to participate in the parade. The information was given to the secretary in a letter from Capt. George W. Peterson and the indications are that several of the other commands will emulate the example of this company and assist in the demonstration.

Hon. Martin E. Joyce, subsidiary high chief ranger of the Irish National Foresters, has replied to the invitation sent him and assures the committee that he will be in the parade. The Irish National Foresters of Lowell with the assistance of other branches of the order throughout the state and in Manchester, N. H. will constitute one of the finest divisions of the parade and hence Chief Ranger Joyce is quite desirous of joining with the order on that day.

Hon. Patrick F. Cannon, state president and Hon. John F. Donnelly, state vice president of the A. O. H. have received invitations and they will ride in the Hibernian division.

HELD A LADIES' NIGHT

Large Attendance at Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Last Night—Several Interesting Games Played

"Ladies' Night," was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night and it proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held in the new gymnasium. The gallery was filled long before the entertainment started and many were glad to get standing room. The program which consisted of drills, wrestling and games started about 8.15.

Physical Director Wicke and about 60 members of the class went through the regular weekly drill exercises which proved very interesting to those present.

Exhibitions were then given on the horses, horizontal bars and other gymnastic apparatus. Most of the exhibitions were given by the class leaders, so some extra good work was done.

Some wrestling matches were then pulled off and these proved to be more interesting than any other part of the program. The different holds and falls were thoroughly explained by the leaders.

An indoor baseball game was next and this furnished considerable fun for the audience as they all understood this popular indoor game.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Companies K and M Were Reviewed Last Night by Lieut J. R. McGinnis, Sixth Infantry, U. S. A.

Companies K of Sixth regiment and M of the Ninth regiment, underwent their annual inspection at the armory last night, under the keen eye of Lieut. J. R. McGinnis, Sixth Infantry, U. S. A. All members of both companies were present and seated in the gallery were many friends of the militiamen.

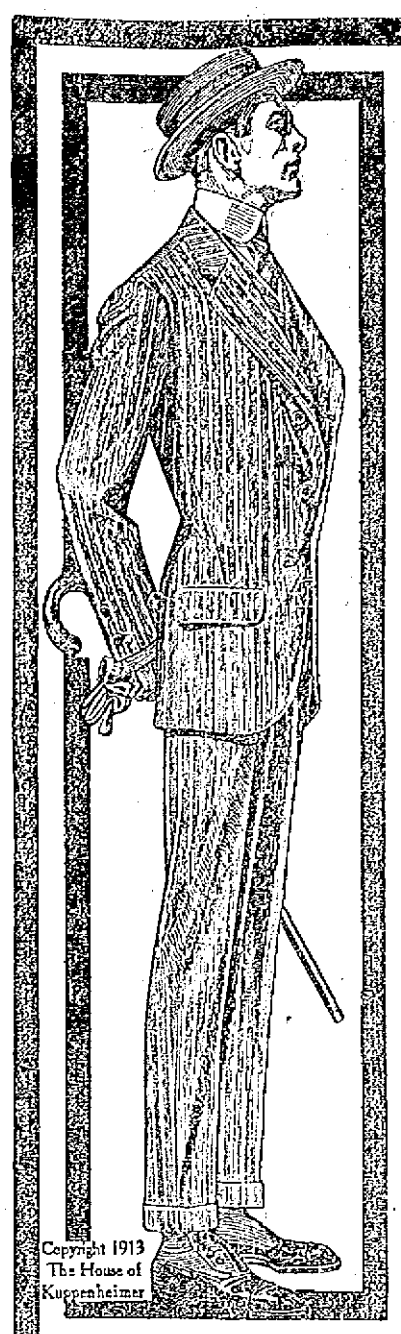

The companies were sent through the various drills and were then inspected as to dress and other accoutrement which is included in United States infantrymen's makeup. The officers of Co. K. are Capt. James N. Greig and First Lieut. John P. Davis. Company M is commanded by Capt. Philip McNulty with First Lieut. Daniel Carlstian and Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge.

Y. W. C. A. Lecture

"The Pocket Watch," was the subject taken by Mr. H. E. Duncan of Waltham in his stereopticon talk at the Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening. The entertainment was held in Kitson hall and was one of the lectures in the Y. W. C. A. course.

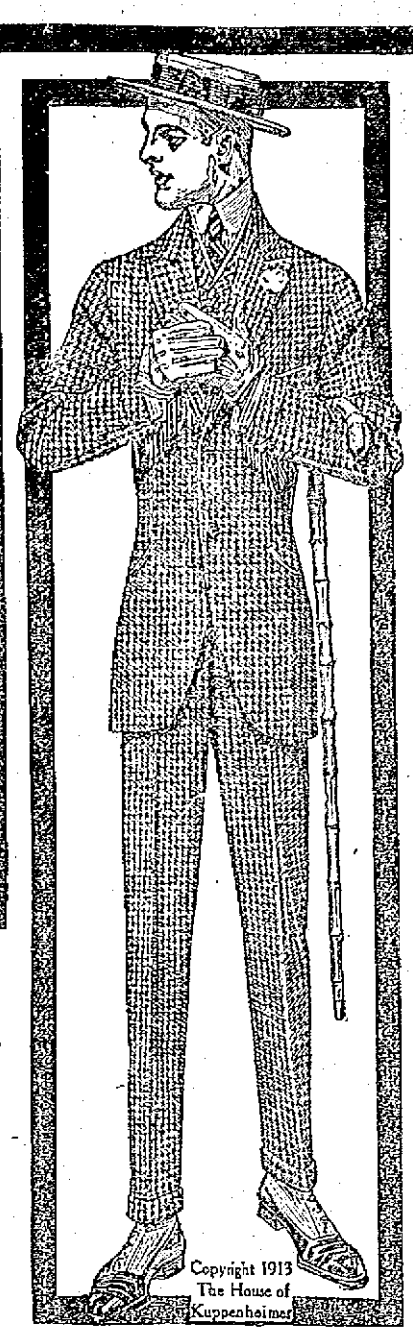

Mr. Duncan spoke to some extent on the making of a Waltham watch, but also talked on the appreciation of a good pocket watch. He first told of the watch as it was made in the 17th century. The watch at that time was as large as a tea saucer and they were considered good time keepers if they did not vary more than fifteen minutes a day. They were all made by hand and were sometimes very beautifully designed. In the 18th century the size was reduced to about what it is today and if it did not vary more than a minute a day it was considered a very good time piece. But the American watch men were not satisfied with this and the result is that the average watch today will not vary more than thirty seconds a week. He closed his address by telling the process of manufacture through which a high grade modern watch goes. A pound of iron, from which the watch springs are made cost about $5, and when it is made into watch springs, it is worth about $23,000.

Little Chance for Man of 60 Years of Age to be Federal Judge—Young Men Will be Preferred

WASHINGTON, March 20—Atty.-Gen. McReynolds, who is weighing the qualifications of the many applicants for vacant federal judgeships, informed callers yesterday that an applicant more than 60 years old had a serious handicap to overcome.

While this is not a hard and fast rule, the age question, it is said, will receive consideration in connection with all appointments to such an extent that the "young men" below 60 have a much better chance.

The rule was followed by President Taft and Atty.-Gen. Wickersham in the appointments of the previous administration.

THE HABIT OF THRIFT

In these times when the high cost of living is on everybody's lips, and when practically all schemes for political advancement are concerned with plans for its reduction in one form or another, the great need for thrift among people, particularly among the rising generation, is apparent to all. There has been a growing tendency for years to disregard the example of our fathers who, in less exciting days, saved some portion of their wages regularly and with some degree of system. Now people wish to enjoy life to the limit of their earning capacity, exclusive of any other consideration. This tendency is apparent not only among the young and thoughtless, but even among men of business, many of whom live up to the limit of their salaries or incomes, and depend on insurance or some other form of investment for future contingencies. People are no longer content with the limited pleasures of previous generations when the home was the chief consideration and all amusements and diversions were secondary. Now, unfortunately, the theatre, the dance, the automobile, and social supremacy are for many the main ends of existence, with the consequence that the home and all that tends towards its acquirement and preservation is frequently neglected. This results in extravagance and lack of thrift among the people who go on spending in feverish haste without consideration for the coming morrow.

It is singular how much of this extravagance and lack of sober consideration is due to careless habits rather than to any deep-seated conviction. The young man who has gone on squandering all his earnings without thought for the future does so because he deems himself incapable of acting otherwise. Yet thrift can be made a habit also and with far different results. Henry E. Huntington, a Los Angeles man of business, who has accumulated 50 million dollars and who recently retired at the age of 63 to take his first trip to Europe, gave as his parting injunction the advice to save money regularly. Following are his own words: "Save a little every week. When you get an increase of wages or salary, continue to live within the former limits and save the increase. If you find it difficult to save, go in debt for a home or undertake some other obligation in the way of investment that will compel you to save." This advice to go into debt in order to save money may seem at first paradoxical, but a little reflection will show that it is based on sound sense. It is meant for the man whose will has become so weakened by extravagance that he finds it almost impossible to acquire the habit of thrift but who, were he in debt, would be compelled to pay a portion of his weekly salary towards its reduction, and thus gradually acquire the habit of saving.

The "Banker and Tradesman" points out the fact that recently the American Banker's association inaugurated a thrift movement that is spreading more rapidly than they anticipated. The banks are dropping their old fashioned ideas of dignity and do not hesitate to advertise in plain terms, thus reaching the people who formerly were not so reached or were reached only by the promoters of fake investments. Though the banks have always been at the service of the people it is evident that by refraining from advertising they inadvertently kept many without the sphere of their influence who, had the matter been properly placed before them, would have seen the advantage of banking as an aid to thrifty habits. A local bank recently started a campaign to enable people of small graduated weekly investments to build up a stipulated sum. The plan met with great and instantaneous success and the returns justified the means employed. The enterprise shown by this concern is to be commended particularly as it tends to encourage the saving habit among people who formerly spent all they earned regardless of the future. Thrift in the individual tends to national security and its encouragement, though an old text, was never more pertinent than at the present time.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

No measure of tariff revision could work greater harm to the general business of the country than would be brought about by a long period of uncertainty during which all kinds of false disquieting rumors could be set afloat by interested parties who, by injuring business could also do a great injury to the new administration. This fact was probably weighed by the president and the national democratic leaders who, by setting aside the special session of congress at such an early date for the purpose of tariff revision alone, served to allay needless fears and reassure those whose business interests may possibly be affected in some degree by the proposed changes. In view of the fact that the intended legislation is of such a momentous nature the business outlook is very satisfactory. Apart from depression in a few minor braches of industry there is an air of confidence in the country that serves to re-assure any who may be fearful of the result of the proposed legislation.

For months the subject of tariff revision has been discussed, and those who control the business of the country have made their plans while keeping it in mind. Stocks of merchandise, particularly those partially dependent on a wool schedule, have been reduced to the lowest figure that the occasion seemed to demand, and in like manner every other commodity has been governed by the future possibility of tariff legislation that would change the market values. This being the case and the results being everywhere anticipated and provided for, it is not probable that even a very radical tariff revision would have any immediate detrimental effect on the general prosperity of the country at the present time. The democrats under the leadership of Underwood, and backed by the enormous influence of the president, can be depended on to effect thorough but prudent tariff changes without fear of any consequent business panic, and the outlook for growing prosperity during the next few years is encouraging in the highest degree.

CLEANER STREETS

Possibly the mildness of the winter and the resulting accumulation of dust is partly responsible for the very dirty condition of the streets. A like condition is noted in many other cities and towns of the state and the newspapers of Brockton, Lynn and other cities have been trying to bring about a remedy. In Lowell at the present time there is a thick layer of dust not only on the streets but on the sidewalks, and the least flurry of wind is followed by choking clouds of dust that give the streets the appearance of a miniature Sahara, making it most uncomfortable for the unfortunate pedestrians who are caught in the sand storms.

One condition is noted, however, for which the weather cannot be blamed, but which can be laid to the negligence of the authorities, and in a still greater measure to the negligence of the people. After a blustering period, the streets are littered with paper, orange and banana peels, and all kinds of refuse, the presence of which, scattered along the gutters, is inexcusable. Although receptacles are provided for this rubbish, they are not at all numerous enough or located at the proper points to eliminate the nuisance. The city should see to it that enough of these be provided and placed at regular intervals. Then the business men of the down-town region and the public generally should advocate their use with the result that in a short time people would avail themselves of them instead of throwing rubbish on the streets and sidewalks as has been done for some time.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille

"Mother's Salve is a splendid remedy for chaps, cold sores, pimples, eczema and skin eruptions. It is antiseptic and is an ideal application for any abrasion of the skin. It is healing, cooling and soothing.

"Thin and scrawny women who desire to take the Vaucaire home treatment for plumping the figure should make a syrup of 1½ cupfuls sugar and a pint of water, into which is stirred an ounce of galol. Take two teaspoonfuls before meals. This treatment restores symmetry of form, but is not a fat maker.

"In most cases of baldness and falling hair, everything points to a parasitic origin of the disease. Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites, but is not harsh in action. It makes the hair fine and fluffy. Mother's shampoo is sold by druggists for 25 cents a package of ten shampoos.

"An ideal complexion beautifier is easily made at home by dissolving in a half pint witch hazel an original package of mayatone. This should be applied in the morning instead of face powder. It makes the skin soft and smooth and corrects spotted, sallow, and muddy looking complexions.

"If your eyebrows are thin and straggly, apply plain pyroxin with the finger tips and brush them daily. This will make them grow more evenly, darker in color and train them into regular arches. Pyroxin applied to the roots will make the lashes grow long, dark and silky.

"Superfluous hair on face or forearms is removed quickly and safely by a simple application of delatone. Make a paste with a little water and powdered delatone, cover the hairy surface for two minutes, then remove and wash the skin. The hairs will be gone."

The rich ought to do a great deal for charity, and we all ought to have a great deal of charity for all, even for the rich.

Some people have a great ambition to learn a great deal, but never do because they are never willing to do the necessary work.

A man cannot see why his wife should think that he is extravagant when he brings home a box of cigars, when he is perfectly willing to let her have the empty box, after he has emptied it, to keep her stray belongings in.

Once in a while when a girl is perfectly sure that a man is falling in love with her, he actually is.

A girl ought to stop and think whether she isn't too tall to think seriously of a young man, when she would have to stand three feet away from him to put her head down on his shoulder.

The city solicitor has had his telephone number changed and there's a reason. His number was 1407 and 4107 is one of The Sun's telephone numbers. Persons using the telephone would get mixed on the numbers and just for that Mr. Hennessey and his assistants experienced some of the very busiest days of their lives. The average person has but little idea of the great number of telephone calls received at a newspaper office, but Mr. Hennessey allows that he and his office force have experienced a rather enforced insight into the matter and is satisfied that a newspaper office is a mighty busy place. "Yes," said Mr. Hennessey, "I had to have my telephone number changed. People would insist upon calling 4107 instead of 1407 and it was up to me to do one of two things—to change the number or hire two or three extra clerks. My appropriation did not warrant the extra clerks and I had the number changed to 85. I am satisfied, however, that The Sun office is a very busy place."

For ten days Pat O'Connor had worked on the well single-handed, and finally the foreman told him that another man had been engaged to help him. He sat down at the bottom of the pit wearily, to have a quiet smoke and a few minutes of much-needed rest and also to digest the welcome news that he was at last to have a helper.

The foreman's bull-dog at that precise moment happened to look over the edge of the pit, and Pat, glancing up, saw him. Slowly removing his pipe from his mouth, he rose and gathered his tools.

"Well, bedad, Oi've worked with Swedes, an' Hungarians, an' Oi've worked with Oitalians an' wid naygures," he said gravely, "but, whin a man wid a face loike that comes down here to work besoide me, Oi gets up."

A certain eminent landscape artist sold a picture to a wealthy woman of Boston. The woman soon became tired of the picture, because, she declared, it lacked animation. So she sent for another artist, and asked him to paint a man or woman on the road that ran through the middle of the picture.

The artist did so, and when he met the man who had painted the original work, he told him what he had done.

"I had the temerity to alter a landscape of yours the other day," he said. "It was the one you sold to Mrs. W. She wanted a figure painted in, so I added an old man walking down the road."

"Road! What road? There's no road in that picture."

"Why, yes there is," said the other. "There is a road that runs through the middle of the canvass."

"Why, you fool," indignantly cried the first artist, "that's no road! That's a river."—Youth's Companion.

BEFORE AND AFTER

Jim was my friend till one unhappy day—
The usual cause—a pretty girl came in our way.
From that day on we seemed to drift apart.
For each aspired to win her maiden heart,
But though I tried each art and winning wile,
'Twas not to me she gave her sweetest smile.
Each day I saw my chances grow more dim,
Until—to my despair—one day she married Jim.
Ah, lucky Jim!
How I envied him!

Three years passed on—long years they seemed to me—
Then Jim died and once more "she" was free.
Before me rose the bright hopes of the past;
I wooed, I sued, and married her at last.
I got my way and now, that she's my wife,
I know just what there is in married life;
And when I think of Jim—though underground,
Enjoying peace and quiet most profound—
Ah, lucky Jim!
How I envy him!

UNMETHODICAL

His belongings are never in order,
The top of his desk is a sight.
Such a mixed heap of letters and papers,
And he never gets anything right!
Most workers would find themselves helpless
With a working-place mussed up like his.
It seems to be hopeless confusion,
But he knows just where everything is.

His method is not to have method,
Not to keep things in orderly style.
His belongings are all in a jumble,
And he files everything in a pile.
He likes to have things topsy-turvy,
He was born with a queer mental quirk
That makes him most unsystematic—
But, gee, how he turns out the work!

—Somerville Journal.

Everybody says this, or everybody says that, and everybody does just as everybody says. That is to say, everybody dictates the course of action for everybody, and everybody seems pleased with the arrangement.

Everybody is not always genial, friendly, or neighborly, because, not knowing everybody, everybody is apt to be a little distant.

Everybody often considers that everybody ought to realize and appreciate the superiority of everybody's particular type: but it is a sad fact that everybody can't see it that way. Everybody will admit that this seems a little paradoxical, or queer; nevertheless, everybody knows that everybody is right.

Everybody makes the laws for everybody, and everybody obeys everybody's laws sometimes; yet everybody is not always satisfied with everybody's method of obeying or disobeying.

Everybody wants everybody's money, and everybody tries to keep everybody out of everybody's strong box: everybody plans to outwit everybody along these lines; everybody succeeds and everybody does not succeed. This principle is what makes business good for everybody.

These observations may be taken as truth—they are truth—because everybody says so.

Tribute to the Late Admiral Eaton

It was my pleasure to know Admiral Joseph G. Eaton. A brilliant entertainer. A gentleman in every particular. Fascinating in manner. Impulsive in nature. Scholarly, dignified, genial, gallant and courteous. Always interesting when relating experiences of his travels throughout the wide world. As a son of Dracut, within whose borders now repose the remains of this distinguished naval officer, who has rendered such valiant service to his country, I speak a word of tribute.

As one, who twenty-five years ago, stood by the open grave in this same small burial place, of my native town, and assisted in lowering the casket containing the body of a beautiful girl of fourteen, the only child of Admiral and Mary Anne Varnum Eaton, Isabel Varnum Eaton was tenderly committed to earth, while father and mother, relatives and friends gathered about in deepest sorrow.

Contrast that scene with the one of the past week, when the father, Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, the adopted son of Historical Dracut, whose memory Dracut will ever be proud to honor, who served his nation long, faithfully and gallantly in her great navy, as commander, as hero, at Santiago, recipient of a medal of honor from his country for his part in that great battle.

This gallant officer, received and honored by the elite and conspicuous dignitaries of the world after forty years of notable service, lays down his life and without the semblance of a national emblem across his bier, without military honors, without a single representative from the ranks of this great country's navy, without a clergyman to offer prayer, without relatives or friends present to remove this lifeless body from the hearse to grave, the body of Admiral Eaton is committed to its final resting place, in a quiet spot of a country town, beside this loving, idolized daughter and his devoted early companion, Mary Anne Varnum Eaton, whose memory Dracut cherishes.

A nation's distinguished son is buried with less ceremony than a friendless pauper or outcast. It's a sad reflection upon a great nation, when it culpably disregards honoring its worthy and illustrious servants with the customary burial accorded the humblest citizen. An event to be regretted, when relatives or friends fail to pay proper tribute in attending to such a solemn obligation as laying their own feelings away.

The town of Dracut, Lowell and the nation laments that Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton has failed to receive the final tributes which should have been approximately paid. Unfortunate it was, that opportunity was not given to the people of Lowell and Dracut to signify their respect for one whom they honored for his successes and achievements in the United States navy.

This Shampoo Best For Home Use

"Every woman prizes luxuriant hair," says Mae Martyn, in the Tacoma Examiner, "and many find that much depends on shampooing. Various preparations are used for this purpose, but few are free from injurious ingredients, and the result is thin, straggly hair and itchy scalps.

"A simple and inexpensive shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. This is poured on the scalp and rubbed until lathering freely, then the hair rinsed carefully and dried.

"Nothing so quickly promotes a healthy condition of the scalp as a canthrox shampoo, and its use is certain to produce glossy, luxuriant hair. Care should be taken to get an original package of canthrox."

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

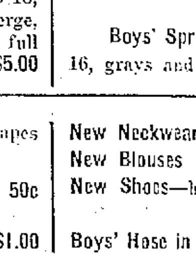

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

The Fight Grows Harder and More Bitter

A Great Chance for the Public to Buy at Cut Prices

A piano sale here is always a sacrifice, always a bargain sale, always a markdown sale. The very nature of the business here is one of sacrifice. The business here is not conducted like the business of a regular piano store where they are expected to make a profit on each piano. We don't let any piano loaf around our floors; a sacrifice tag is clapped on which on the face of it reads competition defied and it is sold to the first wise man or woman for the price marked on the tag. Price doesn't mean anything at these sales. We cut and double cut prices on all makes alike; we ask no favors, we want none, and we give none. In sales like these someone's loss is your gain, the profit is all yours. The finest instruments of the world's best makers are in the sacrifice list.

PANIC AT CITY HALL

Cowboy Shot Up Mayor's Office in Buffalo

FIRED FIVE TIMES, FOUR BULLETS HITTING POLICEMAN

Said He Wanted $100, Then Pulled Revolver—Rushed Off Feet By Detective

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 20.—Joseph Stefunski, a cowboy from Geyser, Mont., apparently demented, caused a panic at the city hall yesterday when he entered the mayor's office and opened fire with a revolver on the clerks and a policeman on duty.

Charles E. Lang, a member of the police force on special duty, who grappled with the man, was shot four times, but probably will recover.

Stefunski had called at the office twice before during the day and asked for Mayor Fuhrmann or his secretary. He left without making known his mission. When he called the third time yesterday afternoon he met Charles Egloff, license clerk, and asked for the mayor. Egloff told him the mayor was out.

"Well, I want $100," said Stefunski.

Egloff saw he had a crank to deal with and tried to parley with him. Officer Lang heard the demand and walked toward the two men.

The sight of the uniform apparently alarmed Stefunski, who stepped back and drew a revolver, crying at the same time, "I'll get that hundred or know the reason why."

Lang closed in on Stefunski, but was unable to get hold of his right hand, in which he held the revolver. Stefunski fired five shots, four at Lang, all of which lodged in his neck and shoulder, and the fifth at Egloff, which went wild.

Weakened by his wounds, Lang was easily shaken off by Stefunski, who rushed to the other side of the room and began to reload. He had difficulty in getting out the empty shells, and this probably saved further bloodshed. Lang staggered out into the hall.

While a deputy sheriff stood at one door of the mayor's office firing a revolver in Stefunski's direction, a detective sergeant, Herman Burkhardt, from the district attorney's office, came in by another door and rushed Stefunski off his feet. A moment later he was overpowered.

At police headquarters Stefunski several times declared he was an anarchist and that he went to city hall to "shoot 'em all." In his pocket was a curiously worded document which the police regard as further evidence of the man's unbalanced mind.

It was written on the stationery of a Great Falls (Mont.) bank and purported to be an order for $100. Stamped upon it in several places were the words "Joseph Stefunski, Cow puncher," after which was written in ink, "Jake Richman."

Stefunski said he was a native of Poland and before coming here had worked in Geyser, Mont., and Wilkesbarre, Pa.

VALUABLE HENS STOLEN

Thieves Are at Work in Dracut

The hen coop of Mr. Ormiston in Hampson street, Dracut, was recently entered during the night by hen thieves who managed to escape with several select birds. The Dracut police are at work on the case, but they have not the slightest clue to work on.

The residents of the town are somewhat alarmed over this recent theft, and fear that their chickens may be purloined, for it is about this time that the hen thieves are most active. Extra vigilance on the part of hen owners may result in the capture of these night marauders and there is not an owner who will spare money or efforts to bring the culprits to justice.

BISHOP SIX YEARS

The anniversary of Bishop Guertin's consecration will not pass unnoticed, and some time after Easter, possibly April 2, it will be observed with fitting ceremony and a solemn high mass will be celebrated by the bishop.

FAMILY OF FIVE DEAD

Were Victims of Illuminating Gas

CHICAGO, March 20.—A family of five persons was found dead from illuminating gas in a cottage at 2635 North Lawndale avenue today. Circumstances indicated that an accident caused the tragedy. In the kitchen a rubber hose was detached from a gas plate. The victims were Engbert Cornelson, 55 years old, a machinist, his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Hanson's Horse Sale

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, today the auction sale of horses at C. H. Hanson's Rock street sale rooms was the scene of much spirited bidding. From 10 o'clock the horses which are for sale were put through their paces before the eyes of the prospective bidders and their points, both good and bad, were carefully noted in preparation for their appearance before the auctioneer's block. The usual coterie of out-of-town buyers were present in larger numbers than generally appear. This probably is due to the fact that a special shipment of horses are being sold today.

From the moment the auctioneer first opened the sale for bids on a big bay there was not a dull moment at the sale and as it progressed the bidding became more brisk. The western horses seemed to attract more attention than the second hand equines on sale. Each man present, with the exception of a few who were looking for cheap truck horses, showed keen interest whenever one of the horses, which have been traveling in a box car for the past few days was shown.

The prices of the various animals on sale held up very well today and there were very few hold-overs. The farmers from the surrounding towns turned out in large numbers, the Dracut and Tewksbury delegations making several purchases.

Although it was one of the biggest offers ever made for a ball player he refused to part with the great St. Louis player.

The Austrian minister at Cettinje, the Montenegrin capital, was instructed today to make the following demands from the Montenegrin government:

First, the free exit from the fortress of Scutari of all non-combatants.

Second, explanations of the death of a Catholic priest named Palle, who is said to have been killed because he opposed the violent conversions of prisoners.

Third, violent conversions to cease instantly.

Dr. Friedmann Makes Statement

NEW YORK, March 20.—Dr. Frederick Friedmann, the scientist, issued a statement today to those who have come to this city from different parts of the country for treatment with his serum to wait until the government tests of his remedy have been completed.

"Do not come to New York at the present time," says the statement. "Stay home and keep your patience. It will not be long before you have the opportunity to receive my treatment. A trip to this city would consume your strength and vitality. So do not come because I now can only treat those sufferers selected by the government physicians."

Dr. Friedmann's plans today called for a visit to the Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases, where he will treat thirty-five cases under the supervision of the government physicians.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Bankers and silk dealers who advanced money and goods to Saio R. Jackson, the "petticoat king," lost more than $1,000,000, the district attorney said today when arrangements were made for Jackson's trial. Jackson, head of the Jackson-Mack Mfg. Co. was making 6000 petticoats and kimonas a day when he disappeared and it was charged that he had been receiving heavy advances on fraudulent invoices. He was captured last week in Mexico.

A BORROWED TRUNK

Clue To the Arrest of the Musicas

NEW YORK, March 20.—A wooden, brassed strapped steamer trunk, which Phillip Musica borrowed from a friend rather than spend $12 for a new one, led to the arrest in New Orleans yesterday of the Musica family in flight for Colon with $97,000 of the $1,000,000, which Phillip and his father Antonio are charged with obtaining from 22 banks through fraudulent invoices. This became known today when detectives told of the pursuit.

It was from a friend named Horst that Phillip Musica borrowed the trunk. Horst decided Friday that he wanted to go out of town on a short trip and called at Musica's hotel to ask him to return the trunk. There he found detectives seeking clues to the whereabouts of his friend, who had already fled. Horst told them of the trunk giving them a good description of it. Within a few hours detectives learned that the trunk had gone south. They followed it to Washington, lost the trail there, picked it up again and followed it Atlanta and Mobile. There the detectives were but a few hours behind but the Musicas shook them off by hiring an automobile, driving to a little railway station not far away and taking a train for New Orleans. The pursuers learned that the trunk had been checked at that station for New Orleans, followed it and had little difficulty in finding their men.

CELEBRATE CENTENARY

Of the Birth of David Livingstone

NEW YORK, March 20.—The centenary of the birth of David Livingstone, born at Blantyre, Scotland, on March 19, 1813, is being observed by missionary societies the country over in response to a resolution passed by the foreign missions conference of North America that such action be taken. The aim of the celebration is to bring before the members of the churches of all denominations and the public at large the missionary appeal of the story of Livingstone's life and work and thereby to instill similar habits of Christian devotion and to deepen the interest in foreign missionary work generally, so as to enable all missionary societies to respond more adequately to the challenge of the present world situation. Livingstone's life work in opening up Africa led directly to the suppression of the slave trade and to the entrance of western civilization and the Christian religion into the remotest recesses of the dark continent.

New Treasurer Failed to Show Up

WASHINGTON, March 20.—John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, the new treasurer of the United States, who was expected in Washington last night to take the oath of office today, failed to appear at the appointed time and Secretary McAdoo had not heard from him.

The department is anxious to receive the new official because his entry into office means the necessity of counting the nation's wealth. To verify the accounts of Carmi Thompson, retiring treasurer, the gold, silver, currency and securities in the treasury vaults actually will be counted by a committee which Secretary McAdoo is prepared to appoint.

WANT NINE HOURS IN ELEVEN

Trolley Car Men Given Continued Hearing — Blackstone Man Wants Milk Labeled

BOSTON, March 20.—A number of trolley car platform men were heard at the continued hearing on the bill for nine hours in 11, which was begun last week. William E. Sproul of Lowell said the men do not want a mandatory bill. They still want to work more than nine hours in 11 if they wish, but want a standard schedule of nine hours in 11, which this bill will give them. He said lawyers have told him the bill is a permissive one.

Pres. Fred Crowley of Division 259 of Lowell, said he regarded the bill as permissive, that a man could ask for extra work, but the company cannot compel him to work more than nine hours. Several others produced testimony showing that the men in their divisions favored the nine hours in 11.

Would Label Milk

Representative John F. Meaney of Blackstone appeared at the state house yesterday before the joint committees on agriculture and public health in favor of his own bill, which provides for the labeling of milk sold in the state as to its source and treatment.

The original bill provided for stating on the label the precise town where the milk came from, but he said that he would put in a redraft of that bill making it mandatory to state only the treatment of the milk that is, whether or not it has been pasteurized, and the fact whether or not the milk came from within the boundaries of this state.

With this labeling all milk, he said, the buyer need not buy out-of-state milk unless he wants to, and thus, as argued, there would be created a demand for Massachusetts milk that could not fail to further the industry in the state. Representatives Anderson and Ferguson favored the bill.

Opposed to the Meaney measure were John K. and Charles Whiting, representing large contractors in the city. Their chief argument against the bill was that while no good result could be accomplished under its terms, it would be harder for the contractors to do business because of additional cost of supervision and handling. They said if they could get enough milk in Massachusetts to supply their needs they would confine their buying to the state, but stated that it is almost impossible to get enough.

Judge Corbett and Milk Inspector James O. Jordan of Boston represented Mayor Fitzgerald in favoring his bills which seek to place on the statutes a definition of "milk" and of "pure milk" and to give the local inspector authority to prosecute cases where unclean containers are found used in the sale of milk.

On the first bill, Judge Corbett explained that the city lost a case at law because it was found the legislature had never defined the terms of "milk" and "pure milk" accurately enough. On the second, Inspector Jordan said that, although he has found many instances of the sale of milk in filthy jars, there is at present no law giving him the right to prosecute. He argued that all the milk laws in the world will prove ineffective if dealers are allowed to sell milk in disease-breeding jars. There was no opposition.

Vetoes Minimum Wage

A veto was sent to the senate yesterday by the governor on the bill to establish a minimum wage for laborers employed by the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board.

Before it was sent, however, the senate had voted to ask that the bill be returned to that body by the governor, Gov. Foss therefore withdrew his veto message in order to comply with the wish of the senate. The governor's veto was in part as follows:

"Herewith I return without my approval an act providing for an increase of wages for laborers directly employed by the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board within their several districts, to $2.50 a day.

At this time the public is much concerned with the question of a minimum wage. The legislature of 1912 created a minimum wage commission for the express purpose of providing for the determination of minimum wages for women and minors.

"At my earnest recommendation also, a board of labor and industry was created by the last legislature, having broad powers over the conditions of industry and labor.

Would Advance Orderly

"With these marked advances in the public policy of Massachusetts, we must make further progress in strict accordance with the experience which will accumulate from the operation of these and other new and progressive labor laws.

"The present bill sweeps aside all the just considerations of the industrial

FRED CROWLEY,
Who Spoke For Lowell Union

held in general and establishes arbitrarily a high standard of pay for laborers without any reference whatever to the workmans individual fitness, character, length of service or other qualifications.

"It also takes the entire matter out of the hands of the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board, and leaves them no discretionary power whatever. We maintain these boards at a great expense, to administer the work of their departments; and they should have authority to pay such wages as the conditions call for.

Unjust to Cause of Labor

"Not only is this proposed legislation really injurious to the just cause of labor in itself, but it will prejudice the entire subject of wage legislation in the future. It places an artificial price level on the value of a laborer's time and leaves absolutely out of account the relation between such labor and the labor of other classes of working people who must equally be maintained, directly or indirectly, by the public.

"Legislation such as the present bill does not originate through humanitarian motives, but solely through political considerations, and it can carry no positive justification on moral or humanitarian grounds.

"If the legislature persists in yielding to the sort of pressure represented by this bill, then the public, in self-defense, will be forced to withdraw from the present wide-spread movement toward the establishment of better wages in general wherever such wages can be properly justified and no real progress be made.

"In my judgment, the present bill is hostile not only to the best interests of labor, but to that sound public policy which it is the function of the legislature and the executive to establish and support."

First Recall of the Kind

The reading of the veto had been deferred until after the orders of the day were disposed of. Senator McCarthy was just about to move to recall the Metropolitan water and sewage board laborers' bill when in came the veto.

At 8.45 Executive Secretary Hamlin appeared with a message from the governor, asking for the return of his veto. It was the first time a governor's message had ever been recalled in such fashion. Gov. Foss stated that because of the fact that the recall of the bill had been asked by the senate he desired his veto back. The message and the recall evidently crossed.

The veto message was returned unread, and Senator McCarthy lost no time in skipping after his bill. On his motion, its enactment was reconsidered and the further consideration of the matter put over till today.

Muffling Power Boats

In the house Mr. Hayes of Ipswich opposed the bill providing for further regulation of the muffling of power boats and to require such boats to be licensed, on the ground that it would be a hardship on the owners of such boats and particularly on fishermen using such boats.

Mr. Tufts of Waltham said such legislation has been made necessary by the owners of boats who have made such a noise as to make life hideous for persons living along the seacoast.

Mr. Leslie of Quincy opposed the bill as unnecessary, because there is plenty of law on the statute books now. Mr. Wilson of Lynn replied that the district police have found it impossible to abate the power boat nuisance under the present law. He read a letter from the managers of the Boston Floating hospital, urging that something be done to prevent disturbance of patients by these boats.

Mr. Priest of Haverhill offered an amendment providing that the law shall not apply to boats engaged in races sanctioned by the district police. The bill was favored by Representatives Kinney of Boston and Cassassa of Revere and opposed by Representatives Bogle of New Bedford and Conway of Boston. The Priest amendment was adopted, after which the bill was refused a third reading, 28 to 72.

Teachers' Retirement Bill

Mr. Teague of Boston presented his own petition for legislation to provide that "The school committee of the city of Boston shall grant to any teacher in the public schools of that city, who is retired, having attained the age of 70 years and who has served as such teacher for not less than 15 years, the same pension to which he or she would be entitled under the provisions of chapter 559 of the acts of the year 1905 if he or she had so served for a period of 30 years." It was referred to the rules committee.

Objects to Laughry

Mayor Fitzgerald called at the state house yesterday and left with Lieut. Gov. Walsh to be presented to the governor when he returns a protest against the rumored appointment of ex-Secretary of State Alfred P. Laughry as chairman of the state efficiency board. "The governor," the mayor said, "seems to be determined to resuscitate the remains of the republican party, that was buried so deeply last November. The appointment of a man like Laughry would be a step backward—reactionary.

"It is rather strange that the governor cannot find a man of progressive tendencies in the democratic party without seeking out some one from the Old Guard."

DENY CHARITY SUPPORT

Use of Names is Called Unwarranted

BOSTON, March 20.—That the Faith and Hope association which is soliciting money for vacations for poor working girls of Greater Boston, used the names of the state board of charity, the Boston chamber of commerce and the associated charities of this city, virtually as references, without warrant or justification, is charged by Robert W. Kelso, secretary of the state board; Lloyd B. Hayes, head of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of the investigation of charity solicitors, and Miss J. E. Chadwick, secretary of the committee on information of the associated charities.

Mr. Hayes last evening showed newspaper representatives two letters sent out recently on behalf of the Faith and Hope association to persons of charitable inclination, in one of which was a paragraph reading: "We believe that the chamber of commerce, the associated charities and the state board of charities approve the work of our organization."

That is the statement which led to the disclaimer from each of the organizations that they have in any way indorsed the association or its plans. The letters purported to be signed by Rev. Frank M. White, treasurer of the association, a Baptist minister who was prominent two or three years ago in stopping Sunday baseball at Fort Banks, Winthrop, in which town he was then pastor. He is now pastor of a church in Providence.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION.

BETTER THAN CASTOR OIL, CALOMEL OR CATHARTICS TO CLEANSE YOUR STOMACH, LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS. HARMLESS LAXATIVE FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Primitive folks did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich.

We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and those poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals don't digest, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice. We must live like primitive folks, else we must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter on and out of the system.

The safest, most harmless and effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator for men, women and children—is delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, gripe or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruits. It is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without harm.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and see on the label that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine—the old reliable. Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrup imitations sometimes offered to deceive you.

Live Bits of Sport

Abe Attell, the former featherweight champion, showed a flash of his old time form last night when he met and stopped Ollie Kirk in three rounds. This is the boxer who recently forced Abe to announce his retirement from the ring. Although the second round was an even one the result was not unlooked for as the blows that Attell landed in the opening round were vicious and carried the sting. The fight was stopped in the third by the referee to save Kirk from further punishment.

Manager Pyper has secured another youngster for his Lawrence team, Albert Tesch, the Andover academy shortstop, has agreed to the terms proposed by the Lawrence baseball pilot and will not return to school after the Easter vacation. Tesch comes from Jersey City and played the regular infield for Andover last year. Perhaps he is another Barney Riley!

Jimmy Callahan, the White Sox playing manager, is not any youngster at the game. He was given a little party last Tuesday by his friends who are with the team on its training trip and although not much was said about it the day was Jimmy's 39th birthday. There are very few players who are even playing minor league ball today at Callahan's age. His team, however, is always going efficient with its manager in a player's capacity.

Byrne's injury, if it proves a permanent one, will put the Pittsburgh club in a bad hole this year. This is their third infielder injured this year, "Honus" Wagner contends that the jinx has again started after the team from the city of smoke and gives it as his opinion that the Pirates will have no luck this season. Byrne was hit on the head by a fast in-curve of Joe Wood's and knocked unconscious. His condition is reported as serious.

"Kelley" Wells, captain of last year's Dartmouth hockey team is in town and expects to stay here for a few months. Wells is living at the new Y. M. C. A. rooms and learning the fine points of the wood turning business. Here is one real hockey player who could play on any team in the country if he so desired.

The battens for the new baseball stands have already been set in their concrete foundations by the contractors. It will be some time before a large gang can be set to work on the bleacher constructions, but the preliminary work is being pushed along rapidly. The sandy soil at the park has greatly aided in the quick elimination of moisture from the grounds which otherwise would have proved a big expense to the club owners. Contractor Cremmer entertains hopes of having the structure completed by the first week in April, although the contract does not call for it until the 15th.

Portland, Lawrence, Worcester and Lowell are all considered as possibilities for the New England league pennant this year. Lowell is the only city which has got her team practically decided on before the opening of the season. Worcester, Portland and Lawrence all have a galaxy of ball players ready to report when the call comes. Burkett, in particular, has a squad of youngsters which will be weeded out in the pre-season contests. On paper the plan of the Lowell manager looks to be the best of them all.

Battling Nelson has smoothed over his domestic difficulties and now is reunited with his youthful bride. After a short period of two days spent in the fighter's company, his wife sued him for divorce on the grounds that she was practically kidnapped. After "Bat" concludes his theatrical engagements they will start on a 20 days' honeymoon.

Whether Charley Carr's baseball school will prove a success or not is a hard question to argue on before it is given a trial. It is proposed to give a team a chance to learn the finer points of the game from men who are universally acknowledged to be the best in their particular positions. Owen Bush, the Detroit shortstop, is the last man that has been chosen as an instructor to the new institution. San Antonio, Tex., is the spot picked out as the most suitable for the school.

Leo McCarthy, the premier dash man of the Boston college high track team, has been elected captain of the Hub aggregation for next year. McCarthy deserved the honor inasmuch as he has proved the mainstay of the team during the season just brought to a close. The Lowell boy should make a good leader for his school team. He possesses a cool head and uses it to good advantage on any question that arises on the track. Barring accidents, Leo should prove a sensation next winter in the dash events.

Larry Gardner received a fast one from Pitcher Robinson on his throwing arm yesterday and cannot bend his arm as a result. The doctors say that it is nothing more than a muscle bruise, but even at that the Red Sox third sacker may be bothered for some time with it.

Arthur Lavigne, the catcher of the local club last year, evidently was not adversely effected by the sendoff which the sporting fraternity in Worcester, his home city, gave him on the eve of his departure for the city where hops are at a premium. Lavigne writes his brother that he has arrived O. K. and feels like a fighting cock. This player should make them all do some fast ground covering if they ever expect to make the second station.

The South Ends should put a fast team into the field this year. Their last year's club was a clever aggregation of ball players, but this year's representatives of the club on the diamond should prove even better. The club has grown larger and their rooms and accommodations are much more spacious for a team's maintenance. The South Ends and the Manhattans furnished the city with several mighty good games last season and we look for more this year.

Matchmaker Mitchel Gardner announces that he has completed negotiations for a bout between Johnny Dohan of New York and Gilbert Gallant, the Chelsea lightweight. These two boys were scheduled to box here on Feb. 22, but the club did not see its way clear to put on a card that night. The many fans who were disappointed on that date will have an opportunity of seeing this bout staged here in the near future.

BASEBALL NOTES

Catcher Jim Thomas of the Athletics says George Moriarty is a trickier base runner than Cobb and the hardest base runner in the game to catch on a steal of second.

Heinie Zimmerman had to refrain from practice for a day following the drinking of three glasses of milk on top of some lobster salad that he ate while Johnny Evers was not lurking near.

Baldomero Acosta, the young Cuban with the Senators, is being rated as a mixture of Willie Keeler and Jesse Burkett when it comes to hunting. Griffith is practically certain to retain him for outfield emergency use.

Nick Cullop, the expensive pitching recruit of the Naps, is said to be showing Manager Joe Birmingham a fine line of wares.

When Eddie Mensor, the young Pirate, met Monte Attell at Hot Springs the other day it became known that Mensor once attempted to shine as a boxer. Attell said Mensor gave him a good fight. It was three years ago, said Monte.

Hans Lobert, whose knee, fractured last summer, is sound again, is one of the busiest men in the Phillies' camp. When he is not working under Doolin's eye he passes the time batting long flies to a big and enthusiastic negro he has hired at a dollar a day.

The Phillies are said to be angling for Catcher Owens of the Minneapolis team. Rumor has it that he is the man that will be exchanged for Mike Donlin.

BASKETBALL NOTES

The Lowell Y. M. C. A. Employed Boys' basketball team will play the St. John's church boys' basketball team tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. A fast and interesting game is expected. The following players of the Employed boys report at 7.30: Doole, Mitchell, Greenwood, Mochrie, Angus, McElroy.

IN SACO-LOWELL LEAGUE

Interesting Games Rolled Last Night

The alleys still continue to be the scene of many matched games although the weather is getting a bit too warm for the strenuous winter sport. With the nearing close of the bowling leagues throughout the city, however, there seems to be renewed interest in the game and the finish promises to be even more stirring than the start of the season.

The closest match of the evening was that between the Draftsmen and the Office teams of the Saco-Lowell league. The latter quintet pulled out a winner by a two pin margin after a game that was replete with close rolling. Baker, who rolled for the victors, proved too much for his opponent in the pinch. The other game in the Saco-Lowell league also was a very evenly bowled match the Shippers defeating the Foundry by four pins.

The scores and summaries of the various games rolled last night on the local alleys follow:

JOE THOMAS TRAINING

For Bout With Grupp Next Week

In recognition of Good Friday, there will be no meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club tomorrow evening, but the officers of the club, have arranged an excellent program for the meeting to be held next week. In the main bout Joe Thomas of Lowell, will meet Billy Grupp of St. Louis. These are two of the most prominent middleweights in the game at the present time and the result is being closely followed by the sports throughout the country. Both have met all the good men in their class, and with the incentive of a match with Eddie McGoorty for the winner, both will try hard to land the award. Joe is putting in considerable work in preparation for the bout, and he expects to be in the best of shape when the gong rings for the first round. In the semi final, Sailor Pliske and Jimmy Reardon will be the principals, and this bout promises to be a hummer. Reardon and Pliske have met on two previous occasions, and their numbers are well remembered by all members of the local club.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

Admirers of Marie Corelli's writings are enjoying the Lonergan Players' production of "Thelma," the current week's bill at the Opera House. The play as presented by this excellent organization is acted with intelligence and staged with elaborate scenic and electrical effects. Performances of this play will be given today and Saturday, afternoon and evening. The theatre will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday.

Next week commencing Monday evening and with daily matinees commencing Tuesday, the company will be seen in an elaborate production of "Zaza," the play in which Mrs. Leslie Carter made her first great success and of which she is now making a revival in Chicago. "Zaza," is a play of great dramatic worth, pulsating with human passion and with a love story of rising interest. Miss Timmons is temperamentally fitted for the characterization of the name part which will afford her the widest scope for the expression of her dramatic genius and her associate players will be called upon for the full measure of their ability in interpreting the parts assigned them. "Zaza" will be presented with the full strength of the present excellent company which will be augmented by a number of other capable actors. There is already a lively interest in this forthcoming production and a number of theatre parties are being made up for the several nights of the engagement. Seats for all performances are now on sale at the box office.

Keith's Theatre

Formal announcement is made today that the latest marvel of the scientific world, the Thomas A. Edison talking pictures will be shown for the first time locally at the B. F. Keith theatre, beginning Monday of next week. For two weeks Christian Clerc, direct from the Orange, N. J., factory, has been supervising the installation of the synchronizing apparatus. He now has it perfected and the big show of next week will hold this as the extraordinary feature. "The Purple Lady," heading the list of acts of the present week, is all that is claimed for it, and Redford & Winchester, the comic jugglers, are among the funniest men before the American public, and Hunting & Francis in "The Love Lozenge" have a part offering. Other acts on the bill are: Ethel McDonough, singing comedienne; LeVier, aerialist; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morris, in a sketch, and Victor Miller. Good seats may be secured in advance. Phone 28.

Merrimack Square Theatre

Today there will be an entire change of pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre, also a continuation of the vaudeville attractions on appis this week. And tomorrow the theatre will be closed all day (Good Friday.) For the feature attraction to be given at the Sunday concerts this coming Sunday, Easter, matinee and night, Manager Carroll has booked the $10,000 historic production, "The Life of St. Patrick." This is only the second time this attraction has been presented. The other occasion being at Symphony hall, Boston, on last Monday, March 17. There will be no advance in prices despite the fact that on its other presentation it was given at 50 cent prices. It is to be given on this date only. Seats are now on sale.

The Playhouse

Members of the local divisions of Hibernians and ladies auxiliary, as well as the other societies of the city interested in the St. Patrick's day parade, should note that the management of The Playhouse has come forward with the generous offer to give a portion of the receipts of next Monday night, Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, to the St. Patrick's day parade fund. The offering for next week will be Chauncey Olcott's interesting Irish drama "The Minstrel of Clare," in which Mr. J. Anthony Smythe will be heard in some of Olcott's songs, including "Day Dreams," "My Wild Irish Rose," and the "Home Song." The play tells a pretty Irish story, has a most pleasing Irish atmosphere and should appeal strongly to all sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle. First performance Monday night.

BOYS CAUGHT IN ELEVATOR

Lynn Children Narrowly Escaped Being Badly Crushed in Factory Building

LYNN, March 20.—While playing about an elevator in the factory of John D. Mullin & Sons at 747 Washington street yesterday, Robert Miles of 53 Tudor street and Fred Liberl of 7 Sagamore street, each 10 years old, had their legs caught between the car and the floor and narrowly escaped being badly crushed.

The boys said they pulled the rope by which the elevator is operated and that when it stopped at the second floor, their legs were firmly caught. Employes in the factory summoned firemen from the Broad street station, but before the arrival of the firemen the boys had been released. They were taken to the Lynn hospital where the doctors found many bad contusions on their legs.

Addressed to Women

Question— Nervous? Excitable? Irritable? Exhausted? Backache? Pain?

Has living become a burden?

Do you know what is wrong?

If not, do you want to know what is wrong?

Answer— Such symptoms, as well as many others equally distressing, are commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of a distinctly feminine character.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

is recommended as a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine. For overworked housewives and business women it is a blessing. It induces calm, refreshing sleep, and banishes mental worry and despondency.

This tonic, in liquid form, was devised over 40 years ago for the womanly system, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., and has benefited many thousand women. Now it can also be obtained in tablet form from dealers in medicine, or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box.

Every woman ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves. It is the best doctor to have in the house in case of emergency. Over half a million copies were sold at $1.50 each, but one free copy in cloth covers will be sent on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of wrapping and mailing only.

NO RAISE FOR JUDGE

Maine Senate Upheld Governor's Veto

AUGUSTA, Me., March 20.—By a vote of 13 to 11 the Maine senate yesterday refused to pass a bill over the governor's veto increasing the salary of the judge of the Kennebec superior court from $2500 to $4000. This is the second veto of a measure by the governor.

In explaining his veto, Gov. Haines said that if such action as is proposed by the bill was carried out all along the line it would mean an increase of $250,000 to the state salary roll.

The message outlines the present status of 52 measures of like intent now pending before the legislature and continues:

"Such a situation at this time is unusual, and I do not believe it is possible within the time that the legislature is likely to be in session, unless the session is to be prolonged to an unusual length, that these matters can receive proper consideration. It amounts to a very extensive revision of the salary list of public officers.

"I am willing to admit, as is claimed by many of these officers, that the salary list has not been revised for a number of years and that such a revision is necessary."

The governor feels that a mush letter method, however, would be to pass an order appointing a committee, three from the senate and four from the house, with authority, between now and the next session of the legislature, to examine into the question.

1000 Went on Strike

AUBURN, N. Y., March 20.—One thousand employes of the Columbia Rope Co. after making demands for increased pay and reinstatement of two discharged employes, which are to be answered on Monday, went on strike today. The strikers are Italians and Poles.

WILL SHIELD WOMAN

Le Moyne Promises to Return Money

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 20.—Requisition papers for Francis Le Moyne, who was arrested late Wednesday morning, charged with thefts of funds valued at $15,000 from a Boston brokerage concern, were honored by Gov. Trawmell and the prisoner was turned over to the Massachusetts detectives and left for Boston yesterday afternoon.

Boston detectives here say it has been ascertained that a woman is also mixed up in the affair. When confronted with this information, it is alleged Le Moyne promised, if Massachusetts authorities drop the case, he would recover the money and turn it over to the police; but if any attempt was made to implicate the woman whose name he would not divulge he would seal his lips forever.

On the eve of departure Le Moyne, in reply to an interrogation, replied, "There is one thing I will not do. I will not mention the name of the young woman that the press and police have connected with this little inconvenience.

"It will not be any trouble for me to straighten out things with the bank in Boston, but I won't do anything if this young woman whom I respect is brought into the matter."

Although Le Moyne was closely guarded while incarcerated here he has been permitted to take frequent meals at various fashionable restaurants, accompanied by members of the force, and has been shown every kindness owing to his lavish expenditures and convivial nature.

In Love With Feet

BOSTON, Mar. 20.—"Carl fell in love with the back of my neck and with my feet when they were in velvet slippers," said Miss Gertrude W. Hassler of Carl Fisher, of Indianapolis, from whom she is to receive $50,000 heart balm. "He said no one would be likely to fall in love with my face, but that the back of my neck was beautiful. He used to gaze at my neck as some lovers gaze into the faces of their sweethearts. The night we met I wore velvet slippers. I have worn them ever since at the appropriate time.

Luscious Grapes are more Tasty than Dry Raisins

Dried-out raisins cannot be compared to Nature's luscious Grapes. Tobacco when pressed in Plug form has more flavor, fragrance and smoking quality than when sliced or granulated for convenience sake.

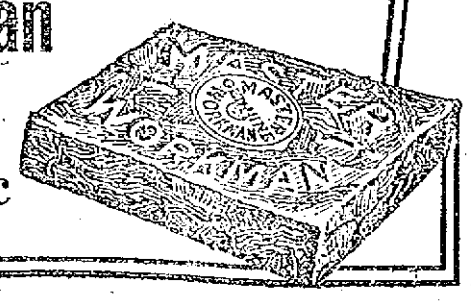

Chopping or granulating ruins the natural tobacco flavor, as it cannot retain its natural moisture, and every bit of evaporated moisture takes with it some of Nature's good tobacco flavor.

The only way to retain all the flavor is to put the whole leaves under pressure, into Plug form, covering it with a natural leaf wrapper: thereby retaining all of its natural flavor and moisture.

Prove this today by buying a plug of Master Workman tobacco. Whittle off a fresh pipe load, and enjoy a slow burning cool smoke of delicious flavor.

Master Workman PLUG TOBACCO

MAN SHOT TO DEATH

Murdered While Talking With Friend

WORCESTER, March 20.—Shot down as he stood talking with a friend, Pasquale Troiano, 30 years old, of 26 Lyon street, died before he could be removed from the police ambulance at the city hospital last night.

The police are seeking Leonardo Renardo, 23 years old, who is charged with cold blooded murder by an eye witness of the shooting.

Matti Larolia, an employe of the city sewer department, and Troiano were standing talking together at the corner of Plum and East Worcester streets at 5.15 when, according to Larolia's story, Renardo, who has been a friend of both men, approached and without a word fired two shots at close range. Following the shooting the assassin ran to the railroad tracks and disappeared.

Both bullets fired took effect and Troiano dropped to the ground. He retained consciousness long enough after the arrival of the police and the ambulance to give his name, and he had some conversation in Italian with friends, but he grew too weak to talk on the way to the hospital and gave no further information to the police. At the hospital Traiano was kept alive in the ambulance a few minutes by the use of Oxygen, but died before he could be moved. One bullet entered the right side of Troiano's chest between the fourth and fifth ribs, passing through $10 bills and six $5 bills [illegible] folded in a concealed shirt pocket, and penetrating both lungs. The other bullet entered the right arm just below the shoulder. Death was caused by an internal hemorrhage from the punctured lungs, according to Medical Examiner Frederick H. Baker, who made superficial examination of the wound and permitted the removal of the body to the morgue. An autopsy will be performed today.

A description of Renardo was sent to the Framingham and the [illegible] police and those of towns surrounding Worcester were notified. Renardo is described as follows: About 5 feet tall, 120 pounds, medium dark complexion, slight black mustache, dressed in dark clothing and a long gray overcoat and gray cap.

Troiano was employed by the J. W. Bishop company, contractors.

A general alarm to the police throughout the city was given and a large detail of officers was assigned to the case, but up to a late hour they had been unable to learn much about Renardo except that it is said he had a brother here who recently went back to Italy. No motive for the crime could be learned, as neither Larolia nor any other friends of the two men recall that there was any bad blood between them.

AUTOS CRASH AT NAHANT

Charlestown Woman is Badly Injured

BOSTON, Mar. 20.—Mrs. W. J. Cummings of 49 High street, Charlestown, is in a critical condition at the Lynn hospital as a result of a crash between two automobiles on the State boulevard between Nahant and Lynn last night, in which five persons narrowly escaped death.

The other occupants of the cars were Mr. Cummings, proprietor of a Charlestown garage, H. Nelson Slater, a Claverly Hall, Richard S. Emmett, of [illegible] for a few days Randolph Hall, both of Harvard, and Mrs. Paul Whiting, their companion. With the exception of Mrs. Cummings, all escaped injury, though both cars were wrecked and one of the machines in running wild splintered a wooden fence for more than 100 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings in a five-seated touring car were returning from Nahant when a front tire blew out, causing the machine to run wild. Going toward Nahant from Lynn was the Slater car, an imported racer of high power.

The Cummings machine crashed into the oncoming racer, head on. Rebounding, it shot across the road and struck the fence, throwing Mrs. Cummings from the seat to the road. Tearing off a great strip of fence, the machine cleared itself for an instance, only to drive into the fence again 50 yards further along. This time Mr. Cummings was thrown from the car and it drove part way down a steep [illegible].

The other car, containing the two young men and Mrs. Whiting, in the meantime had left the road on the other side and crashed into the fence there, coming to a stop. This machine was not going at high speed, which probably saved its passengers' lives. [illegible] none of them was thrown out. [illegible] one wheel was torn off and the [illegible] of the car badly damaged.

[illegible] Lawrence Curtis of Nahant, in [illegible] car had just passed the Slater [illegible] when he heard the crash. He [illegible] at the sound, and as he did [illegible] a tire on his machine blew out, damaging his car.

Mrs. Cummings was taken to the [illegible] where she was found to have a broken arm, possible fractures to the ribs and internal injuries. She was unconscious at an early hour this morning.

For instance, we can now sell a genuine shell strop for 75c, that is superior to what we formerly sold for $1.00. Our line of strops is varied and complete, ranging in prices from 25c to $2.50. THE BILLERICA MEETING

Political Axes Are Being Whetted for Saturday

The Billerica town meeting will be held on Saturday with precincts open at both the North village and the Centre during the day and the articles of the warrant will be discussed at 7.30 in the evening. The polls will be open at 6.30 and will close at 4 p. m.

Owing to several movements that have been made during the past week it is expected that some lively discussions will take place, both at the polls and at the meeting in the evening. The fight for selectmen seems to grow more interesting as the time comes near, while the contest for road surveyor will probably be the most interesting one this year. There will also be several contests for the minor offices as there are four candidates for overseers of the poor, four for town auditors and only three can be elected to each board. Two candidates are in the field for a position on the water board while the position of tree warden is sought for by three townsmen. This last office is considered one of the best in the town, as the state usually appoints the holder of this office moth inspector.

Among the articles to come before the voters is one asking for better street lighting. At present the town is on what is known as a "moonlight schedule" and it has proved very unsatisfactory to the voters, as on a stormy evening there is no street light in the town. Another interesting article is to see if the town will appoint a committee to meet the officials of the Lowell Gas Light company and see if their pipes cannot be extended to Billerica. The offer of Mrs. Lillian V. Kohlrausch of a six acre lot to be known as "The Charles Kohlrausch, Jr. Playground" is one that will make a great improvement to the town as there is no public place for the children to play in this part of the town. There will be many other articles to come before the meeting.

Lecture on Hunting

A highly enjoyable stereopticon-illustrated lecture on fishing and hunting in Newfoundland was given last night before the members of the Highland club in their club house by Chas. Everett Beane, the well known lecturer and huntsman.

There were present a large gathering of the members of the club and their friends and all were high in their praise of the talk of Mr. Beane, who surely made their evening the most delightful they have experienced in some time. The lecturer spent considerable time in the country with which his stories deal and is very well prepared to give authentic tales of the land and of its resources.

Mr. Beane is a true exponent of life in the open and his adventure and discoveries in Newfoundland as listened to by the audience were very vivid. The evening was a most enjoyable one for all.

LOCAL ARMENIANS

May Build a New Church For Their Own Use—Meeting to Consider Matter

It is possible that the Armenian people of this city may decide to build a church, for on next Sunday evening in Odd Fellows hall, they will hold a mass meeting to discuss the project and learn the attitude of all concerning it. An attempt will be made to form a permanent society here of the Armenian National church. Among the speakers will be Rev. Arsen Vehouny of Worcester and G. H. Caragulian of Boston. Lowell has at present about 500 Armenians comprising more than fifty families. The project of building a house of worship has been the topic of much discussion among these people.

COMMISSIONERS RESIGN

well adapted to the needs of the city as the original site. And, when, to this conviction is added the knowledge that the city already owns this land, whereas a number of thousands of dollars must be spent to secure any of the others; that it is closely adjacent to a large trunk sewer, (a very important consideration in locating a detention hospital, and an item which would cost thousands of dollars more if some of the sites under consideration were selected); and then the convenience of access to the board of health employees, who must control the institution when completed, there is all the more reason for abiding by this decision.

Against the location no valid reason has been offered which does not apply, with equal force, to any other site that has been seriously considered. Sentimental objections should not be allowed to block this much needed work any longer, and we can see no reason to believe that we can hasten the completion of the project by continuing to look over further sites that may be offered.

The mere purchase of a piece of land for the purpose is but a very small part of the necessary work or placing the city of Lowell in a position where it can meet its legal and moral obligations in this matter.

We have tried, faithfully, to study this matter in its broader aspects—the need of the kind of a population which Lowell contains, the character of buildings needed to answer the needs of our own health department and to meet the requirements of the state authorities, the financial conditions, etc., and we firmly believe that if this commission had been allowed to proceed along the lines of their original instructions the city would now be occupying a proper hospital giving adequate care to her contagious sick ones, and complying with the state laws.

We were created a commission in December, 1910, and instructed to prepare plans for the erection of an hospital on land of the Chelmsford street hospital, etc. The site was visited and selected the very next day after our appointment; it was approved by both branches of the city council, unanimously, within a few days.

We then visited other cities, learned their methods, modified them to our needs, prepared plans as we were instructed, and were ready for the completion of the project, when the objections of a few people of the neighborhood were allowed by the city council to block all that had been done.

We were delayed for a year or more in this way and were then requested to consider other sites.

After the most careful consideration of these, and the whole question involved, we cannot, as conscientious men and as taxpayers ourselves, recommend that the city of Lowell, already burdened with debt, shall resort to further needless expenditure for land and sewers, when there is no call for the same.

The commission has been the subject of more or less unjust and unmerited criticisms, because of difference of opinions among its members.

We have not taken the pains to answer all of these criticisms because we have had our own duties to attend to. We would summarize our answers to them all by respectfully calling the attention of your board, if you are interested, to our records which will show plainly to you, and to the people of Lowell, that no stand has been taken, or move made, without a vote of at least four of the five members of the commission in its favor.

So we repeat once more, that the only reason we can find for any change in our recommendations would be for the purpose of entering a useless purchase of land and while this seems to be the determination of your body, we do not care to be parties to such a move.

We, therefore, respectfully tender to you our resignations in the hope that you will be thus enabled to hasten the completion of the hospital.

We would like to call your attention to the further facts that while we were voted $1000 by the city council to do the work of preparation we have spent just $48 of this sum.

It would have been a pleasure to have given to the city of Lowell the valuable time we have taken from our own business, could we have been allowed to show adequate work accomplished in return.

The task of settling the numerous scientific questions involved,—which we were supposed by the body which created our commission to be able to meet, ceases to be a pleasant one when each succeeding city council has seen fit to reverse our findings without giving the slightest consideration to our opinions in the matter.

We would gladly give our time further to the city could we be allowed the needed authority to accomplish something.

But to be held responsible for results which we are to be allowed no voice in shaping is an anomalous position we do not care to occupy.

Respectfully submitted,
G. Forrest Martin,
John W. Robinson,
Joseph E. Lamoureux.

The fourth member of the commission is Dr. James J. McCarty, and he has not as yet tendered his resignation.

ANNOUNCEMENT
EXTRAORDINARY IMPORTANCE IN THE MANUFACTURING REALM

The plant of the Atlantic Cotton Mills pledged to the highest bona fide bidder at absolute auction sale. One of the best located permanent water powers (1500-2750 horse-power—16 hours daily at insignificant cost forever) under absolute control in the world. The real estate and water power combined is not only a rare but a most exceptional manufacturing opportunity. This is particularly true where unlimited water and much water power are required twenty-four hours in the day. Located about midway in the widely famous Merrimack Valley, on one of the best developed streams, in one of the fastest growing cities, in one of the greatest manufacturing centers of the world. It is a question if within the limits of any equal area on earth there is a greater diversity of manufactures or skilled labor, or a more permanent water power. Should the purchaser care only for the real estate and water power, the machinery and mechanical equipment, we are advised, could undoubtedly be very successfully sold in lots at public sale within sixty days for a sum at least approaching $200,000. An illustrated and descriptive catalogue in detail upon application at the office of the auctioneers where all inquiries must be made. The sale will take place upon the premises, Canal Street (North Canal), Lawrence, Massachusetts, on Monday, the 31st day of March, 1913, commencing promptly at two o'clock in the afternoon regardless of any condition of the weather.

ELECTION OF FIRE CHIEF

Alderman Barrett Thinks Discussion Premature

INASMUCH AS NO VACANCY YET EXISTS

Candidates, However, Are Very Busy—Mayor O'Donnell Only One to Name His Man

Mayor O'Donnell went on record yesterday as saying that he would vote for District Chief Saunders for chief engineer of the fire department to succeed the present chief, Edward S. Hosmer, who will be placed, by his own request, on the retired pension list, May 1. Other members of the council were inclined to "cover up" and side stepped with the statement that there is no vacancy as yet. Mr. Brown said that the election of a fire chief was but of little concern to him inasmuch as it did not affect his department and he allowed it was immaterial whom he would vote for. He said that the friend of one candidate had been to see him but he couldn't quite recall the name of the candidate. He was sure, however, that it was neither of the two present district chiefs, Messrs. Saunders nor Sullivan.

Commissioner Barrett's Reply

Commissioner Barrett, when asked who he would vote for, said:

"As commissioner in charge of the fire department, of course, I am directly concerned in the contemplated change in the office of chief engineer and because I realize the great importance of the place and the relation it bears to the public safety of our city I am extremely anxious when the change occurs it shall be of such a character as will merit the approval of all our citizens.

"The office of chief engineer is in my judgment one of the most important which the city council is called upon to elect. If an accident occurs in the water department, for instance, it is generally possible to shut off gates here and there and confine the trouble to the particular location in which it happens, and then take whatever measures may be necessary to remedy the trouble.

"The same conditions may be said to apply to almost every other head of department with the single exception of the fire chief. When the bell rings and the department is summoned immediate action is necessary and on the good judgment, capacity and executive ability depends in large measure the safety of the property and the lives of our citizens.

"More than $60,000,000 of property comes under the protection of the fire department and that alone indicates the responsibility of the chief engineer and warrants the greatest care and good judgment on the part of the council in selecting a chief when the proper time arrives.

"As yet all talk of selecting a successor to Chief Hosmer is somewhat premature, because at the present time no vacancy exists. Chief Hosmer has written a letter to me asking for retirement with pension to take effect May the 1st. And, in view of his efficient and life-long service to the citizens of Lowell, any such request ought and will receive the most careful consideration. Whatever decision is arrived at as regards Mr. Hosmer's request the city of Lowell, at least, will have him in control of affairs until May 1st, and in view of his unselfish and willing service in the past I am justified in believing that the city could have the benefit of his services until such time as his successor should be chosen."

STRIKE IN FALL RIVER

Police Were on Duty at Mills Today

FALL RIVER, March 20.—The officials of the American Print Works fearing that some of the help on strike might try to intimidate employes on their way to work this morning, sought assistance from the police and a squad of patrolmen were sent to the scene from the central district. There was no violence of any kind, however, and the strikers, about 300 of them, dispersed when the police arrived. The back tenders and spare hands are out on strike, seeking an increase of $1 a week. They have been out since Monday and the plant is badly crippled. The police or mill officials do not anticipate any trouble, at least at present.

MRS. EATON ARRESTED

ALBINI J. MELANCON DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Well Known Tailor Planned to Go to Montreal Tonight—Had Sold His Place of Business

Instead of going to Montreal, Que., to start in business as he had planned, Albini J. Melancon, the well known Central street tailor, will be taken to St. Barnabe, Que., tomorrow night for burial, for he died suddenly this morning at his home, 534 Merrimack street, the cause of death being acute indigestion.

Mr. Melancon, who conducted a tailoring establishment in Central street for the past 18 years, decided to leave Lowell a few days ago and start a new business in Montreal, Que. He sold his shop to his brother, Alfred Melancon of this city, and Tuesday shipped all his furniture to the Canadian metropolis and had planned to leave Lowell this evening with his family. Yesterday, however, he did not feel well, but his condition did not seem alarming. In the evening he grew worse and Dr. Rochette was sent for. The latter immediately called Dr. Mignault and the two physicians who remained at the sick man's bedside all night entertained very little hope for his recovery, and Mr. Melancon passed away at 6.30 o'clock this morning.

The body now lies at the home of a neighbor, Mr. Alfred Guilmette, 534 Merrimack street.

Albini J. Melancon was born at St. Barnabe, Que., 42 years and 11 months ago. He received his education in his native town and later learned the tailor's trade. He came to Lowell 25 years ago and entered the employ of the late J. L. Chalifoux, where for several years he had charge of the tailoring department. Later he opened a business in New Bedford and 18 years ago he returned to Lowell and opened a tailor's establishment at 121 Central street, which he conducted very successfully up to a few days ago, when he sold out to his brother with the intention of going to Montreal.

His new place of business in the Canadian city was all fitted up and deceased had advertised considerably for the opening of his shop, which was to take place next Monday. He was to have left with his family on the 2.10 o'clock train this evening.

Deceased was well known throughout the city, where he counted a host of friends who will learn with grief the news of his demise. He was a prominent member of the C. M. A. C. and of Rochambeau council, R. A. He is survived by a wife and three children, Jeannette, Luelenne and Victor; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Melancon of St. Barnabe, Que., three brothers, Leger of New Bedford, Arsene of St. Barnabe and Alfred of this city. The family has the sympathy of a large number of friends in their sad hour of bereavement.

WIDOW OF REAR ADMIRAL EATON IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Arraigned in Court and Pleaded Not Guilty—Now a Prisoner at Plymouth County Jail

HINGHAM, March 20.—Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton, U. S. N., retired, died of poisoning and his widow is charged with murder.

Mrs. Eaton was taken into custody at her home in Norwell this morning and brought to this place for arraignment before Judge Pratt, who has conducted the inquest into the admiral's sudden demise. When she came here, accompanied by officers, it was supposed that she would be a witness when the inquiry was resumed and the fact that she was a prisoner was not made known until the announcement was made a little before noon by District Attorney Barker.

Poison Found in Stomach

In a formal statement the district attorney stated that Prof. Whitney of Harvard medical school, who had made a chemical analysis of the contents of the admiral's stomach, following the autopsy, had reported the discovery of poison leading to the conclusion that the admiral had not died a natural death.

The arrest of Mrs. Eaton is the outcome of an investigation by the police into not only the circumstances of his death but regarding the family life of the Eatons.

Buried at Dracut

Admiral Eaton died suddenly on the morning of March 8. He was 55 years of age but according to his friends had been in good health. Two days later the body was buried at Dracut, his former home. There was no service at the grave and besides the undertakers and newspapermen only the widow and her daughter by an earlier marriage, witnessed the interment. There were no military honors.

The rear admiral had seen 39 years service in the navy. He commanded the transport Resolute at Santiago and received a medal of honor for his share in that battle. He was born at Greenville, Alabama, and was twice married.

The present Mrs. Eaton was the admiral's second wife and was formerly the wife of D. H. Ainsworth, once a clerk in the United States senate and later engaged in business in Boston. Her father was George Harrison and the family home was at Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Eaton is 40 years of age.

Married Life Unhappy

The investigation developed that her married life had not been altogether happy and her explanation that he had died from an attack of indigestion did not satisfy the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy.

Mrs. Eaton has two daughters, Mrs. June A. Keyes, who now lives with her husband in Boston but who formerly was a member of the Eaton family, and Dorothy Ainsworth, a member of the household at the time of the admiral's death.

Mrs. Eaton Arrested

HINGHAM, March 20.—Mrs. Eaton, wife of Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton, who died suddenly recently, was today arrested, charged with the murder of her husband.

As soon as the arrest was announced District Attorney Barker issued the following statement:

"Mrs. Eaton is under arrest charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton. Admiral Eaton did not die a natural death. Death was due to arsenical poisoning. Peculiar features which are involved have prevented the authorities from communicating them to the public.

"This fact was communicated to me on March 8 by Prof. Whitney in a preliminary verbal report, and has been known to the officials working on the case since that time. Certain features which are involved have been presented to the authorities and will be communicated to the public. We have been unable thus far to ascertain where the poison was procured. Mrs. Eaton was taken at her home at Assinippi this morning by Deputy Sheriff Condon."

Mrs. Eaton was taken to the courthouse here, where the inquest was to be resumed, but the fact that she was under arrest was not made known until shortly before noon today when Dist. Atty. Barker made the announcement and accompanied it with a formal statement.

Pleaded Not Guilty

The widow was taken soon afterward before Judge Pratt, who had presided at the inquest and formally arraigned. She was attended by her counsel, Francis J. Geogan.

Mrs. Eaton pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Pratt and was held without bonds for a hearing March 28. Immediately after the court formalities she was taken to the county jail at Plymouth.

CHAS. RILEY ELECTED INSPECTOR OF SMOKE

Former Councilman Succeeds J. F. Hollowood—Proposition to Borrow $15,000 for Streets

The proposition to borrow $15,000 for graveling streets was taken up at a meeting of the municipal council this forenoon and was assigned for hearing, April 1. Alderman Brown was opposed to the measure and said that money ought not to be borrowed for running expenses. He said the graveling of streets was not a permanent improvement. He called for a yea and nay vote and was the only member of the council to vote against the assignment of a date to consider the matter.

The council elected ex-Councilman Charles Riley smoke inspector, to succeed John F. Hollowood, resigned, and drew jurors for service at the civil and criminal session of the superior court in this city and in Cambridge, March 31.

Drawing of Jurors

The following jurors were drawn by Alderman Cummings to serve at the civil session of the superior court, in Lowell, March 31:

Harry P. Farley, 542 Chelmsford street, bottler.

Harry C. Mulno, 1037 Lawrence street, assistant superintendant.

Freeman S. Hersey, 137 Forest street, machinist.

John J. Carrig, 39 Third street, stage manager.

James H. Boyle, 110 Congress street, conductor.

Fred H. Dow, 56 Cornell street, foreman.

William J. Barris, 63 Jenness street, mill overseer.

Edgar H. Barker, 9 Mt. Hope street, instructor.

Dennis J. Meagher, 11 Fay street, foreman.

Peter W. Reilly, 137 Hovey street, printer.

Peter J. Brady, 247 Gorham street, merchant.

Frank P. Wolcott, 199 Mammoth road, master mechanic.

Joseph Grendreau, 42 Denton street, shoe worker.

Charles B. Rogers, 193 Cumberland road, clerk.

The following jurors to serve at the criminal session of the superior court at Cambridge, March 24, were drawn by Alderman Barrett:

Fred S. Osterhout, 28 Bellevue street, retired.

Fred W. Noyes, 68 Lane street, railroad clerk.

William A. Hayes, 10 Waterford street, conductor.

William J. Croft, Jr., 380 Woburn street.

Thomas Matte, 23 Endicott street, clerk.

George W. Ingalls, 331 Boylston street, bookkeeper.

Henry Carpentier, 67 West Meadow road, shoe cutter.

Smoke Inspector Elected

On motion of Mayor O'Donnell the council proceeded to ballot for smoke inspector to succeed John F. Hollowood, resigned, and Charles Riley, former councilman and assistant assessor, was elected on the first ballot, receiving the votes of Aldermen Brown, Cummings and Donnelly. The mayor and Alderman Barrett voted for William J. Crowley.

Another Engineer Wanted

Mayor O'Donnell notified the council that he would be obliged to put another engineer at the Chelmsford street hospital because of a demand made upon him by the state police. There are three engineers at the hospital now and the mayor has been ordered, under penalty of prosecution, to refrain from employing men more than 48 hours a week and in order to make it an 8 hour day, all around, it will be necessary to engage another engineer.

THE TENEBRAE SERVICES

Held Last Night in the Catholic Churches

The tenebrae services were held in many of the Catholic churches last evening and were largely attended. It is to remind us that the Redeemer was taken prisoner in the darkness, and that throughout the whole night He endured countless sufferings and ignomies. At the same time the church endeavors, by this office, to give expression to the deep grief which she feels in contemplating the sufferings of her Spouse for the silence and darkness of night have ever been regarded as a time of sadness and mourning.

The solemn chant was unaccompanied by the organ, and the Lamentations of Jeremias were sung, in which the prophet bewails the destruction of Jerusalem and the captivity of the Jews, but still more their forgetfulness of God, for which they deserved this terrible punishment. The successive extinction of the candles at this service reminds us of how the prophets, who had one after the other given testimony to Christ, were not heard by the people, but were persecuted, and sometimes put to death, until finally, in the rejection of Christ Himself, the Light of the world, his ungrateful people were totally deprived of the light of faith. The last candle, the one at the point of the triangle, represented Jesus Christ Himself.

SALISBURY BEACH CASE

Validity of Recent Act to Be Passed Upon by Supreme Court on Next Monday

Arguments will be made before the full bench of the supreme court next Monday by Attorney Walter Coulson of this city, representing the Salisbury Beach association in their fight to retain title to land at the beach.

Attorney Essex S. Abbot, representing the state reservation commission, appointed by Gov. Foss, will not be able to argue on Monday, and he has been granted an extension of time until April 1 in which to submit a brief.

An agreed statement of facts has been submitted to the full bench, the associates contending that the act creating the state reservation is unconstitutional, as by it the state is, through its commissioners, virtually engaging in the real estate business. The commission on the other hand claims title to the property by right of eminent domain for the purpose of establishing a reservation. The associates claim title through purchase from E. P. Shaw and the Salisbury commoners, who originally held title.

$6,000,000 Bond Issue

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 20.—That the Southern New England railroad cannot be completed unless the state becomes second guarantees of the road's $6,000,000 bond issue was the statement made by Vice President John S. Murdock at a legislative hearing this afternoon on a bill to put this plan before the people at a special election. Vice President Murdock said that the case has in a measure prejudged and asked the committee to give it careful consideration.

SPLENDID PHOTOS

Of Massachusetts Delegation at Inauguration Received in This City By Lowell Men

Humphrey O'Sullivan, Hon. James B. Casey, Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connor and John V. Donoghue have just received splendid photographs of the entire Massachusetts party at the inauguration of President Wilson, taken on the White House grounds with the members of the governor's staff, the officers of the light regiment, and the officers of the second corps of cadets. The photographs measure over four feet long and are 8 inches deep, and are surely extraordinary works of art and make a fine souvenir for the Lowell men fortunate enough to be present at the inauguration in the official party.

Case of Evelyn Arthur See

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 20.—Judge Cartwright of the Illinois supreme court today granted a stay in the case of Evelyn Arthur See until the supreme court has passed on his petition for a re-hearing. See was convicted in Chicago of the abduction of Mildred Bridges, a devotee of his "absolute life" cult and was sentenced to imprisonment to the penitentiary at Joliet.

Rev. J. N. Jacques, pastor of St. Louis' church, returned this morning from a trip to Canada, where he spent several weeks in the interest of his health. The reverend gentleman was accompanied by his niece, Miss Jacques and the trip he says has greatly improved his health.

HOSPITAL COMMISSIONERS RESIGN

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. Jos. E. Lamoureux and J. W. Robinson Give Up Places

Dr. G. Forrest Martin, Dr. Joseph E. Lamoureux and John W. Robinson have resigned as members of the Contagious hospital commission. In the resignation, signed by these three gentlemen and received at city hall this forenoon, it is stated that the task of settling the numerous scientific questions involved has ceased to be a pleasant one because of the fact that each succeeding city council has seen fit to reverse the findings of the commissioners. The retiring members declare that they would gladly give more time to the city if there was a possibility of accomplishing anything. The resignation hits right out from the shoulder. It reads as follows:

To the Municipal Council of the City of Lowell:

Gentlemen—The undersigned members of the contagious hospital commission decide to submit to you for consideration, the following facts:

Some months ago, after carefully considering the merits of various sites, we sent a communication to your board recommending the original site selected, on Chelmsford street, as superior to any of the others. We are just recently informed by the city clerk that you have voted to reject this site and would like another selection.

We beg to inform you that we have already given the most careful consideration and have spent much time in looking over all sites offered to us, that were in any way available, and we again feel it our duty to report that we find none offered that is as

JERRY WAS KICKED OUT

And Newell Putnam is Glad of it

HORSE THAT KILLED TWO MEN AND INJURED OTHERS

Plunged From Landing in New Hampshire Lumber Woods and Was Killed

Jerry, one of the worst horses that ever came to Lowell, has passed on to the carriageless shore. Jerry was one bad actor and if you will ask the present superintendent of streets, Newell F. Putnam, what's the matter with his ear, he will tell you all about Jerry, for it was Jerry that put dents in Mr. Putnam's organ of hearing.

Just where Jerry was born is more or less a matter of conjecture, but, as far as behavior was concerned, he was of little credit to the land of his birth. When purchased by the city of Lowell it was believed that he was a Kentuckian and if this was a fact his disposition belied him.

Jerry was a handsome bay and a nettlesome roadster—when he felt like it. He had all kinds of faults and he killed at least two men during his short stay in this strange world of ours. He was a "bolter," and that was probably his very worst fault.

Charlie Morse, the ex-superintendent of streets was the only man who ever had any real love for Jerry, and Charlie said he loved him because he was so "cussed ugly." Newell F. Putnam never had any use for Jerry and the feeling seemed to have been pretty thoroughly reciprocated. Jerry tried several times to pass the funeral notice to Mr. Putnam and, one day in Varnum avenue, he came within an ace of succeeding. There was a steam roller doing business in the avenue and Jerry, playing his hand for all it was worth, pretended not to notice the roller until he got directly opposite it and then he bolted and plunged throwing Mr. Putnam from his seat. It was feared by those who had witnessed the trouble that Mr. Putnam was a goner. He was badly bruised about the head, face and body and his right ear was badly damaged. He was removed from the scene of the accident to the hospital where he remained for several weeks.

Just because he couldn't behave himself in a light hitch Jerry was assigned to dump cart work, but it didn't take him long to bolt and kick himself out of a job. Then he remained in the street department stable for several weeks and the man who volunteered to exercise him was considered as brave as the men who went to war.

Jerry had been in the possession of the street department for some little time before his past history became known and the man who had occasion to use him was just a little bit alarmed to learn that he had killed a man in Manchester, N. H., before coming to Lowell.

Well, to make a long story short, Jerry was sold at auction in this city and brought less than one-quarter the amount paid for him. The man who bought him lived somewhere around Boston and about three months ago it was learned that Jerry had killed another man and that a few weeks later he assisted in bringing about his own demise. The scene of Jerry's death was laid in the lumber regions of old New Hampshire. He was sold in Boston to a lumber concern and was sent to New Hampshire to work in the woods. Just how long Jerry served in the capacity of "bushwhacker" is not known, but the story has it that one day, while pulling logs to a landing, Jerry became obstreperous and in the height of his tantrum he went over the landing and into the brook. The landing was about 30 feet in height and so sudden was Jerry's death that he probably never knew what happened to him.

Supt. Putnam admits that he was more afraid of Jerry than of the street commissioner who threatened to fire him on several occasions.

DEATHS

DERY—Jeannette, aged two months and 18 days, died today at the home of her parents, Victor and Helena Dery, 467 Moody street.

Popular Minister Dead

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 20.—The Rev. Charles S. Lester, for more than 20 years rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, died suddenly on shipboard while returning from a cruise to the Panama canal, according to word received here today.

OLIVER STREET FAMILY

Four Members Are Seriously Ill

Four members of a family living in Oliver street were suddenly taken ill yesterday, and the family physician was summoned. He at first thought he had a case of poisoning to deal with, but after an examination it was found that the four people were suffering with diarrhoea, and inasmuch as new water pipes had recently been installed it was thought that the drinking water was the cause of it all, and consequently the board of health was notified. An investigation, however, disclosed the fact that the pipes are in good condition, and that the illness must have been caused by either the food or the temperature. All are now on the road to recovery.

Contagious Hospital Commission

Now that Dr. Martin, Dr. Lamoureux and Mr. Robinson have resigned from the contagious hospital commission, Dr. McCarty the "unresigned" member has the field to himself and it might be said that while the other three members have resigned the opposing faction still remains, for Dr. McCarty, as a rule, played a lone hand in the discussion of hospital sites, etc.

The mayor, of course, is still a member, ex-officio, of the commission and now it is up to His Honor and Dr. McCarty to row or get out of the boat. It is barely possible that they will advertise for new members; men long on hospital knowledge and short on land for sale, for Dr. McCarty plants his No. 6 down with great energy when anybody suggests the purchase of land for a contagious hospital.

Not Officer Cullinan

Through an error, Officer Cullinan of Dracut was reported as having been a witness in an assault and battery trial in police court yesterday. It was Officer Cullen of Lowell who testified.

THIS IS HOLY THURSDAY

Services Held in All the Catholic Churches

This is Holy Thursday and this morning services were held in all the local Catholic churches. The Roman Missal and Breviary call this day "Feria quinta in cœna Domini" that is, Thursday of the Lord's supper, being the day when our Lord at His last supper on the eve of His passion instituted the sacrament of the Holy Eucharist and the holy sacrifice of the Mass. It is also popularly called Maundy Thursday from the ceremony of washing the feet, a mandatum or command given by the Savior to His Apostles.

The church even in the midst of her grief utters an Maundy Thursday some joy or gratitude for the mighty favor conferred upon her children in the divine institution of the Blessed Sacrament. On entering the church the symptoms of joy are at once seen. Enough her ornaments are veiled, they are covered with white and the altar is somewhat ornamented. However only one mass is said in a church on this day. Even where there are more than one priest, only one of them celebrates mass, and the others receive at his hands holy communion, but only under the species of bread, as do the rest of the faithful. The reason of this is because on this day Christ alone offered the august sacrifice and then gave holy communion to His apostles.

The blessing of the holy oils likewise takes place on this day. At the cathedral churches the bishop alone celebrates mass in the course of which the oil for baptism, the oil of unction for the sick, as well as the holy chrism for confirmation are blessed by the bishop.

Good Friday

On Good Friday, no mass is said; therefore two hosts are consecrated at the mass of Thursday, one of which is reserved for the service on the following day. After mass this consecrated host is placed in a veiled chalice and carried in solemn procession to a side altar adorned with lights and ornaments where it is kept till the next day. The Blessed Sacrament is removed from the principal altar, where the pomp and splendor of the solemn worship would interfere with the office of the tenebrae, and an opportunity is thus given to the faithful of returning thanks for this inestimable boon. In cities where there are many churches it is customary to visit several or all of them, for the purpose of adoring the Blessed Sacrament.

The repositories as they are called, where the Blessed Sacrament lies in state until tomorrow, are of magnificent beauty in all the local churches. They consist of altars elaborately decorated with potted plants and flowers, and numerous incandescent lights and lighted candles, and the scene is most beautiful.

The procession at the close of the mass this morning was most impressive. The altar boys preceded and were closely followed by the members of the clergy, and the officiating clergyman who carried the Blessed Sacrament. The churches will remain open till a late hour this evening in order to give the working people an opportunity to make their visits to at least three of the repositories.

Tomorrow, Good Friday, services will be held in all the churches at 8 o'clock, Low to be followed by the veneration of the cross. In the afternoon stations of the cross devotions will be held and in the evening a sermon on the "Passion of Our Lord" will be given.

On Saturday morning the holy water will be blessed.

1000 Ladies' Tailors Quit Work in Boston

BOSTON, March 20.—Nearly a thousand ladies tailors and custom dressmakers went on strike today at more than 60 shops in this city. The strike had a direct effect upon the finishing of Easter gowns at several Back Bay tailors. The workers upon leaving the shops at the hour agreed upon last night when the strike order was issued marched to the headquarters of the Boston ladies' tailors and dressmakers' union, where meetings were held.

The strikers demand an increase in wages, a work week of 48 hours and better sanitary conditions.

Christmas Savings Club

In the Christmas Savings club campaign this week, at the Traders National bank, Lowell distances competitors Monday in the five other New England cities starting similar clubs on the same day. Lowell is really increasing its lead. Total enrollment in Lowell to date is close to 5000. More than the feeling of civic pride that our city should so outstrip other prosperous cities is the satisfaction that comes because such a large number of our people, all ages and pursuits in life, so promptly and enthusiastically enlisted, in this very practical movement that has proven of such great and lasting benefit to individuals and communities elsewhere. It has been declared that so thoroughly has this plan been tried out and modified that no objectionable features exist in its make-up.

Arrangements have been made so that accounts in the club can be opened by mail or messenger.

Tariff Revision Plan

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The tariff revision plan adopted by the house committee on ways and means has been carefully analyzed by a corps of statistical and customs experts temporarily quartered in the committee offices. Rep. Bull of Tennessee, who will frame the income tax feature bill and Rep. Peters of Massachusetts have been conferring over the administrative features for report to the full committee. The committee plan is to retain most of the administrative sections of the present tariff law and the income tax has yet to be formally voted upon, hinging upon the analysis of probable returns from the 14 schedules of dutiable articles.

Whether the appropriations committee will be named at the outset of the session depends largely upon a coming conference between Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee. Democratic leaders point out that with the overwhelming democratic majority it would be easy to suspend rules and act on the failed sundry civil and Indian appropriation bill.

Pottery Girls' Strike

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 20.—Miss Jenny Bixby, leader of the 600 pottery girls who struck yesterday for an advance in wages and tied up some of the most important potteries in the district, announced today that 100 wrappers, all girls, would strike tonight unless they were granted an increase from $1.10 a day to $1.50.

A HEAD-ON COLLISION

Two Injured as Car Hits Automobile

BROCKTON, Mar. 20.—As a result of a head-on collision of a heavy motor truck and a street car at the corner of Lawrence and Main streets at about 8 o'clock last night, Mrs. Fred E. Burt is in a dangerous condition at the Brockton hospital. Her skull is fractured. Her husband, who was driving the truck, is at his home, 23 Winthrop street, suffering with a broken collar bone and minor bruises.

The truck, owned by E. O. Bonney, a box manufacturer, was demolished. The car was not damaged nor were any of the twenty-five passengers injured.

Mrs. Burt, who was riding with her husband, was the only one injured seriously. She is not expected to survive.

The accident is being investigated by the police, who are trying to place the blame for the catastrophe. No one was taken into custody last night.

MUSKRAT HUNTING

Dangerous Shooting Being Done Near Beaver Brook—The Drecut Police Are Looking For Offenders

The Dracut police were notified that sharp shooting is going on in the vicinity of Beaver brook around Lakeview and Parker avenues, where certain men who are out after muskrats occasionally do a little shooting along that stream of water, which is very dangerous for others who are in that vicinity.

The muskrats in that brook it is said are very numerous, and the huntsmen trail them at night. The result is that some stray shots reach the street and only a few days ago a couple of men had a very narrow escape from being struck by some of those shots. The police will keep a keen eye for those sharp shooters.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE

RECEIPTS DID NOT QUITE REACH $500

Home Rule Certificates May Be Secured at Carter & Sherburne's Drug Store

The committee in charge of the United Irish league meeting of Sunday night met last evening and canvassed the receipts and expenses with the result that the net receipts were about $60 short of the $500 which the committee set out to make. This of course assumes that all the amounts promised are received. The treasurer, Mr. Bryan McFadden, 82 Agawam street, awaits the few outstanding checks after which the total will be sent to the national treasurer.

The committee, therefore, invites anybody in sympathy with the home rule movement who has not yet contributed to purchase one of the home rule certificates which may be had at Carter & Sherburne's drug store in the car station at Merrimack square. These certificates are artistically engraved and will serve as souvenirs of the movement.

From the report published Monday, the contribution of $10 by Rev. C. J. Galligan of St. Margaret's church was inadvertently omitted while a few others of equal amount were omitted at the request of the donors.

Those who sent their contributions by mail will receive an acknowledgment by mail with a home rule souvenir certificate to each person.

The officers of the league are well pleased with the result of the meeting which was a great success both in point of attendance and receipts.

The committee in charge of the arrangements acted in cooperation with Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan to make the meeting a success. The committee was as follows: John Balfrey, president; James J. Coleman, secretary; Bryan McFadden, treasurer; Edward J. Gallagher, Joseph P. Quinn, Daniel C. Quinn, John Kenney, Thomas Irwin, Thomas Coleman, Dennis Brassill, Thomas M. McFadden.

The committee was especially pleased at the presence on the platform of Monsignor O'Brien, Rev. Dr. Keleher, Rev. Fr. Galligan, Judge Enright, Editor Kenny of the Boston Globe and other friends of the movement including Messrs. P. Gilbride, Patrick O'Hearn, D. J. Donahue, Esq., Mr. James O'Sullivan, Alderman Cummings, Hon. James B. Casey, Charles Callahan and others. Hon. P. J. O'Keeffe of Chicago, the lecturer of the evening, left Lowell for New York on the 9.55 train, accompanied by Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan. Mr. O'Keeffe sailed for Ireland on Wednesday.

PLANNING A RECEPTION

C. M. A. C. Will Honor Former Chaplain

The members of the C. M. A. C. are planning a great reception to one of their former chaplains, Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I., former pastor of St. Joseph's parish, and now a missionary stationed at Cap de la Madeleine, Que., who is actually preaching a mission at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street.

Rev. Fr. Forget was stationed in Lowell for a number of years, and while in this city made a host of friends, especially among the members of the C. M. A. C., whose chaplain he was for a long time. He left this city some ten years ago, but the "boys" at the club have never forgotten him, and now that he is in Lowell they will show the deep respect they have for him by tendering him a reception.

The affair will be held at the club rooms in Pawtucket street immediately after the regular business meeting Tuesday evening, at which time the reverend gentleman will be given an opportunity to meet and renew acquaintances with his many former friends. All the members of the association are invited to attend. Speeches will be in order and a varied entertainment program will be rendered. The reception will be held at 8 o'clock and a large attendance is expected.

The committee in charge of the event is composed of Napoleon Lorcau, president; Joseph Payette, secretary; Henri Barry, Eugene Savard, Joseph L. Lamoureux and Arthur J. Lussier, ex officio, while the reception committee is composed of twenty-five members.

FLOYD BIBLE CLASS BANQUET

DEACON WARREN L. FLOYD, Leader of Class For 30 Years

The annual banquet of the Floyd Bible class of the First Baptist church was held last night. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Benevolent society, Mrs. Guy Pattillo in charge, and the waiters were the young men and women of the Sunday school.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. D. M. Gillis, showed an average attendance at the sessions of the Sunday school, by the members of the Floyd class, of 59, the largest attendance on any one Sunday of the year being 93.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, James K. Anderson; vice president, D. M. Gillis; secretary, Mrs. D. M. Gillis; assistant secretary, Mrs. P. Bennett; treasurer, Wm. A. Collins.

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Harry M. Gumb, the retiring president, Warren Sanborn making the presentation speech.

Deacon Warren L. Floyd, leader of the class for 30 years, was then called upon, and spoke a few cheery words. He said that while the Floyd class continues younger classes cannot claim that they are too old to go to Sunday school.

Rev. H. W. McLean, pastor of the Highland M. E. church, made a missionary address.

There were brief addresses by John Perry, Jr., and George H. Taylor; and Rev. A. Manuel, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, sang two selections, the second being in the Swedish language. Craven Midgley accompanied. Instrumental music was furnished by the Cushman Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

HOSPITAL DOCTORS BANQUETED

Dr. Bowker Gave Interesting Lecture on the Balkans

FRANK A. BOWEN, Toastmaster

The members of the house and outpatient staff and the specialists of the Lowell hospital were banqueted, last night by the hospital trustees in the large dining hall at the hospital. F. A. Bowen, chairman of the board of trustees, presided, and Dr. Bowker, the eye specialist of the hospital, gave a very interesting lecture, "North the Balkans," illustrated by a number of beautifully colored stereopticon views.

Dr. Bowker recently made a trip to Sicily, through the Adriatic, up the east coast of Italy and then over into Montenegro and one or two other Balkan states. The views taken along the east coast of Italy and during the trip through the Adriatic, were unusually interesting, as well as beautiful. The pictures of the valleys and towns of Montenegro, of the street scenes in villages and cities, of the quaint hill towns and peasants, gave a most vivid impression of the Montenegrins and their country and proved to be of exceptional interest in view of current events in the Balkan kingdoms.

At the close of the dinner Mr. Bowen congratulated the medical and surgical staff, assuring them of the appreciation of the trustees of their work at the hospital.

Broke Into Store—The Crusade Against Track Walkers Began With Three Arrests

Henry J. Nugent and John J. Doyle, charged with breaking and entering and larceny in the night time from the store of Michael Casey at 73 Coburn street, were arraigned before Judge Enright this morning. The arraignment was the sequel to a clever capture made last night about 11 o'clock by Patrolman Timothy J. Dwyer. Twenty-eight cents, all pennies, was the extent of the theft.

Last night Officer Dwyer went to try the door of Mr. Casey's store and he noticed that one of the side windows had been broken in. On crawling through the opening and into the store, he caught the two boys in the act of rifling the cash register. Officer Dwyer ordered the two to elevate their hands which they did without hesitation when they saw the glint of the policeman's revolver.

This is another link in the chain of attempted robberies and burglaries, which have taken place in that same neighborhood recently.

The boys said they are 18 years of age. Judge Enright found probable cause in their case and held them for the grand jury.

Track Walkers Arraigned

The first arrests following the determination of the local police to rigidly enforce the law regarding trespassing on the railroad tracks, were made yesterday by Sergt. Maguire and Officer Mat McCann. The arrested were George Vincent, John P. Corcoran and James Farmer and they were charged with walking on the railroad tracks without right. All pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each.

It is the intention of the police to put a stop to the accidents which have been appallingly numerous during the past few months and this was the first decisive step in the matter. From now on track walkers will be brought in and punished, and as the judge said today, it is for their own safety and protection and for that of their relatives.

Liable Case of Neglect

Albert W. Golder was accused of neglecting to provide for the proper support of his wife. On the stand, his wife told a very pathetic story in the course of which she said he has given her about $18 in four years. The man was sent to the house of correction for a term of four months. He appealed, but afterwards withdrew it. The man's neglect and abuse of his wife as told in her testimony formed a pitiful tale. She said that she does not need him, for he is no help to her in any way.

Given a Chance

Frank J. McNamara, who was recently found guilty of drunkenness and held over for sentence, was arraigned this morning. The court suspended a sentence to the state farm and placed the man on probation for six months.

Foster Appealed

Thomas W. Foster was brought in on a capias on an old charge of assaulting his wife. He had been placed on probation for a time and his wife complained that he was not living up to the conditions of his probation. Therefore the probation officer surrendered him. He was given some good sound, severe advice and a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction. He entered an appeal.

FIVE BODIES RECOVERED

From Ruins of Building Damaged by Fire

MEDICINE HAT, Alberta, March 20.—Workmen today continued their efforts to recover bodies believed to have been buried beneath the wreckage of the Malcolm Canning Co.'s main building when it was destroyed by fire and a gas explosion yesterday. Up to an early hour today only five bodies had been found, although there were persistent rumors that 30 employes were in the building when the walls fell. The property loss has been estimated as high as $100,000.

Damaged By Explosion

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The damage sustained by the naval collier Jason by the explosion of the Alum Chine's cargo of dynamite in Baltimore harbor was not so extensive as was at first supposed. She had just completed a satisfactory test of her cooling gear, discharging more than 100 tons of coal per hatch per hour.

OUT OF CHINESE LOAN

Americans Withdraw Because of Policy

NEW YORK, March 20.—As a result of the statement made by President Wilson that his administration would not request the American bankers heretofore interested in the negotiations for the "Six Power" loan to China to continue to seek their share of the loan, the three banking houses in the so-called American group last night announced their entire withdrawal from the loan negotiations.

The announcement followed a conference of the banking interests concerned at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. In concluding their statement, which reviews in considerable detail negotiations begun under the Taft administration, the bankers say:

"As the American group had been ready to serve the administration in the past, irrespective of the heavy risks involved, so it was disposed to serve the present administration if so requested. But, deferring to the policy now declared, the group has withdrawn entirely from the Chinese loan negotiations and has so advised the European and Japanese banking groups."

Wilson to Wield Big Stick

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Wilson will confer frequently with members of the house and senate in the president's room at the capitol during the extra session of congress. This was announced at the White House yesterday.

Mr. Wilson will go to the capitol, it was said at the White House, in a spirit of friendly co-operation, there to consult with democrats and republicans alike on the progress of legislation.

He believes, however, that he should go to the capitol as party leader. He has always said that the president of the United States was the elected leader of his party and that he particularly was charged by the people with the carrying out of party pledges. Mr. Wilson believes the tariff bill should be treated as a party measure.

He believes in enforcing party discipline, and after the leaders have approved the tariff bill he will make every effort to secure its passage in both houses without material alteration.

AFTER 6 YEARS' SEARCH

Deserter of Wife and 6 Children Arrested

BOSTON, March 20.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier is still on the alert for delinquent husbands. He has caused the arrest of Ernesto Ardelino in Bakersfield, Calif., and today Sergt. McDevitt and Inspector Norton will start for the coast to bring him back.

Ardelino has been missing six years. He ran away from his wife and six children, leaving them in destitute circumstances. They were dependent on charity, and their predicament was so pitiable that publicity was given to the flight of the defendant at the time.

Recently Mrs. Ardelino, who has struggled to maintain the household by dressmaking, learned from a friend in Bakersfield that he had seen her husband there. She informed Mr. Pelletier. A complaint in the lower court was pending. Mr. Pelletier had the grand jury return an indictment against Ardelino, and directed the police to effect his capture in Bakersfield.

The prosecuting attorney is determined that no man shall escape from the duty of supporting his family by leaving the state. He has caused husbands to be brought here from Chicago and Detroit. In most cases he has caused the men to remain here and maintain their families, with the understanding that if they do not live up to their promises so to do he will have them sent to prison.

He has been responsible for reuniting a number of families, and his efforts in requiring the men to support the household have been successful.

2 PINNED BY ELEVATOR

Firemen Saved Boys From Death Trap

LYNN, March 20.—After fire engines had been called and part of an elevator sawed away to release two small boys from it at the factory of J. D. Mullin, 747 Washington street, they were taken, one to his home and the other to the hospital, in the chemical wagon.

The boys are Frank Cimcio, 10 years, of 73 Amity street, and Robert Miles, 11 years, of 14 Chauncey court. Cimcio was the most seriously hurt, sustaining cuts and bruises on his legs.

The boys, after starting the elevator were caught between the car and a doorway. Cimcio's legs were pinned down, but Miles succeeded in stopping the car before the bones were broken. Then, for some unknown reason, the elevator could not be started again.

STRUCK WITH BOTTLE

Mrs. Kennedy of Chelmsford Injured

Mrs. Frederic E. Kennedy, of Chelmsford Centre, was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon while walking in Lowell. Mrs. Kennedy had just left the Lowell Opera House where she was to join the Chelmsford theatre party and was walking on Charles street, when a large black bottle was thrown out of a two story building, striking her on the head, knocking her down and rendering her unconscious for some minutes. A large crowd gathered about and helped her up. Mrs. Kennedy, after an examination was found to be severely bruised by the fall and she sustained a cut on the head. As no policeman was about at the time nothing could be done to the person who threw the bottle from the building. Mrs. Kennedy is now able to go out a little each day.

President Accepts Resignation

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Huntington Wilson, assistant and acting secretary of state, has resigned his office and insisted upon acceptance of his resignation because of his radical difference of opinion with the administration regarding the Chinese policies.

President Wilson immediately accepted the resignation.

MILITANTS FIRE MORE BUILDINGS

LONDON, March 20.—Arson squads of militant suffragettes were busy last night. The fine country residence of Lady Amy White, widow of Field Marshal Sir George White, the hero of Ladysmith during the Transvaal war and the buildings on the golf links at Weston-Super-Mare, were damaged by fires alleged to have been started by the suffragettes.

Traces of oils and inflammable materials were found scattered about the house while stuck on prominent spots outside in the grounds were papers inscribed with the words "Stop torturing our comrades in prison;" "Votes for women;" "By kind permission of Charles Hobhouse." This last being a reference to the taunt of Mr. Hobhouse, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, uttered earlier in the campaign that women lacked the real revolutionary spirit of men who burned and sacked in support of their cause.

Two women on bicycles were seen in the neighborhood half an hour before the fire was discovered but all trace of them has been lost. The house was unoccupied. The incendiaries of the golf pavilions also escaped. There are many suffragettes now in that city, where Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor is scheduled to deliver an address before the national teachers conference.

Olive Hocken who is charged with attempting to set fire to a pavilion on the Roehampton golf links was arraigned in police court again today and remanded another week after counsel for the treasury had opened the case for the prosecution.

Miss Hocken appeared to glory in the notoriety she has achieved. She stood in the prisoner's enclosure, wearing across her breast a bright new sash in the suffragette colors and smiled contentedly as counsel detailed her alleged activities in the field of arson in the destruction of letters in the public mail boxes, etc.

The articles found in the militant suffragette arsenal in the Kensington district of London on March 13, consisting of telegraph wire cutting apparatus, bottles of corrosive fluid, hammers, flints, false identification plates for automobiles, ropes and pole climbers, cotton wool rape oil, firelighters, candles, etc., found in the gripsack alleged to have been dropped by Alice Hocken on the golf links were prominently displayed in court.

Counsel for the treasury described Miss Hocken's studio in Kensington as a "depot where people foregathered, armed and prepared for any particular marauding outrage on hand with the full knowledge and connivance of the accused."

Among Miss Hockin's correspondence, he added, was a letter from Miss Emmaline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader openly inciting her followers to acts of lawlessness and outrages.

King George's Murder Stirs Greece, But No Political Plot is Unearthed

ATHENS, March 20.—King George's assassination is not expected to affect this kingdom politically. His son, the crown prince Constantine, has been proclaimed king and has taken the oath of fealty. He is as popular with the people as was his father, perhaps more so with the army. He is only forty-five, full of fire and essentially democratic. His recent successes in the field against the Turks increased his popularity. It is declared that the Greeks have too much on their minds at the present moment to worry over the personality of a king. The Civilian party, under the leadership of Premier Venizelos, is in firm control of the country. It is said the new king is in full sympathy with the party and will follow his father's policy of striving for popular rule. But the assassination of King George, who had ruled for exactly fifty years to the day, was a blow to all the Greek people. Indignation ran high after Aleko Schinas, apparently insane, had shot the ruler down in cold blood at Saloniki while he was walking with only one guard. Reports that the dastardly attack was the result of a plot in which wily Turks had a hand were not accredited here, although all sorts of wild stories were first told. After the first excitement had died down the dead king was blamed for his own carelessness. He insisted upon going about practically without guard. He had been warned that he ought to have a full body guard because of the high feeling stirred up over the war, but he laughed at the fears of others. He was so democratic in his ways that he did not like to appear in public with any pomp. King Constantine has a fine family. He is seated with Queen Sophia in the family group. His children are (left to right) Prince Paul, Prince Alexander, Crown Prince George, Princess Helene and Princess Irene.

SMALL CHANGES

AMONG LEADING STOCKS AT THE OPENING TODAY

Business During Morning Was Perfunctory—Call Money Showed Firmness—New Haven Strong

NEW YORK, March 20.—When trading on the stock exchange was resumed this morning transactions were far from lively, neither side of the market exerting itself in the prosecution of business. Changes among the leading specialty stocks were small and irregular.

When the stock market evinced an improving tendency during which Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated sold half a point beyond yesterday's close liquidation of inactive stocks became urgent and the advance stopped. Rumely slumped 7 1-2 to 47 1-2.

A holiday atmosphere pervaded the principal markets here and abroad, where preparations were being made for suspension of business after Easter. Business through the morning here was perfunctory, with only fractional variations among the leading stocks. Much of the trading was of an evening-up character on the part of speculators who did not wish to have open contracts over the three day holiday. The demand from the shorts imparted firmness to the important stocks, which was impaired at times by resumption of liquidation in obscure issues. Prospects of a poor bank statement were held out by the loss by the banks to the sub-treasury of $11,700,000 this week. Call money showed firmness and there was a stiffening of other forms of accommodation.

While general movements were unimportant a few issues vibrated sufficiently to attract attention. New Haven displayed unwonted strength, rising nearly three points to 118 3-8. Chesapeake & Ohio on the other hand was fed out steadily and yielded 1 1-4 to 70 1-4.

Demand was insufficient to absorb light professional selling of the afternoon. Reading, Union Pacific and Amalgamated sold a point under their best prices and other well known shares also were below yesterday's final figures.

The market closed steady. Short selling weakened the list substantially reaching a point in half a dozen favorites. In the last five minutes the market reversed its course abruptly and prices mounted swiftly to yesterday's close.

Boston Market

BOSTON, March 20.—A further recovery of Boston & Maine to 70 was the feature of the early trading on the local exchange today. Copper shares were dull and neglected.

Is Water Polo a Brutal Game?

Frank Sullivan of Chicago, who has officiated as Princeton's swimming and water polo coach for the last two years, came to the defense of the latter sport in a statement and severely criticized the recent action of the Amateur Athletic union which substituted for water polo the game of water soccer, in which the ducking in the present game is replaced by frequent passing. This action was taken on the claim that water polo was rough and brutal, attacks which Sullivan says are unreasonable.

According to the Princeton coach, the Amateur Athletic union took action after the Chicago Athletic club-New York Athletic club game last year, which was characterized by rough play. Mr. Sullivan says that this rough play was due to the incompetence of the officials, who failed to call fouls, and that, further, the members of these teams had been playing opposite each other for more than ten years, and in this event the game may merely develope into personal retaliation.

Backed by twenty years' experience, Mr. Sullivan declares that he has never known of a man to be seriously hurt in a game nor of any killed, a record unsurpassed by most sports.

Charge of Embezzlement

CALGARY, Alberta, March 20.—Chas. Henry Minchin, former alderman and city treasurer here and this year's candidate for the office of city commissioner, was arrested today on three separate charges alleging the embezzlement of $8800 from the city.

FEDERAL EXPERTS KEEP SHARP WATCH ON PATIENTS TREATED BY DR. FRIEDMANN

PHOTOS © 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEW YORK, March 20.—Any improvement or retrogression in the condition of the tuberculosis patients treated by Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the German physician whose alleged white plague cure has made a sensation, will be carefully noted, and it was said no patient will be discharged as "cured" until the two government officials give the word. Even then the government supervision will not end, for each patient will be carefully watched by physicians of the marine hospital corps, and they will make reports long after the popular excitement raised by the treatment of Dr. Friedmann has ended. Even if they move to other towns this supervision will be kept up, for the government desires to ascertain the after effects of the treatment. At the close of his recent treatment in Bellevue hospital Dr. Friedmann received an ovation in marked contrast with the reception accorded to him on his arrival in New York. All eleven cases were treated in the operating amphitheatre of Bellevue. It was witnessed by more than 100 doctors, nurses, attendants and the staff of the hospital. Dr. James Alexander Miller, director of tuberculosis clinic at Bellevue, acted as master of ceremonies and read out the history of each case as the patient was wheeled in on an operating table. Among those who watched Dr. Friedmann inject the vaccine were Dr. John W. Brannan, medical director of Bellevue; Dr. Leopold Stern, Drs. Anderson and Stimson of the government service, who are superintending the tests; Dr. Serrati of the Italian navy, Dr. H. M. Kellogg, city physician of Milwaukee; Dr. G. W. Lowry of Hastings, N. D.; Dr. Hancock of Albany, Dr. Frank May, Dr. Donnell of Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. N. Myklestend of Williston, N. D.; Dr. Millett of East Bridgewater, Mass.; Dr. Stubbert of Lakewood, Dr. Brundage of Brooklyn, Dr. Lopiato, Dr. Knopf, Dr. Grieve of New Mexico and Dr. George F. O'Hanlon of Bellevue. Dr. Friedmann was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Arthur Friedmann. The patients were wheeled in all ready for the injection. Dr. Miller read the history of each case as it appeared, and a nurse threw back the blanket covering the patient. In each case the injection was made in the left hip. The dose for each patient was from five to eight drops of the vaccine. Dr. Friedmann sponged the puncture with mere of the fluid. There were ten male patients and one female. They ranged in age from sixteen to fifty years. The cases treated ranged from incipiency to the third stage.

Refuses to Tell Name After Saving Man

BOSTON, March 20.—Long wharf yesterday developed a youthful hero so modest he would not give his name lest the Humane society or Mr. Carnegie should force him to accept a medal. The hero sprang into prominence when he rescued Thomas Smith of Gloucester from drowning in the basin between Long wharf and T wharf.

Smith fell from the fishing schooner Lucania, being a member of that craft's crew. His head struck another schooner and he was stunned.

Instantly there was great excitement with men trying to throw dories over to rescue the drowning fisherman. T wharf was filled with a throng offering suggestions but not personally assisting in aiding Smith. The dories moved hard from their nests on the schooners and ropes were of no use because Smith was too far gone to recognise a rope even if it snaked across his head.

Along came the hero, attracted by the commotion. He wore red boots, overalls and jumper with a toothpick and cigaret between his teeth.

He saw Smith's head disappearing beneath the dirty water and, without hesitation, leaped from the wharf. With powerful stroke the unknown swam to the spot where Smith had vanished; he gulped in a lot of air and, like a porpoise, sounded to the mud 15 feet below.

The crowd waited in suspense as bubbles appeared where the man had dived. Fully a minute he was out of view, groping about the bottom of the dock for Smith. The bubbles grew bigger and bigger and up shot Smith's head and chest, with the stranger trying to get him into the air.

The hero was about done for and began to sink, and Smith, limp as a rag, was disappearing, too. The stranger then renewed his fight and Smith bobbed into sight, but the unknown was under water, exerting almost superhuman strength in an effort to get his burden alongside the Lucania, where Capt. Marty Welch and crew were hanging over the rail.

They got Smith and his rescuer aboard, and both came to life after a long period of doubt as to results. Capt. Welch and crew raised a purse for the hero, who promptly refused to accept the money, on grounds that he had done nothing more than any other man would have done.

Neither would the rescuer give his name. He staggered off the wharf and out of view, and the Lucania sent a searching party without avail.

THE GOVE COMPANY

Lowell's Latest Millinery Establishment Formally Opened—Occupies Former Store of Mme. Gregoire

In the old Gregoire establishment, which has been made resplendent by the painter's brush, the Gove Company, Lowell's latest addition to its milliners' row, held its opening Tuesday and yesterday and two of the largest crowds ever seen at the opening of a millinery store in this city passed through the portals of the store.

Within, vieing with the splendor of the many beautiful and recently tinted fixings, was the latest and most stylish millinery adorning the many showcases and pedestals scattered at frequent intervals through the store.

The models noted in the display and which enjoyed the most prominence, were indeed the prettiest and most becoming that have been originated by the minds of the designers of ladies' headdress in the past few years, a fact mentioned over and over again by the throngs of women who visited the store and tried on the various models.

It is the intention of the owners of the establishment to make more of the ready-to-wear display of millinery, than has ever before been attempted here and so as to foster their intention in the proper way to the ladies they have reserved, for the showing of this particular branch of the business, large mirrored counters, that occupy both sides of the establishment near the entrance and on these a very large assortment of hats that can be worn as soon as purchased will be carried.

In speaking to the writer yesterday, Mr. Underwood, the manager, said that the ready-to-wear branch of the millinery business is becoming very popular with the women folk, who have come to consider the delays occasioned in the making-up of a hat after the purchase as unnecessary.

For the purpose of catering to, and supplying the wants of the old customers and friends of Madame Gregoire, from whom the Gove Co. purchased the stock and good-will of the establishment, this company has set aside, in the rear of the store, many display counters and mirrored trying-on tables, where the latest models and trimmings of all kinds are shown. In this department the milliners of experience and ability formerly with Mme. Gregoire are in attendance and offer opinions and suggestions that any customer desires. Each and every employe of the old firm has remained with the new company and they will be pleased to meet their friends in the renovated and beautified establishment, where they are positive, with the large stock to select from and the low prices, they can satisfy the millinery wants of all, at a considerably reduced cost.

The store in its entirety never looked more beautiful than it does now, harboring as it does all the finery of natural and artificial flowers which it is possible to place within it without crowding and detracting the interest of the visitor from the display of millinery. The many colors of the trimmings and ribbons to be worn the coming seasons, gaudy in some respects, have been so capably toned with the various shades of the hats that the result attained speaks highly of the efficiency of the corps of milliners employed by the Gove Co.

The local store is the third of a chain owned and operated by the company and through the large purchases from the manufacturers made necessary for supplying the three stores, the company is able to buy at very low prices in the market. It aims for large sales and small profits rather than for few sales with large profits.

Mrs. Conway's Exhibit

In the parlor of her home at 21 Ellsworth street, yesterday afternoon and evening, 'mid decorations typical of the spring season, Mrs. George F. Conway conducted a show of all that is the latest and most fashionable in millinery for the coming seasons to a large number of her friends. The parlor was devoted entirely to the display and all the trying on was done in an adjoining room, where large mirrors, in which an excellent idea of the becomingness of the hat tried on could be attained, were located. Mrs. Conway was the recipient of many compliments on the beauty and completeness of the show.

TO SELL ATLANTIC MILLS

Local Auctioneers Have Charge of Sale

On Monday, March 31, J. E. Conant & Co., Lowell auctioneers, will sell to the highest bona fide bidders, the entire plant of the Atlantic cotton mills in Lawrence. The property includes one of the best located permanent water powers (1500-2750 h. p.—16 hours daily at insignificant cost forever) under absolute control in the world.

The real estate and water power combined is not only a rare, but a most exceptional manufacturing opportunity. This is particularly true where unlimited water and much permanent water power are required 24 hours in the day. The property is located about midway in the widely famous Merrimack Valley, on one of the best developed streams, in one of the fastest growing cities; in one of the greatest manufacturing centers of the world. It is a question if within the limits of any equal area on earth there is a greater diversity of manufactures or skilled labor, or a more permanent water power.

Should there prove to be prospective purchasers for the plant who desire only the real estate and water power and because of this hesitate to purchase the property in its entirety not knowing what they could do with or realize from the machinery, mechanical equipment, etc., under those circumstances it may not be considered an act of presumption upon our part to state that from any experience we have had in the disposal of cotton mill equipment in the last ten or twelve years in different parts of the country, there is reason to believe that the machinery, mechanical equipment, etc., if properly managed handled and pledged at an absolute auction sale to the highest bona fide bidders—in lots to suit purchasers—within sixty days of the sale of the plant, would yield a sum approaching $200,000.

COMPANY C TO PARADE

Local Command of the Sixth Regiment Accepts Invitation to Join With Catholic Societies on March 29

The arrangements for the monster parade of the Irish Catholic societies of this and other cities on March 29th continue to go along at a most encouraging rate that seems to indicate beyond the shadow of a doubt that the demonstration will exceed the fondest dreams of the committee to which was entrusted the arrangements for the monster undertaking. In an effort to clean up the various details incidental to the celebration the various officers and sub-committees are assiduously engaged on the plans in order that nothing will remain undone to make the event one long to be remembered.

Yesterday the secretary of the committee received definite word from Company C, sixth regiment, that that company voted at a meeting held Tuesday evening to participate in the parade. The information was given to the secretary in a letter from Capt. George W. Peterson and the indications are that several of the other commands will emulate the example of this company and assist in the demonstration.

Hon. Martin E. Joyce, subsidiary high chief ranger of the Irish National Foresters, has replied to the invitation sent him and assures the committee that he will be in the parade. The Irish National Foresters of Lowell with the assistance of other branches of the order throughout the state and in Manchester, N. H. will constitute one of the finest divisions of the parade and hence Chief Ranger Joyce is quite desirous of joining with the order on that day.

Hon. Patrick F. Cannon, state president and Hon. John F. Donnelly, state vice president of the A. O. H. have received invitations and they will ride in the Hibernian division.

HELD A LADIES' NIGHT

Large Attendance at Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Last Night—Several Interesting Games Played

"Ladies' Night," was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night and it proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held in the new gymnasium. The gallery was filled long before the entertainment started and many were glad to get standing room. The program which consisted of drills, wrestling and games started about 8.15.

Physical Director Wicke and about 60 members of the class went through the regular weekly drill exercises which proved very interesting to those present.

Exhibitions were then given on the horses, horizontal bars and other gymnastic apparatus. Most of the exhibitions were given by the class leaders, so some extra good work was done.

Some wrestling matches were then pulled off and these proved to be more interesting than any other part of the program. The different holds and falls were thoroughly explained by the leaders.

An indoor baseball game was next and this furnished considerable fun for the audience as they all understood this popular indoor game.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Companies K and M Were Reviewed Last Night by Lieut J. R. McGinnis, Sixth Infantry, U. S. A.

Companies K of Sixth regiment and M of the Ninth regiment, underwent their annual inspection at the armory last night, under the keen eye of Lieut. J. R. McGinnis, Sixth infantry, U. S. A. All members of both companies were present and seated in the gallery were many friends of the militiamen.

The companies were sent through the various drills and were then inspected as to dress and other accoutrement which is included in United States infantrymen's makeup. The officers of Co. K. are Capt. James N. Greig and First Lieut. John P. Davis. Company M is commanded by Capt. Philip McNulty with First Lieut. Daniel Christian and Second Lieut. Paul Kittredge.

Y. W. C. A. Lecture

"The Pocket Watch," was the subject taken by Mr. H. E. Duncan of Waltham in his stereopticon talk at the Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday evening. The entertainment was held in Kitson hall and was one of the lectures in the Y. W. C. A. course.

Mr. Duncan spoke to some extent on the making of a Waltham watch, but also talked on the appreciation of a good pocket watch. He first told of the watch as it was made in the 17th century. The watch at that time was as large as a tea saucer and they were considered good time keepers if they did not vary more than fifteen minutes a day. They were all made by hand and were sometimes very beautifully designed. In the 18th century the size was reduced to about what it is today and if it did not vary more than a minute a day it was considered a very good time piece. But the American watch men were not satisfied with this and the result is that the average watch today will not vary more than thirty seconds a week. He closed his address by telling the process of manufacture through which a high grade modern watch goes. A pound of iron, from which the watch springs are made cost about $5, and when it is made into watch springs, it is worth about $23,000.

That Mr. Duncan's lecture was appreciated was shown by the applause given him at the close.

AGE LIMIT SET

Little Chance for Man of 60 Years of Age to be Federal Judge—Young Men Will be Preferred

WASHINGTON, March 20—Atty.-Gen. McReynolds, who is weighing the qualifications of the many applicants for vacant federal judgeships, informed callers yesterday that an applicant more than 60 years old had a serious handicap to overcome.

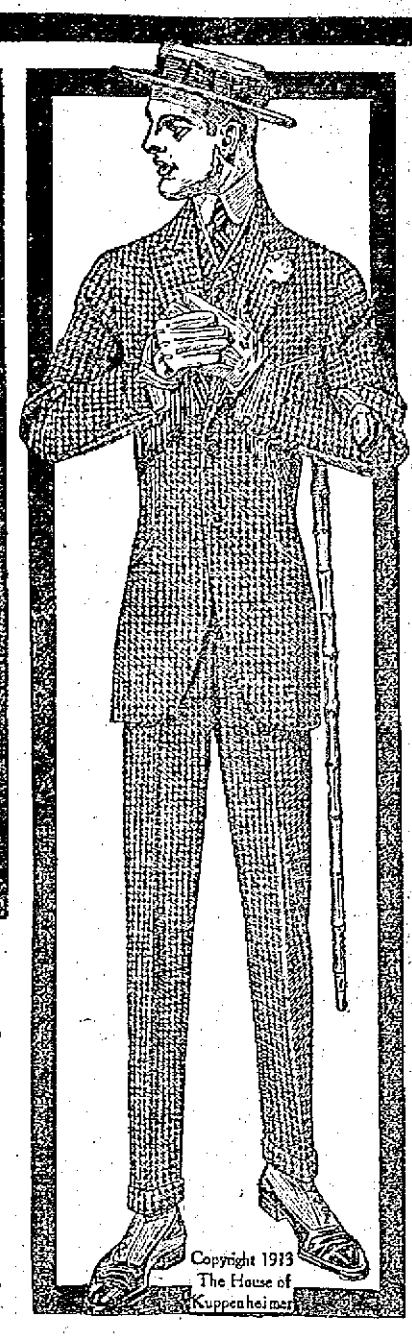

While this is not a hard and fast rule, the age question, it is said, will receive consideration in connection with all appointments to such an extent that the "young men" below 60 have a much better chance.

The rule was followed by President Taft and Atty.-Gen. Wickersham in the appointments of the previous administration.

THE HABIT OF THRIFT

In these times when the high cost of living is on everybody's lips, and when practically all schemes for political advancement are concerned with plans for its reduction in one form or another, the great need for thrift among people, particularly among the rising generation, is apparent to all. There has been a growing tendency for years to disregard the example of our fathers who, in less exciting days, saved some portion of their wages regularly and with some degree of system. Now people wish to enjoy life to the limit of their earning capacity, exclusive of any other consideration. This tendency is apparent not only among the young and thoughtless, but even among men of business, many of whom live up to the limit of their salaries or incomes, and depend on insurance or some other form of investment for future contingencies. People are no longer content with the limited pleasures of previous generations when the home was the chief consideration and all amusements and diversions were secondary. Now, unfortunately, the theatre, the dance, the automobile, and social supremacy are for many the main ends of existence, with the consequence that the home and all that tends towards its acquirement and preservation is frequently neglected. This results in extravagance and lack of thrift among the people who go on spending in feverish haste without consideration for the coming morrow.

It is singular how much of this extravagance and lack of sober consideration is due to careless habits rather than to any deep-seated conviction. The young man who has gone on squandering all his earnings without thought for the future does so because he deems himself incapable of acting otherwise. Yet thrift can be made a habit also and with far different results. Henry E. Huntington, a Los Angeles man of business, who has accumulated 50 million dollars(and who recently retired at the age of 63 to take his first trip to Europe, gave as his parting injunction the advice to save money regularly. Following are his own words: "Save a little every week. When you get an increase of wages or salary, continue to live within the former limits and save the increase. If you find it difficult to save, go in debt for a home or undertake some other obligation in the way of investment that will compel you to save." This advice to go into debt in order to save money may seem at first paradoxical, but a little reflection will show that it is based on sound sense. It is meant for the man whose will has become so weakened by extravagance that he finds it almost impossible to acquire the habit of thrift but who, were he in debt, would be compelled to pay a portion of his weekly salary towards its reduction, and thus gradually acquire the habit of saving.

The "Banker and Tradesman" points out the fact that recently the American Banker's association inaugurated a thrift movement that is spreading more rapidly than they anticipated. The banks are dropping their old fashioned ideas of dignity and do not hesitate to advertise in plain terms, thus reaching the people who formerly were not so reached or were reached only by the promoters of fake investments. Though the banks have always been at the service of the people it is evident that by refraining from advertising they inadvertently kept many without the sphere of their influence who, had the matter been properly placed before them, would have seen the advantage of banking as an aid to thrifty habits. A local bank recently started a campaign to enable people of small graduated weekly investments to build up a stipulated sum. The plan met with great and instantaneous success and the returns justified the means employed. The enterprise shown by this concern is to be commended particularly as it tends to encourage the saving habit among people who formerly spent all they earned regardless of the future. Thrift in the individual tends to national security and its encouragement, though an old text, was never more pertinent than at the present time.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

No measures of tariff revision could work greater harm to the general business of the country than would be brought about by a long period of uncertainty during which all kinds of false disquieting rumors could be set afloat by interested parties, who, by injuring business could also do a great injury to the new administration. This fact was probably weighed by the president and the national democratic leaders who, by setting aside the special session of congress at such an early date for the purpose of tariff revision alone, served to allay needless fears and reassure those whose business interests may possibly be affected in some degree by the proposed changes. In view of the fact that the intended legislation is of such a momentous nature the business outlook is very satisfactory. Apart from depression in a few minor brackes of industry there is an air of confidence in the country that serves to re-assure any who may be fearful of the result of the proposed legislation.

For months the subject of tariff revision has been discussed, and those who control the business of the country have made their plans while keeping it in mind. Stocks of merchandize, particularly those partially dependent on a wool schedule, have been reduced to the lowest figure that the occasion seemed to demand, and in like manner every other commodity has been governed by the future possibility of tariff legislation that would change the market values. This being the case and the results being everywhere anticipated and provided for, it is not probable that even a very radical tariff revision would have any immediate detrimental effect on the general prosperity of the country at the present time. The democrats under the leadership of Underwood, and backed by the enormous influence of the president, can be depended on to effect thorough but prudent tariff changes without fear of any consequent business panic, and the outlook for growing prosperity during the next few years is encouraging in the highest degree.

CLEANER STREETS

Possibly the mildness of the winter and the resulting accumulation of dust is partly responsible for the very dirty condition of the streets. A like condition is noted in many other cities and towns of the state and the newspapers of Brockton, Lynn and other cities have been trying to bring about a remedy. In Lowell at the present time there is a thick layer of dust not only on the streets but on the sidewalks, and the least flurry of wind is followed by choking clouds of dust that give the streets the appearance of a miniature Sahara, making it most uncomfortable for the unfortunate pedestrians who are caught in the sand storms.

One condition is noted, however, for which the weather cannot be blamed, but which can be laid to the negligence of the authorities, and in a still greater measure to the negligence of the people. After a blustering period, the streets are littered with paper, orange and banana peels, and all kinds of refuse, the presence of which, scattered along the gutters, is inexcusable. Although receptacles are provided for this rubbish, they are not at all numerous enough or located at the proper points to eliminate the nuisance. The city should see to it that enough of these be provided and placed at regular intervals. Then the business man of the down-town region and the public generally should advocate their use with the result that in a short time people would avail themselves of them instead of throwing rubbish on the streets and sidewalks as has been done for some time.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mme. D'Mille

"Mother's Salve is a splendid remedy for chaps, cold sores, pimples, eczema and skin eruptions. It is antiseptic and is an ideal application for any abrasion of the skin. It is healing, cooling and soothing.

"Thin and scrawny women who desire to take the Vaucaire home treatment for plumping the figure should make a syrup of 1½ cupfuls sugar and a pint of water, into which is stirred an ounce of gallol. Take two teaspoonfuls before meals. This treatment restores symmetry of form, but is not a fat maker.

"In most cases of baldness and falling hair, everything points to a parasitic origin of the disease. Mother's Shampoo removes these parasites, but is not harsh in action. It makes the hair fine and fluffy. Mother's Shampoo is sold by druggists for 25 cents a package of ten shampoos.

"An ideal complexion beautifier is easily made at home by dissolving in a half pint witch hazel an original package of mayatone. This should be applied in the morning instead of face powder. It makes the skin soft and smooth and corrects spotted, sallow and muddy looking complexions.

"If your eyebrows are thin and straggly, apply plain pyroxin with the finger tips and brush them daily. This will make them grow more evenly, darker in color and train them into regular arches. Pyroxin applied to the roots will make the lashes grow long, dark and silky.

"Superfluous hair on face or forearms is removed quickly and safely by a single application of delatone. Make a paste with a little water and powdered delatone, cover the hairs, leave on two minutes, then remove and wash the skin. The hairs will be gone."

Seen and Heard

The rich ought to do a great deal for charity, and we all ought to have a great deal of charity for all, even for the rich.

Some people have a great ambition to learn a great deal, but never do because they are never willing to do the necessary work.

A man cannot see why his wife should think that he is extravagant when he brings home a box of cigars, when he is perfectly willing to let her have the empty box, after he has emptied it, to keep her stray belongings in.

Once in a while when a girl is perfectly sure that a man is falling in love with her, he actually is.

A girl ought to stop and think whether she isn't too tall to think seriously of a young man, when she would have to stand three feet away from him to put her head down on his shoulder.

The city solicitor has had his telephone number changed and there's a reason. His number was 1407 and 4107 is one of The Sun's telephone numbers. Persons using the telephone would get mixed on the numbers and just for that Mr. Hennessey and his assistants experienced some of the very busiest days of their lives. The average person has but little idea of the great number of telephone calls received at a newspaper office, but Mr. Hennessey allows that he and his office force have experienced a rather enforced insight into the matter and is satisfied that a newspaper office is a mighty busy place. "Yes," said Mr. Hennessey, "I had to have my telephone number changed. People would insist upon calling 4107 instead of 1407 and it was up to me to do one of two things—to change the number or hire two or three extra clerks. My appropriation did not warrant the extra clerks and I had the number changed to 85. I am satisfied, however, that The Sun office is a very busy place."

For ten days Pat O'Connor had worked on the well single-handed, and finally the foreman told him that another man had been engaged to help him. He sat down at the bottom of the pit wearily, to have a quiet smoke and a few minutes of much-needed rest and also to digest the welcome news that he was at last to have a helper.

The foreman's bull-dog at that precise moment happened to look over the edge of the pit, and Pat, glancing up, saw him. Slowly removing his pipe from his mouth, he rose and gathered his tools.

"Well, bedad, Ol've worked with Swedes, an' Hungarians, an' Ol've worked with Oitalians an' wid naygures," he said gravely, "but, whin a man wid a face loike that comes down here to work besoid me, Ol gets up."

The Boston Sunday Herald.

A certain eminent landscape artist sold a picture to a wealthy woman of Boston. The woman soon became tired of the picture, because, she declared, it lacked animation. So she sent for another artist, and asked him to paint a man or woman on the road that ran through the middle of the picture.

The artist did so, and when he met the man who had painted the original work, he told him what he had done.

"I had the temerity to alter a landscape of years the other day," he said. "It was the one you sold to Mrs. W. She wanted a figure painted in, so I added an old man walking down the road."

"Road! What road? There's no road in that picture."

"Why, yes there is," said the other. "There is a road that runs through the middle of the canvass."

BEFORE AND AFTER

Jim was my friend till one unhappy day—
The usual cause—a pretty girl came in our way.
From that day on we seemed to drift apart.
For each aspired to win her maiden heart.
But though I tried each art and winning wile,
'Twas not to me she gave her sweetest smile.
Each day I saw my chances grow more dim,
Until—to my despair—one day she married Jim.
Ah, lucky Jim!
How I envied him!

Three years passed on—long years they seemed to me—
Then Jim died and once more "she" was free.
Before me rose the bright hopes of the past;
I wooed, I sued, and married her at last.
I got my way and now, that she's my wife,
I know just what there is in married life;
And when I think of Jim—though underground,
Enjoying peace and quiet most profound—
Ah, lucky Jim!
How I envy him!

UNMETHODICAL

His belongings are never in order,
The top of his desk is a sight.
Such a mixed heap of letters and papers,
And he never sets anything right!
Most workers would find themselves helpless
With a working-place mussed up like his.
It seems to be hopeless confusion,
But he knows just where everything is.

His method is not to have method,
Not to keep things in orderly style.
His belongings are all in a jumble,
And he files everything in a pile.
He likes to have things topsy-turvy,
He was born with a queer mental quirk
That makes him most unsystematic—

—Somerville Journal.

Everybody says this, or everybody says that, and everybody does just as everybody says. That is to say, everybody dictates the course of action for everybody, and everybody seems pleased with the arrangement.

Everybody is not always genial, friendly, or neighborly, because, not knowing everybody, everybody is apt to be a little distant.

Everybody often considers that everybody ought to realize and appreciate the superiority of everybody's particular type; but it is a sad fact that everybody can't see it that way. Everybody will admit that this seems a little paradoxical, or queer; nevertheless, everybody knows that everybody is right.

Everybody makes the laws for everybody, and everybody obeys everybody's laws sometimes; yet everybody is not always satisfied with everybody's method of obeying or disobeying.

Everybody wants everybody's money, and everybody tries to keep everybody out of everybody's strong box; everybody plans to outwit everybody along these lines; everybody succeeds and everybody does not succeed. This principle is what makes business good for everybody.

These observations may be taken as truth—they are truth—because everybody says so.

Tribute to the Late Admiral Eaton

It was my pleasure to know Admiral Joseph G. Eaton. A brilliant entertainer. A gentleman in every particular. Fascinating in manner. Impulsive in nature. Scholarly, dignified, genial, gallant and courteous. Always interesting when relating experiences of his travels throughout the wide world. As a son of Dracut, within whose borders now repose the remains of this distinguished naval officer, who has rendered such valiant service to his country, I speak a word of tribute.

As one, who twenty-five years ago, stood by the open grave in this same small burial place, of my native town, and assisted in lowering the casket containing the body of a beautiful girl of fourteen, the only child of Admiral and Mary Anne Varnum Eaton, Isabel Varnum Eaton was tenderly committed to earth, while father and mother, relatives and friends gathered about in deepest sorrow.

Contrast that scene with the one of the past week, when the father, Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, the adopted son of historical Dracut, whose memory Dracut will ever be proud to honor, who served his nation long, faithfully and gallantly in her great navy, as commander, as hero, at Santiago, recipient of a medal of honor from his country for his part in that great battle.

This gallant officer, received and honored by the elite and conspicuous dignitaries of the world after forty years of notable service, lays down his life and without the semblance of a national emblem across his bier, without military honors, without a single representative from the ranks of this great country's navy, without a clergyman to offer prayer, without relatives or friends present to remove this lifeless body from the hearse to grave, the body of Admiral Eaton is committed to its final resting place, in a quiet spot of a country town, beside this loving, idolized daughter and his devoted early companion, Mary Anne Varnum Eaton, whose memory Dracut cherishes.

A nation's distinguished son is buried with less ceremony than a friendless pauper or outcast. It's a sad reflection upon a great nation, when it culpably disregards honoring its worthy and illustrious servants with the customary burial accorded the humblest citizen. An event to be regretted, when relatives or friends fail to pay proper tribute in attending to such a solemn obligation as laying their own feelingly away.

The town of Dracut, Lowell and the nation laments that Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton has failed to receive the final tributes which should have been approximately paid. Unfortunate it was, that opportunity was not given to the people of Lowell and Dracut to signify their respect for one whom they honored for his successes and achievements in the United States navy.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

This Shampoo Best For Home Use

"Every woman prozes luxuriant hair," says Miss Martyn, in the Tacoma Examiner, "and many find that much depends on shampooing. Various preparations are used for this purpose, but few are free from injurious ingredients, and the result is thin, straggly hair and itchy scalps.

"A simple and inexpensive shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. This is poured on the scalp and rubbed until lathering freely, then the hair rinsed carefully and dried.

"Nothing so quickly promotes a healthy condition of the scalp as a canthrox shampoo, and its use is certain to produce glossy, luxuriant hair. Care should be taken to get an original package of canthrox."

PANIC AT CITY HALL

Cowboy Shot Up Mayor's Office in Buffalo

Said He Wanted $100, Then Pulled Revolver—Rushed Off Feet By Detective

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 20.—Joseph Stefunski, a cowboy from Geyser, Mont., apparently demented, caused a panic at the city hall yesterday when he entered the mayor's office and opened fire with a revolver on the clerks and a policeman on duty.

Charles E. Lang, a member of the police force on special duty, who grappled with the man, was shot four times, but probably will recover.

Stefunski had called at the office twice before during the day and asked for Mayor Fuhrmann or his secretary. He left without making known his mission. When he called the third time yesterday afternoon he met Charles Egloff, license clerk, and asked for the mayor. Egloff told him the mayor was out.

"Well, I want $100," said Stefunski.

Egloff saw he had a crank to deal with and tried to parley with him. Officer Lang heard the demand and walked toward the two men.

The sight of the uniform apparently alarmed Stefunski, who stepped back and drew a revolver, crying at the same time, "I'll get that hundred or know the reason why."

Lang closed in on Stefunski, but was unable to get hold of his right hand, in which he held the revolver. Stefunski fired five shots, four at Lang, all of which lodged in his neck and shoulder, and the fifth at Egloff, which went wild.

Weakened by his wounds, Lang was easily shaken off by Stefunski, who rushed to the other side of the room and began to reload. He had difficulty in getting out the empty shells, and this probably saved further bloodshed. Lang staggered out into the hall.

While a deputy sheriff stood at one door of the mayor's office firing a revolver in Stefunski's direction, a detective sergeant, Herman Burkhardt, from the district attorney's office, came in by another door and rushed Stefunski off his feet. A moment later he was overpowered.

At police headquarters Stefunski several times declared he was an anarchist and that he went to city hall to "shoot 'em all." In his pocket was a curiously worded document which the police regard as further evidence of the man's unbalanced mind.

It was written on the stationery of a Great Falls (Mont.) bank and purported to be an order for $100. Stamped upon it in several places were the words "Joseph Stefunski, Cow puncher," after which was written in ink, "Big Richman."

Stefunski said he was a native of Poland and before coming here had worked in Geyser, Mont., and Wilkesbarre, Pa.

IN CHELMSFORD CENTRE

The Happenings of the Town and Vicinity

Major Boulter is building a dwelling near his residence on the corner of Bartlett and High streets for his son, Percy, who just at present is seriously ill.

Mrs. King Parkhurst of South street is seriously ill at her home.

As pleasant spring weather is seen approaching so are the large electric car loads of hikers from Lowell who seek country air.

Mr. Walter D. Falls of Falls & Buckshaw has been quite ill but is now back at work in his Chelmsford drug store.

Many people from the Centre attended the Boston auto show last week, besides those going with the automobile repairing and electrical departments in the Lowell Industrial school. Messrs. Harold Corson, Adelbert Adams and Mr. Walter Perham who exhibited Cadillac cars, attended.

Mrs. John Marinel, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Hoyle and son, are visiting relatives and friends at Washington, Baltimore, and in the state of Virginia.

Mrs. Clorinda Parkhurst, who had the misfortune to fracture her hip recently, is getting along nicely.

The Daniel Gage Ice Company has completed the erection of a modern ice house at Hart pond.

Up until today the roads in and about town have been in bad condition on account of mud, but they are now dry and in good shape again.

Boy Scouts

The Chelmsford troop of Boy Scouts held a largely attended meeting on Monday evening at headquarters.

Mr. Benjamin Martin, who has been quite helpless lately, being bothered with a painful blood poisoned finger, caused by a little splinter, after having it operated on twice, is improving.

The funeral services of the late Lieutenant Commander Chas. Howe Greenleaf, U. S. N., retired, were held Tuesday at his home on South street at 2 o'clock. Mr. Walter Perham had charge of the funeral services and Rev. Wilson Waters officiated. The body was buried today in the family lot in Greenwood cemetery in Brooklyn, N. Y. The funeral was largely attended by his many friends. Among those attending were representations from the naval department, Kilwinning lodge, A. F. and A. M., Post 155, G. A. R., and Lowell council, No. 8, R. A.

Master Everett Boulter of the corner of High and Bartlett streets was badly bitten by a dog, but is out of danger.

The committee chosen to secure a charter for a fire district is Messrs. Chas. E. Bartlett, Herbert E. Ellis, C. George Armstrong, Harry L. Parkhurst and Edwin R. Clare. They are all very busy securing the charter. At the meeting of the board of registrars 12 names were added to the voters' list. Four in precinct 1, six in precinct 2, one in precinct 3 and one in precinct 4. The total number of registered voters is now 921. Mr. John Harrington is running again for school committee.

The West Chelmsford Debating society held a debate this week in Historical hall before a large audience. The question discussed was "Resolved, That we are influenced more by the company we keep than the literature we read." S. L. Taylor and Alfred Anderson spoke on the affirmative while Frank Ingalls and Matthew McNaughton spoke on the negative.

The regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary to the woman's board of missions of the Central Congregational church met on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

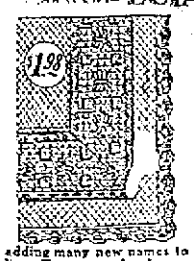

Unclaimed letters at the central post office this week are for the following: Henry E. Bishop, Mrs. C. W. Dana, Mark B. Pave.

At the Lowell Opera House last night it was Chelmsford night and the seats in the centre from C to Q were occupied by a Chelmsford party, who attend each week. Mrs. Leroy Parkhurst was in charge and sold most of the tickets. The Chelmsford High school intend to have a theatre party soon.

Messrs. James Byam and Frank Hodson are about to open a large automobile garage on Westford street. This will be the first garage in the Centre and one has been needed for a long time. Several private parties formerly sold gasoline, but the many autos running between Boston, Lowell and New Hampshire have been always minus a repair shop.

The firm of Bellville and Waite have purchased a two-ton 30-horse power Federal auto truck to haul their tomatoes and cucumbers into market. The truck is expected to arrive any time.

VALUABLE HENS STOLEN

Thieves Are at Work in Dracut

The hen coop of Mr. Ormiston in Hampson street, Dracut, was recently entered during the night by hen thieves who managed to escape with several select birds. The Dracut police are at work on the case, but they have not the slightest clue to work on.

The residents of the town are somewhat alarmed over this recent theft, and fear that their chickens may be purloined, for it is about this time that the hen thieves are most active. Extra vigilance on the part of hen owners may result in the capture of these night marauders and there is not an owner who will spare money or efforts to bring the culprits to justice.

BISHOP SIX YEARS

Rt. Rev. George A. Guertin Has No Celebration at Manchester, N. H., Because of Holy Week

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 20.—Six years ago yesterday Rt. Rev. George Albert Guertin was consecrated third bishop of Manchester at St. Joseph's cathedral by Most Rev. Diomede Falconio, Archbishop of Larisa and apostolic delegate. Bishop Guertin celebrated mass yesterday morning as usual and performed his other duties. He spent the day quietly at his residence because of Holy Week.

The anniversary of Bishop Guertin's consecration will not pass unnoticed, and some time after Easter, possibly April 2, it will be observed with fitting ceremony and a solemn high mass will be celebrated by the bishop.

FAMILY OF FIVE DEAD

Were Victims of Illuminating Gas

CHICAGO, March 20.—A family of five persons was found dead from illuminating gas in a cottage at 2635 North Lawesdale avenue today. Circumstances indicated that an accident caused the tragedy. In the kitchen a rubber hose was detached from a gas plate. The victims were Engbert Carleson, 55 years old, a machinist, his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Hanson's Horse Sale

In spite of the inclemency of the weather today the auction sale of horses at C. H. Hanson's Rock street sale rooms was the scene of much spirited bidding. From 10 o'clock the horses which are for sale were put through their paces before the eyes of the prospective bidders and their points, both good and bad, were carefully noted in preparation for their appearance before the auctioneer's block. The usual coterie of out-of-town buyers were present in larger numbers than generally appear. This probably is due to the fact that a special shipment of horses are being sold today.

From the moment the auctioneer first opened the sale for bids on a big bay there was not a dull moment at the sale and as it progressed the bidding became more brisk. The western horses seemed to attract more attention than the second hand equines on sale. Each man present, with the exception of a few who were looking for cheap truck horses, showed keen interest whenever one of the horses, which have been traveling in a box car for the past few days was shown.

The prices of the various animals on sale held up very well today and there were very few hold-overs. The farmers from the surrounding towns turned out in large numbers, the Dracut and Tewksbury delegations making several purchases.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 20.—Charles Murphy of the Chicago Nationals before leaving here last night declared he had been offered $35,000 and two first class players in exchange for Roger Bresnahan by a National league club, the name of which he refused to make known. Although it was one of the biggest offers ever made for a ball player he refused to part with the great St. Louis player.

THE DEATH OF PRIEST

Explanation Demanded From Montenegro

VIENNA, March 20.—A repetition of the sharp action taken by Austria against Servia in connection with the detention of Consul O. Prochaska at Prizrend last November appears about to be enacted toward Montenegro.

The Austrian minister at Cettinje, the Montenegrin capital, was instructed today to make the following demands from the Montenegrin government:

First, the free exit from the fortress of Scutari of all non-combatants.

Second, explanations of the death of a Catholic priest named Palle, who is said to have been killed because he opposed the violent conversions of prisoners.

Third, violent converstons to cease instantly.

Dr. Friedmann Makes Statement

NEW YORK, March 20.—Dr. Frederick Friedmann, the scientist, issued a statement today to those who have come to this city from different parts of the country for treatment with his serum to wait until the government tests of his remedy have been completed.

"Do not come to New York at the present time," says the statement. "Stay home and keep your patience. It will not be long before you have the opportunity to receive my treatment. A trip to this city would consume your strength and vitality. So do not come because I now can only treat those sufferers selected by the government physicians."

Dr. Friedmann's plans today called for a visit to the Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases, where he will treat thirty-five cases under the supervision of the government physicians.

Postmasters Resign

WASHINGTON, March 20.—As a result of the extension of the classified civil service to include fourth class postmasters and the announcement that postmasters of this class would be asked to qualify in a competitive examination, the postoffice department has been flooded with resignations from the service. At present resignations are reaching the department at the rate of about 20 a day and officials declare that about 2000 fourth class postmasters have resigned since the executive order covering them into the civil service was issued.

Jackson, the "petticoat king," lost more than $1,000,000, the district attorney said today when arrangements were made for Jackson's trial. Jackson, head of the Jackson-Mack Mfg. Co. was making 6000 petticoats and kimonas a day when he disappeared and it was charged that he had been receiving heavy advances on fraudulent invoices. He was captured last week in Mexico.

A BORROWED TRUNK

Clue To the Arrest of the Musicas

NEW YORK, March 20.—A wooden, brassed strapped steamer trunk, which Phillip Musica borrowed from a friend rather than spend $12 for a new one, led to the arrest in New Orleans yesterday of the Musica family in flight for Colon with $97,000 of the $1,000,000, which Phillip and his father Antonio are charged with obtaining from 22 banks through fraudulent invoices. This became known today when detectives told of the pursuit.

It was from a friend named Horst that Phillip Musica borrowed the trunk. Horst decided Friday that he wanted to go out of town on a short trip and called at Musica's hotel to ask him to return the trunk. There he found detectives seeking clues to the whereabouts of his friend, who had already fled. Horst told them of the trunk giving them a good description of it. Within a few hours detectives learned that the trunk had gone south. They followed it to Washington, lost the trail there, picked it up again and followed it Atlanta and Mobile. There the detectives were but a few hours behind but the Musicas shook them off by hiring an automobile, driving to a little railway station not far away and taking a train for New Orleans. The pursuers learned that the trunk had been checked at that station for New Orleans, followed it and had little difficulty in finding their men.

CELEBRATE CENTENARY

Of the Birth of David Livingstone

NEW YORK, March 20.—The centenary of the birth of David Livingstone, born at Blantyre, Scotland, on March 19, 1813, is being observed by missionary societies the country over in response to a resolution passed by the foreign missions conference of North America that such action be taken. The aim of the celebration is to bring before the members of the churches of all denominations and the public at large the missionary appeal of the story of Livingstone's life and work and thereby to instill similar habits of Christian devotion and to deepen the interest in foreign missionary work generally, so as to enable all missionary societies to respond more adequately to the challenge of the present world situation. Livingstone's life work in opening up Africa led directly to the suppression of the slave trade and to the entrance of western civilization and the Christian religion into the remotest recesses of the dark continent.

New Treasurer Failed to Show Up

WASHINGTON, March 20.—John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, the new treasurer of the United States, who was expected in Washington last night to take the oath of office today, failed to appear at the appointed time and Secretary McAdoo had not heard from him.

The department is anxious to receive the new official because his entry into office means the necessity of counting the nation's wealth. To verify the accounts of Carmi Thompson, retiring treasurer, the gold, silver, currency and securities in the treasury vaults actually will be counted by a committee which Secretary McAdoo is prepared to appoint.

He is counted one of the country's foremost authorities on international law. The duty of framing this government's reply to Great Britain on the Panama canal free tolls controversy likely will devolve on Mr. Moore. It is reported that Mr. Bryan will have Mr. Moore acting as secretary when Mr. Bryan is not in Washington.

WANT NINE HOURS IN ELEVEN

BOSTON, March 20.—A number of trolley car platform men were heard at the continued hearing on the bill for nine hours in 11, which was begun last week. William E. Sproul of Lowell said the men do not want a mandatory bill. They still want to work more than nine hours in 11 if they wish, but want a standard schedule of nine hours in 11, which this bill will give them. He said lawyers have told him the bill is a permissive one.

Pres. Fred Crowley of Division 299 of Lowell, said he regarded the bill as permissive, that a man could ask for extra work, but the company cannot compel him to work more than nine hours. Several others produced testimony showing that the men in their divisions favored the nine hours in 11.

Would Label Milk

Representative John F. Meaney of Blackstone appeared at the state house yesterday before the joint committee on agriculture and public health in favor of his own bill, which provides for the labeling of milk sold in the state as to its source and treatment.

The original bill provided for stating on the label the precise town where the milk came from, but he said that he would put in a redraft of that bill making it mandatory to state only the treatment of the milk that is, whether or not it has been pasteurized, and the fact whether or not the milk came from within the boundaries of this state.

With this labeling all milk, he said, the buyer need not buy out-of-state milk unless he wants to, and thus, he argued, there would be created a demand for Massachusetts milk that could not fail to further the industry in the state. Representatives Anderson and Ferguson favored the bill.

Opposed to the Meaney measure were John K. and Charles Whiting, representing large contractors in the city. Their chief argument against the bill was that while no good result could be accomplished under its terms, it would be harder for the contractors to do business because of additional cost of supervision and handling. They said if they could get enough milk in Massachusetts to supply their needs they would confine their buying to the state, but stated that it is almost impossible to get enough.

Judge Corbett and Milk Inspector James O. Jordan of Boston represented Mayor Fitzgerald in favoring his bills which seek to place on the statutes a definition of "milk" and of "pure milk" and to give the local inspector authority to prosecute cases where unclean containers are found used in the sale of milk.

On the first bill, Judge Corbett explained that the city lost a case at law because it was found the legislature had never defined the terms of "milk" and "pure milk" accurately enough. On the second, Inspector Jordan said that, although he has found many instances of the sale of milk in filthy jars, there is at present no law giving him the right to prosecute. He argued that all the milk laws in the world will prove ineffective if dealers are allowed to sell milk in disease-breeding jars. There was no opposition.

Vetoes Minimum Wage

A veto was sent to the senate yesterday by the governor on the bill to establish a minimum wage for laborers employed by the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board.

Before it was sent, however, the senate had voted to ask that the bill be returned to that body by the governor. Gov. Foss therefore withdrew his veto message in order to comply with the wish of the senate. The governor's veto was in part as follows:

"Herewith I return without my approval an act providing for an increase of wages for laborers directly employed by the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board within their several districts, to $2.50 a day.

At this time the public is much concerned with the question of a minimum wage. The legislature of 1912 created a minimum wage commission for the express purpose of providing for the determination of minimum wages for women and minors.

"At my earnest recommendation also, a board of labor and industry was created by the last legislature, having broad powers over the conditions of industry and labor.

Would Advance Orderly

"With these marked advances in the public policy of Massachusetts, we must make further progress in strict accordance with the experience which will accumulate from the operation of these and other new and progressive labor laws.

"The present bill sweeps aside all the just considerations of the industrial

Who Spoke For Lowell Union

held in general and establishes arbitrarily a high standard of pay for laborers without any reference whatever to the workmans individual fitness, character, length of service or other qualifications.

"It also takes the entire matter out of the hands of the Metropolitan Park commission and the Metropolitan water and sewerage board, and leaves them no discretionary power whatever. We maintain these boards at a great expense, to administer the work of their departments; and they should have authority to pay such wages as the conditions call for.

Unjust to Cause of Labor

"Not only is this proposed legislation really injurious to the just cause of labor in itself, but it will prejudice the entire subject of wage legislation in the future. It places an artificial price level on the value of a laborer's time and leaves absolutely out of account the relation between such labor and the labor of other classes of working people who must equally be maintained, directly or indirectly, by the public.

"Legislation such as the present bill does not originate through humanitarian motives, but solely through political considerations, and it can carry no positive justification on moral or humanitarian grounds.

"If the legislature persists in yielding to the sort of pressure represented by this bill, then the public, in self-defense, will be forced to withdraw from the present wide-spread movement toward the establishment of better wages in general wherever such wages can be properly justified and no real progress be made.

"In my judgment, the present bill is hostile not only to the best interests of labor, but to that sound public policy which it is the function of the legislature and the executive to establish and support."

First Recall of the Kind

The reading of the veto had been deferred until after the orders of the day were disposed of. Senator McCarthy was just about to move to recall the Metropolitan water and sewage board laborers' bill when in came the veto.

At 5.15 Executive Secretary Hamlin appeared with a message from the governor, asking for the return of his veto. It was the first time a governor's message had ever been recalled in such fashion. Gov. Foss stated that because of the fact that the recall of the bill had been asked by the senate he desired his veto back. The message and the recall evidently crossed.

The veto message was returned unread, and Senator McCarthy lost no time in skipping after his bill. On his motion, its enactment was reconsidered and the further consideration of the matter put over till today.

Muffling Power Boats

In the house Mr. Hayes of Ipswich opposed the bill providing for further regulation of the muffling of power boats and to require such boats to be licensed, on the ground that it would be a hardship on the owners of such boats and particularly on fishermen using such boats.

Mr. Tufts of Waltham said such legislation has been made necessary by the owners of boats who have made such a noise as to make life hideous for persons living along the seacoast.

Mr. Leslie of Quincy opposed the bill as unnecessary, because there is plenty of law on the statute books now. Mr. Wilson of Lynn replied that the district police have found it impossible to abate the power boat nuisance under the present law. He read a letter from the managers of the Boston Floating hospital, urging that something be done to prevent disturbance of patients by these boats.

Mr. Priest of Haverhill offered an amendment providing that the law shall not apply to boats engaged in races sanctioned by the district police. The bill was favored by Representatives Kinney of Boston and Cassasso of Revere and opposed by Representatives Doyle of New Bedford and Conway of Boston. The Priest amendment was adopted, after which the bill was refused a third reading, 25 to 72.

Teachers' Retirement Bill

Mr. Teague of Boston presented his own petition for legislation to provide that "The school committee of the city of Boston shall grant to any teacher in the public schools of that city, who is retired, having attained the age of 70 years and who has served as such teacher for not less than 15 years, the same pension to which he or she would be entitled under the provisions of chapter 559 of the acts of the year 1908 if he or she had so served for a period of 30 years." It was referred to the rules committee.

Objects to Langtry

Mayor Fitzgerald called at the state house yesterday and left with Lieut. Gov. Walsh to be presented to the governor when he returns a protest against the rumored appointment of ex-Secretary of State Alfred P. Langtry as chairman of the state efficiency board.

"The governor," the mayor said, "seems to be determined to resuscitate the remains of the republican party, that was buried so deeply last November. The appointment of a man like Langtry would be a step backward—reactionary.

"It is rather strange that the governor cannot find a man of progressive tendencies in the democratic party without seeking out some one from the Old Guard."

DENY CHARITY SUPPORT

Use of Names is Called Unwarranted

BOSTON, March 20.—That the Faith and Hope association which is soliciting money for vacations for poor working girls of Greater Boston, used the names of the state board of charity, the Boston chamber of commerce and the associated charities of this city, virtually as references, without warrant or justification, is charged by Robert W. Kelso, secretary of the state board; Lloyd B. Hayes, head of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of the investigation of charity solicitors, and Miss J. E. Chadwick, secretary of the committee on information of the associated charities.

Mr. Hayes last evening showed newspaper representatives two letters sent out recently on behalf of the Faith and Hope association to persons of charitable inclination, in one of which was a paragraph reading: "We believe that the chamber of commerce, the associated charities and the state board of charities approve the work of our organization."

That is the statement which led to the disclaimer from each of the organizations that they have in any way indorsed the association or its plans. The letters purported to be signed by Rev. Frank M. White, treasurer of the association, a Baptist minister who was prominent two or three years ago in stopping Sunday baseball at Fort Banks, Winthrop, in which town he was then pastor. He is now pastor of a church in Providence.

Textile Notes

All the classes of the Textile school are busy making preparations for the annual show to be held on Friday evening, March 28 in Colonial hall. Three short sketches will be given and the event is looked forward to by all friends of the school.

The students at the school will have no Easter vacation this year, but a few days will be given them previous to April 13.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION.

BETTER THAN CASTOR OIL, CALOMEL OR CATHARTICS TO CLEANSE YOUR STOMACH, LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS. HARMLESS LAXATIVE FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Primitive folks did not need laxatives. They lived outdoors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse. We modern people are different. We exercise too little, eat little fruit, and our food is too fine—too rich.

We simply can't have our ten yards of bowels clogged up, liver choked with sour bile and stomach full of foul effete matter and feel well. It means that the food and waste retained in the stomach and thirty feet of bowels ferments—decays. The decay creates poisons, gases and acids, and those poisons are sucked into the blood through the very ducts intended to suck in the nutriment. Then we have sick headache, become dull, bilious, tongue coated, nervous, meals don't digest, and we feel miserable all over. So we must make our choice. We must live like primitive folks, else we must take artificial means to move the excess bile and waste matter on and out of the system.

The safest, most harmless and effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator for men, women and children—is delicious Syrup of Figs, which doesn't irritate, gripe or weaken. Its effect is the effect of fruits. It is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics. Don't think you are dragging yourself. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without harm.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and see on the label that it is prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. This is the only genuine—the old reliable. Refuse, with contempt, the so-called Fig Syrup imitations sometimes offered to deceive you.

Live Bits of Sport

Abe Attell, the former featherweight champion, showed a flash of his old time form last night when he met and stopped Ollie Kirk in three rounds. This is the boxer who recently forced Abe to announce his retirement from the ring. Although the second round was an even one the result was not unlooked for as the blows that Attell landed in the opening round were vicious and carried the steam. The fight was stopped in the third by the referee to save Kirk from further punishment.

Manager Piquet has secured another youngster for his Lawrence team. Albert Tesch, the Andover academy shortstop, has agreed to the terms proposed by the Lawrence baseball pilot and will not return to school after the Easter vacation. Tesch comes from Jersey City and played the regular infield for Andover last year. Perhaps he is another Barney Riley!

Jimmy Callahan, the White Sox playing manager, is not any youngster at the game. He was given a little party last Tuesday by his friends who are with the team on its training trip and although not much was said about it the day was Jimmy's 39th birthday. There are very few players who are even playing minor league ball today at Callahan's age. His team, however, is always more efficient with its manager in a player's capacity.

Byrne's injury, if it proves a permanent one, will put the Pittsburgh club in a bad hole this year. This is their third infielder injured this year. "Honus" Wagner contends that the jinx has again started after the team from the city of smoke and gives it as his opinion that the Pirates will have no luck this season. Byrne was hit on the head by a fast in-curve of Joe Wood's and knocked unconscious. His condition is reported as serious.

"Kelley" Wells, captain of last year's Dartmouth hockey team is in town and expects to stay here for a few months. Wells is living at the new Y. M. C. A. rooms and learning the fine points of the wood turning business. Here is one real hockey player who could play on any team in the country if he so desired.

The battens for the new baseball stands have already been set in their concrete foundations by the contractors. It will be some time before a large gang can be set to work on the bleacher constructions, but the preliminary work is being pushed along rapidly. The sandy soil at the park has greatly aided in the quick elimination of moisture from the grounds which otherwise would have proved a big expense to the club owners. Contractor Creamer entertains hopes of having the structure completed by the first week in April, although the contract does not call for it until the 15th.

Portland, Lawrence, Worcester and Lowell are all considered as possibilities for the New England league pennant this year. Lowell is the only city which has got her team practically decided on before the opening of the season. Worcester, Portland and Lawrence all have a galaxy of ball players ready to report when the call comes. Burkett, in particular, has a squad of youngsters which will be weeded out in the pre-season contests. On paper the plan of the Lowell manager looks to be the best of them all.

Battling Nelson has smoothed over his domestic difficulties and now is reunited with his youthful bride. After a short period of two days spent in the fighter's company, his wife sued him for divorce on the grounds that she was practically kidnapped. After "Bat" concludes his theatrical engagements they will start on a 30 days' honeymoon.

Whether Charley Carr's baseball school will prove a success or not is a hard question to argue on before it is given a trial. It is proposed to give a man a chance to learn the finer points of the game from men who are universally acknowledged to be the best in their particular positions. Owen Bush, the Detroit shortstop, is the last man that has been chosen as an instructor in the new institution. San Antonio, Tex., is the spot picked out as the most suitable for the school.

Leo McCarthy, the premier dash man of the Boston college high track team, has been elected captain of the Hub organization for next year. McCarthy deserved the honor inasmuch as he has proved the mainstay of the team during the season just brought to a close. The Lowell boy should make a good leader for his school team. He possesses a cool head and uses it to good advantage on any question that arises on the track. Barring accidents, Leo should prove a sensation next winter in the dash events.

Larry Gardner received a fast one from Pitcher Robinson on his throwing arm yesterday and cannot bend his arm as a result. The doctors say that it is nothing more than a muscle bruise, but even at that the Red Sox third sacker may be bothered for some time with it.

Arthur Lavigne, the catcher of the local club last year, evidently was not adversely affected by the sendoff which the sporting fraternity in Worcester, his home city, gave him on the eve of his departure for the city where hops are at a premium. Lavigne writes his brother that he has arrived O. K. and feels like a fighting cock. This player should make them all do some fast ground covering if they ever expect to make the second station.

The South Ends should put a fast team into the field this year. Their last year's club was a clever aggregation of ball players, but this year's representatives of the club on the diamond should prove even better. The club has grown larger and their rooms and accommodations are much more spacious for a team's maintenance. The South Ends and the Manhattans furnished the city with several mighty good games last season and we look for more this year.

Matchmaker Mitchel Gardner announces that he has completed negotiations for a bout between Johnny Dohan of New York and Gilbert Gallant, the Chelsea lightweight. These two boys were scheduled to box here on Feb. 22, but the club did not see its way clear to put on a card that night. The many fans who were disappointed on that date will have an opportunity of seeing this bout staged here in the near future.

BASEBALL NOTES

Catcher Ira Thomas of the Athletics says George Moriarty is a trickier base runner than Cobb and the hardest base runner in the game to catch on a steal of second.

Heinie Zimmerman had to refrain from practice for a day following the drinking of three glasses of milk on top of some lobster salad that he ate when Johnny Evers was not lurking near.

Baldemero Acosta, the young Cuban with the Senators, is being rated as a mixture of Willie Keeler and Jesse Burkett when it comes to bunting. Griffith is practically certain to retain him for outfield emergency use.

Nick Cullop, the expensive pitching recruit of the Naps, is said to be showing Manager Joe Birmingham a fine line of wares.

When Eddie Mensor, the young Pirate, met Monte Attell at Hot Springs the other day it became known that Mensor once attempted to shine as a boxer. Attell said Mensor gave him a good fight. "It was three years ago," said Monte.

Hans Lobert, whose knee, fractured last summer, is sound again, is one of the busiest men in the Phillies' camp. When he is not working under Dooin's eye he passes the time batting long flies to a big and enthusiastic negro he has hired at a dollar a day.

The Phillies are said to be angling for Catcher Owens of the Minneapolis team. Rumor has it that he is the man that will be exchanged for Mike Donlin.

BASKETBALL NOTES

The Lowell Y. M. C. A. Employed Boys' basketball team will play the St. John's church boys' basketball team tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. A fast and interesting game is expected. The following players of the Employed boys report at 7.30: Doole, Mitchell, Greenwood, Moehrle, Angus, McElroy.

JOE THOMAS TRAINING

For Bout With Grupp Next Week

In recognition of Good Friday, there will be no meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club tomorrow evening, but the officers of the club, have arranged an excellent program for the meeting to be held next week. In the main bout Joe Thomas of Lowell, will meet Billy Grupp of St. Louis. These are two of the most prominent middleweights in the game at the present time and the result is being closely followed by the sports throughout the country. Both have met all the good men in their class, and with the incentive of a match with Eddie McGoorty for the winner, both will try hard to land the award. Joe is putting in considerable work in preparation for the bout, and he expects to be in the best of shape when the gong rings for the first round. In the semi final, Sailor Fiske and Jimmy Reardon will be the principals, and this bout promises to be a hummer. Reardon and Fiske have met on two previous occasions, and their numbers are well remembered by all members of the local club.

IN SACO-LOWELL LEAGUE

Interesting Games Rolled Last Night

The alleys still continue to be the scene of many matched games although the weather is getting a bit too warm for the strenuous winter sport. With the nearing close of the bowling leagues throughout the city, however, there seems to be renewed interest in the game and the finish promises to be even more stirring than the start of the season.

The closest match of the evening was that between the Draftsmen and the Office teams of the Saco-Lowell league. The latter quintet pulled out a winner by a two pin margin after a game that was replete with close rolling. Baker, who rolled for the victors, proved too much for his opponent in the pinch. The other game in the Saco-Lowell league also was a very evenly bowled match the Shippers defeating the Foundry by four pins.

The scores and summaries of the various games rolled last night on the local alleys follow:

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

Admirers of Marie Corelli's writings are enjoying the Lonergan Players' production of "Thelma," the current week's bill at the Opera House. The play as presented by this excellent organization is acted with intelligence and staged with elaborate scenic and electrical effects. Performances of this play will be given today and Saturday, afternoon and evening. The theatre will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday.

Next week commencing Monday evening and with daily matinees commencing Tuesday, the company will be seen in an elaborate production of "Zaza," the play in which Mrs. Leslie Carter made her first great success and of which she is now making a revival in Chicago. "Zaza" is a play of great dramatic worth, pulsating with human passion and with a love story of rising interest. Miss Timmons is temperamentally fitted for the characterization of the name part which will afford her the widest scope for the expression of her dramatic genius and her associate players will be called upon for the full measure of their ability in interpreting the parts assigned them. "Zaza" will be presented with the full strength of the present excellent company which will be augmented by a number of other capable actors. There is already a lively interest in this forthcoming production and a number of theatre parties are being made up for the several nights of the engagement. Seats for all performances are now on sale at the box office.

Keith's Theatre

Formal announcement is made today that the latest marvel of the scientific world, the Thomas A. Edison talking pictures will be shown for the first time locally at the B. F. Keith theatre, beginning Monday of next week. For two weeks Christian Cloer, direct from the Orange, N. J., factory, has been supervising the installation of the synchronizing apparatus. He now has it perfected and the big show of next week will hold this as the extraordinary feature. "The Purple Lady," heading the list of acts of the present week, is all that is claimed for it, and Bedford & Winchester, the comic jugglers, are among the funniest men before the American public, and Hunting & Francis in "The Love Lozenge" have a pert offering. Other acts on the bill are: Ethel McDonough, singing comedienne; LeVier, aerialist; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morris, in a sketch, and Victor Miller. Good seats may be secured in advance. Phone 28.

Merrimack Square Theatre

Today there will be an entire change of pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre, also a continuation of the vaudeville attractions on tap this week. And tomorrow the theatre will be closed all day (Good Friday.) For the feature attraction to be given at the Sunday concerts this coming Sunday, Easter, matinee and night, Manager Carroll has booked the $10,000 historic production, "The Life of St. Patrick." This is only the second time this attraction has been presented. The other occasion being at Symphony hall, Boston, on last Monday, March 17. There will be no advance in prices despite the fact that on its other presentation it was given at 50 cent prices. It is to be given on this date only. Seats are now on sale.

The Playhouse

Members of the local divisions of Hibernians and ladies auxiliary, as well as the other societies of the city interested in the St. Patrick's day parade, should note that the management of The Playhouse has come forward with the generous offer to give a portion of the receipts of next Monday night, Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, to the St. Patrick's day parade fund. The offering for next week will be Chauncey Olcott's interesting Irish drama "The Minstrel of Clare," in which Mr. J. Anthony Smythe will be heard in some of Olcott's songs, including "Day Dreams," "My Wild Irish Rose," and the "Home Song." The play tells a pretty Irish story, has a most pleasing Irish atmosphere and should appeal strongly to all sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle. First performance Monday night.

BOYS CAUGHT IN ELEVATOR

Lynn Children Narrowly Escaped Being Badly Crushed in Factory Building

LYNN, March 20.—While playing about an elevator in the factory of John D. Mullin & Sons at 747 Washington street yesterday, Robert Miles of 53 Tudor street and Fred Liberl of 7 Sagamore street, each 10 years old, had their legs caught between the car and the floor and narrowly escaped being badly crushed.

The boys said they pulled the rope by which the elevator is operated and that when it stopped at the second floor, their legs were firmly caught. Employes in the factory summoned firemen from the Broad street station, but before the arrival of the firemen the boys had been released. They were taken to the Lynn hospital where the doctors found many bad contusions on their legs.

Addressed to Women

Question—

Nervous? Excitable? Irritable? Exhausted? Backache? Pain?
Has living become a burden?
Do you know what is wrong?
If not, do you want to know what is wrong?

Answer—

Such symptoms, as well as many others equally distressing, are commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of a distinctly feminine character.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

is recommended as a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked housewives and business women it is a blessing. It induces calm, refreshing sleep, and banishes mental worry and despondency.

This tonic, in liquid form, was devised over 40 years ago for the womanly system, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., and has benefited many thousand women. Now it can also be obtained in tablet form from dealers in medicine, or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box.

Every woman ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves. It is the best doctor to have in the house in case of emergency. Over half a million copies were sold at $1.50 each, but one free copy in cloth covers will be sent on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of wrapping and mailing only.

NO RAISE FOR JUDGE

Maine Senate Upheld Governor's Veto

AUGUSTA, Me., March 20.—By a vote of 13 to 11 the Maine senate yesterday refused to pass a bill over the governor's veto increasing the salary of the judge of the Kennebec superior court from $2500 to $4000. This is the second veto of a measure by the governor.

In explaining his veto, Gov. Haines said that if such action as is proposed by the bill was carried out all along the line it would mean an increase of $250,000 to the state salary roll.

The message outlines the present status of 52 measures of like intent now pending before the legislature and continues:

"Such a situation at this time is unusual, and I do not believe it is possible within the time that the legislature is likely to be in session, unless the session is to be prolonged to an unusual length, that these matters can receive proper consideration. It amounts to a very extensive revision of the salary list of public officers.

"I am willing to admit, as is claimed by many of these officers, that the salary list has not been revised for a number of years and that such a revision is necessary."

The governor feels that a much better method, however, would be to pass an order appointing a committee, three from the senate and four from the house, with authority, between now and the next session of the legislature, to examine into the question.

1000 Went on Strike

AUBURN, N. Y., March 20.—One thousand employes of the Columbia Rope Co. after making demands for increased pay and reinstatement of two discharged employes, which are to be answered on Monday, went on strike today. The strikers are Italians and Poles.

WILL SHIELD WOMAN

Le Moyne Promises to Return Money

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 20.—Requisition papers for Francis Le Moyne, who was arrested late Wednesday morning, charged with thefts of funds valued at $15,000 from a Boston brokerage concern, were honored by Gov. Tramwell and the prisoner was turned over to the Massachusetts detectives and left for Boston yesterday afternoon.

Boston detectives here say it has been ascertained that a woman is also mixed up in the affair. When confronted with this information, it is alleged Le Moyne promised, if Massachusetts authorities drop the case, he would recover the money and turn it over to the police; but if any attempt was made to implicate the woman whose name he would not divulge he would seal his lips forever.

On the eve of departure Le Moyne, in reply to an interrogation, replied, "There is one thing I will not do. I will not mention the name of the young woman that the press and police have connected with this little inconvenience.

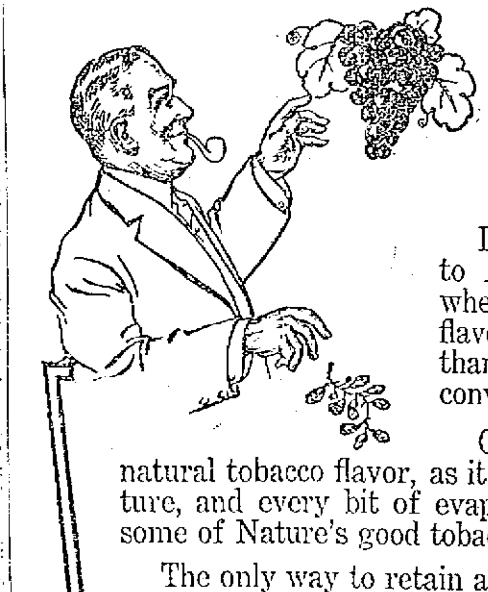

"It will not be any trouble for me to straighten out things with the bank in Boston, but I won't do anything if this young woman whom I respect is brought into the matter."

Although Le Moyne was closely guarded while incarcerated here he has been permitted to take frequent meals at various fashionable restaurants, accompanied by members of the force, and has been shown every kindness owing to his lavish expenditures and convivial nature.

In Love With Feet

BOSTON, Mar. 20.—"Carl fell in love with the back of my neck and with my feet when they were in velvet slippers," said Miss Gertrude W. Hassler of Carl Fisher, of Indianapolis, from whom she is to receive $50,000 heart balm. "He said no one would be likely to fall in love with my face, but that the back of my neck was beautiful. He used to gaze at my neck as some lovers gaze into the faces of their sweethearts. The night we met I wore velvet slippers. I have worn them ever since at the appropriate time.

Luscious Grapes are more Tasty than Dry Raisins

Dried-out raisins cannot be compared to Nature's luscious Grapes. Tobacco when pressed in Plug form has more flavor, fragrance and smoking quality than when sliced or granulated for convenience sake.

Chopping or granulating ruins the natural tobacco flavor, as it cannot retain its natural moisture, and every bit of evaporated moisture takes with it some of Nature's good tobacco flavor.

The only way to retain all the flavor is to put the whole leaves under pressure, into Plug form, covering it with a natural leaf wrapper: thereby retaining all of its natural flavor and moisture.

Prove this today by buying a plug of Master Workman tobacco. Whittle off a fresh pipe load, and enjoy a slow burning cool smoke of delicious flavor.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH

Murdered While Talking With Friend

WORCESTER, March 20.—Shot down as he stood talking with a friend, Pasquale Troiano, 30 years old, of 26 Lyon street, died before he could be removed from the police ambulance at the city hospital last night.

The police are seeking Leonardo Renardo, 32 years old, who is charged with cold blooded murder by an eyewitness of the shooting.

Matti Larolia, an employe of the city sewer department, and Troiano were standing talking together at the corner of Plum and East Worcester streets at 9.15 when, according to Larolia's story, Renardo, who has been a friend of both men, approached and without a word fired two shots at close range. Following the shooting the assassin ran to the railroad tracks and disappeared.

Both bullets fired took effect and Troiano dropped to the ground. He retained consciousness long enough, after the arrival of the police and the ambulance to give his name, and he had some conversation in Italian with friends, but he grew too weak to talk on the way to the hospital and gave no further information to the police. At the hospital Troiano was kept alive in the ambulance a few minutes by the use of Oxygen, but died before he could be moved. One bullet entered the right side of Troiano's chest between the fourth and fifth ribs, piercing four $10 bills and six $5 bills that were folded in a concealed shirt pocket, and penetrating both lungs. The other bullet entered the right arm just below the shoulder. Death was caused by an internal hemorrhage from the punctured lungs, according to Medical Examiner Frederick H. Baker, who made superficial examination of the wound and permitted the removal of the body to the morgue. An autopsy will be performed today.

A description of Renardo was sent to the Framingham and the Boston police and those of towns surrounding Worcester were notified. Renardo is described as follows: About 5 feet 5in., 130 pounds, medium dark complexion, slight black mustache, dressed in dark clothing and a long gray overcoat and gray cap.

Troiano was employed by the J. W. Bishop company, contractors.

A general alarm to the police throughout the city was given and a large detail of officers was assigned to the case, but up to a late hour they had been unable to learn much about Renardo except that it is said he had a brother here who recently went back to Italy. No motive for the crime could be learned, as neither Larolia nor any other friends of the two men admit that there was any bad blood between them.

AUTOS CRASH AT NAHANT

Charlestown Woman is Badly Injured

BOSTON, Mar. 20.—Mrs. W. J. Cummings of 49 High street, Charlestown, is in a critical condition at the Lynn hospital as a result of a crash between two automobiles on the State boulevard between Nahant and Lynn last night, in which five persons narrowly escaped death.

The other occupants of the cars were Mr. Cummings, proprietor of a Charlestown garage, H. Nelson Slater, 6 Claverhall Hall, Richard S. Emmett, 31 for a few days Randolph Hall, both of Harvard, and Mrs. Paul Whiting, their companion. With the exception of Mrs. Cummings, all escaped injury, though both cars were wrecked, and one of the machines in running wild splintered a wooden fence for more than 100 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings in a five-seated touring car were returning from Nahant when a front tire blew out, causing the machine to run wild. Going toward Nahant from Lynn was the Slater car, an imported racer of high power.

The Cummings machine crashed into the oncoming racer, head on. Rebounding, it shot across the road and struck the fence, throwing Mrs. Cummings from the seat to the road. Tearing off a great strip of fence, the machine cleared itself for an instance, only to drive into the fence again 50 yards further along. This time Mr. Cummings was thrown from the car which drove part way down a steep banking.

The other car, containing the two young men and Mrs. Whiting, in the meantime had left the road on the other side and crashed into the fence there, coming to a stop. This machine was not going at high speed, which probably saved its passenger's lives, as none of them was thrown out, though one wheel was torn off and the body of the car badly damaged.

Dr. Lawrence Curtis of Nahant, in a third car had just passed the Slater machine, he when heard the crash. He returned at the sound, and as he did so, a tire on his machine blew out, ditching his car.

Mrs. Cummings was taken to the hospital, where she was found to have a broken arm, possible fractures to the ribs and internal injuries. She was unconscious at an early hour this morning.

ON THE INSIDE

We were somewhat startled when, for the first time, we bought razor strops from the actual manufacturers. For instance, we can now sell a genuine shell strop for 75c, that is superior to what we formerly sold for $1.00. Our line of strops is varied and complete, ranging in prices from 25c to $2.50. Everything for the shaver at "The Safety Razor Shop." Howard, the druggist, 197 Central street.

THE BILLERICA MEETING

Political Axes Are Being Whetted for Saturday

The Billerica town meeting will be held on Saturday with precincts open at both the North village and the Centre during the day and the articles of the warrant will be discussed at 7.30 in the evening. The polls will be open at 6.30 and will close at 4 p. m.

Owing to several movements that have been made during the past week it is expected that some lively discussions will take place, both at the polls and at the meeting in the evening. The fight for selectmen seems to grow more interesting as the time comes near, while the contest for road surveyor will probably be the most interesting one this year. There will also be several contests for the minor offices as there are four candidates for overseers of the poor, four for town auditors and only three can be elected to each board. Two candidates are in the field for a position on the water board while the position of tree warden is sought for by three townsmen. This last office is considered one of the best in the town, as the state usually appoints the holder of this office moth inspector.

Among the articles to come before the voters is one asking for better street lighting. At present the town is on what is known as a "moonlight schedule" and it has proved very unsatisfactory to the voters, as on a stormy evening there is no street light in the town. Another interesting article is, to see if the town will appoint a committee to meet the officials of the Lowell Gas Light company and see if their pipes cannot be extended to Billerica. The offer of Mrs. Lillian V. Kohlrausch of a six acre lot to be known as "The Charles Kohlrausch Jr. Playground" is one that will make a great improvement to the town as there is no public place for the children to play in this part of the town. There will be many other articles to come before the meeting.

Lecture on Hunting

A highly enjoyable stereopticon-illustrated lecture on fishing and hunting in Newfoundland was given last night before the members of the Highland club in their club house by Chas. Everett Beane, the well known lecturer and huntsman.

There were present a large gathering of the members of the club and their friends and all were high in their praise of the talk of Mr. Beane, who surely made their evening the most delightful they have experienced in some time. The lecturer spent considerable time in the country with which his stories deal and is very well prepared to give authentic tales of the land and of its resources.

Mr. Beane is a true exponent of life in the open and his adventure and discoveries in Newfoundland as listened to by the audience were very vivid. The evening was a most enjoyable one for all.

LOCAL ARMENIANS

May Build a New Church For Their Own Use—Meeting to Consider Matter

It is possible that the Armenian people of this city may decide to build a church, for on next Sunday evening in Odd Fellows hall, they will hold a mass meeting to discuss the project and learn the attitude of all concerning it. An attempt will be made to form a permanent society here of the Armenian National church. Among the speakers will be Rev. Arsen Vehouny of Worcester and G. H. Caragulian of Boston. Lowell has at present about 300 Armenians comprising more than fifty families. The project of building a house of worship has been the topic of much discussion among these people.

COMMISSIONERS RESIGN

well adapted to the needs of the city as the original site. And, when, to this conviction is added the knowledge that the city already owns this land, whereas a number of thousands of dollars must be spent to secure any of the others; that it is closely adjacent to a large trunk sewer, (a very important consideration in locating a detention hospital, and an item which would cost thousands of dollars more if some of the sites under consideration were selected); and then the convenience of access to the board of health employees, who must control the institution when completed, there is all the more reason for abiding by this decision.

Against the location no valid reason has been offered which does not apply, with equal force, to any other site that has been seriously considered.

Sentimental objections should not be allowed to block this much needed work any longer, and we can see no reason to believe that we can hasten the completion of the project by continuing to look over further sites that may be offered.

The mere purchase of a piece of land for the purpose is but a very small part of the necessary work of placing the city of Lowell in a position where it can meet its legal and moral obligations in this matter.

We have tried, faithfully, to study this matter in its broader aspects—the need of the kind of a population which Lowell contains, the character of buildings needed to answer the needs of our own health department and to meet the requirements of the state authorities, the financial conditions, etc., and we firmly believe that if this commission had been allowed to proceed along the lines of their original instructions the city would now be occupying a proper hospital giving adequate care to her contagious sick ones, and complying with the state laws.

We were created a commission in December, 1910, and instructed to prepare plans for the erection of an hospital on land of the Chelmsford street hospital, etc. The site was visited and selected the very next day after our appointment; it was approved by both branches of the city council, unanimously, within a few days.

We then visited other cities, learned their methods, modified them to our needs, prepared plans as we were instructed, and were ready for the completion of the project, when the objections of a few people of the neighborhood were allowed by the city council to block all that had been done.

We were delayed for a year or more in this way and were then requested to consider other sites.

After the most careful consideration of these, and the whole question involved, we cannot, as conscientious men and as taxpayers ourselves, recommend that the city of Lowell, already burdened with debt, shall resort to further needless expenditure for land and sewers, when there is no call for the same.

The commission has been the subject of more or less unjust and unmerited criticisms, because of difference of opinions among its members.

We have not taken the pains to answer all of these criticisms because we have had our own duties to attend to. We would summarize our answers to them all by respectfully calling the attention of your board, if you are interested, to our records which will show plainly to you, and to the people of Lowell, that no stand has been taken, or move made, without a vote of at least four of the five members of the commission in its favor.

So we repeat once more, that the only reason we can find for any change in our recommendations would be for the purpose of entering a useless purchase of land and while this seems to be the determination of your body, we do not care to be parties to such a move.

We, therefore, respectfully tender to you our resignations in the hope that you will be thus enabled to hasten the completion of the hospital.

We would like to call your attention to the further facts that while we were voted $1000 by the city council to do the work of preparation we have spent just $15 of this sum.

It would have been a pleasure to have given to the city of Lowell the valuable time we have taken from our own business, could we have been allowed to show adequate work accomplished in return.

The task of settling the numerous scientific questions involved,—which we were supposed by the body which created our commission to be able to meet, ceases to be a pleasant one when each succeeding city council has seen fit to reverse our findings without giving the slightest consideration to our opinions in the matter.

We would gladly give our time further to the city could we be allowed the needed authority to accomplish something.

But to be held responsible for results which we are to be allowed no voice in shaping is an anomalous position we do not care to occupy.

Respectfully submitted,
G. Forrest Martin,
John W. Robinson,
Joseph E. Lamoureux.

The fourth member of the commission is Dr. James J. McCarty, and he has not as yet tendered his resignation.

Easter is the one day in the year when every member of the family approaches the table intent on enjoying each and every morsel of the good things that the table affords. Few indeed are the mothers who can give these good things the little ones as well as the grown ups want on account of the high cost. They are just the purchasers of the table necessities that we want to make our customers, convinced that when they do become one of our patrons they will begin to save money on all purchases.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF EXTRAORDINARY IMPORTANCE IN THE MANUFACTURING REALM

The plant of the Atlantic Cotton Mills pledged to the highest bona fide bidder at absolute auction sale. One of the best located permanent water powers (1500-2750 horse-power—16 hours daily at insignificant cost forever) under absolute control in the world. The real estate and water power combined is not only a rare but a most exceptional manufacturing opportunity. This is particularly true where unlimited water and much water power are required twenty-four hours in the day. Located about midway in the widely famous Merrimack Valley, on one of the best developed streams, in one of the fastest growing cities, in one of the greatest manufacturing centers of the world. It is a question if within the limits of any equal area on earth there is a greater diversity of manufactures or skilled labor, or a more permanent water power. Should the purchaser care only for the real estate and water power, the machinery and mechanical equipment, we are advised, could undoubtedly be very successfully sold in lots at public sale within sixty days for a sum at least approaching $200,000. An illustrated and descriptive catalogue in detail upon application at the office of the auctioneers where all inquiries must be made. The sale will take place upon the premises, Canal Street (North Canal), Lawrence, Massachusetts, on Monday, the 31st day of March, 1913, commencing promptly at two o'clock in the afternoon regardless of any condition of the weather.

ELECTION OF FIRE CHIEF

Candidates, However, Are Very Busy—Mayor O'Donnell Only One to Name His Man

Mayor O'Donnell went on record yesterday as saying that he would vote for District Chief Saunders for chief engineer of the fire department to succeed the present chief, Edward S. Hosmer, who will be placed, by his own request, on the retired pension list, May 1. Other members of the council were inclined to "cover up" and side stepped with the statement that there is no vacancy as yet. Mr. Brown said that the election of a fire chief was but of little concern to him inasmuch as it did not affect his department and he allowed it was immaterial whom he would vote for. He said that the friend of one candidate had been to see him but he couldn't quite recall the name of the candidate. He was sure, however, that it was neither of the two present district chiefs, Messrs. Saunders nor Sullivan.

Commissioner Barrett's Reply

Commissioner Barrett, when asked who he would vote for, said:

"As commissioner in charge of the fire department, of course, I am directly concerned in the contemplated change in the office of chief engineer and because I realize the great importance of the place and the relation it bears to the public safety of our city I am extremely anxious when the change occurs it shall be of such a character as will merit the approval of all our citizens.

"The office of chief engineer is in my judgment one of the most important which the city council is called upon to elect. If an accident occurs in the water department, for instance, it is generally possible to shut off gates here and there and confine the trouble to the particular location in which it happens, and then take whatever measures may be necessary to remedy the trouble.

"The same conditions may be said to apply to almost every other head of department with the single exception of the fire chief. When the bell rings and the department is summoned immediate action is necessary and on the good judgment, capacity and executive ability depends in large measure the safety of the property and the lives of our citizens.

"More than $60,000,000 of property comes under the protection of the fire department and that alone indicates the responsibility of the chief engineer and warrants the greatest care and good judgment on the part of the council in selecting a chief when the proper time arrives.

"As yet all talk of selecting a successor to Chief Hosmer is somewhat premature, because at the present time no vacancy exists. Chief Hosmer has written a letter to me asking for retirement with pension to take effect May the 1st. And, in view of his efficient and life-long service to the citizens of Lowell, any such request ought and will receive the most careful consideration. Whatever decision is arrived at as regards Mr. Hosmer's request the city of Lowell, at least, will have him in control of affairs until May 1st, and in view of his unselfish and willing service in the past I am justified in believing that the city could have the benefit of his services until such time as his successor should be chosen."

STRIKE IN FALL RIVER

Police Were on Duty at Mills Today

FALL RIVER, March 20.—The officials of the American Print Works fearing that some of the help on strike might try to intimidate employes on their way to work this morning, sought assistance from the police and a squad of patrolmen were sent to the scene from the central district. There was no violence of any kind, however, and the strikers, about 300 of them, dispersed when the police arrived. The back tenders and spare hands are out on strike, seeking an increase of $1 a week. They have been out since Monday and the plant is badly crippled. The police or mill officials do not anticipate any trouble, at least at present.
